No. 618. MARGIN REQUIREMENTS ON SECURITIES CREDIT: 1945 TO 1962

[Prescribed in accordance with Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Regulations limit the amount of credit that may be extended on a security by prescribing a maximum loan value, which is a specified percentage of its market value at the time of the extension; the margin requirement is the difference between the market value (100 percent) and the maximum loan value. Data shown here are for regular accounts. For rates for 1934 to 1945, see Statistical Abstract, 1957, table 554. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series X 378-380]

<sup>1</sup> Through 1950, straight average of market prices of all taxable marketable bonds due or callable in 15 years and over; thereafter, on the basis of an assumed 3 percent 20-year bond.

<sup>2</sup> Prices derived from average yields on basis of an assumed 4 percent 20-year bond based on Wednesday closing prices.

<sup>3</sup> Based on composite of data (including industrial, utility, and railroad) and are a conversion of yield indexes, based on yield to maturity of each bond and assuming a 4-percent coupon with 20 years to maturity. Prices are averages of weekly data for A1+ bonds (17 to 21 bonds represented).

<sup>4</sup> Prices derived from averages of median yields on noncallable high-grade stocks on basis of a $7 annual dividend. Data from Board of Governors, Federal Reserve System.

<sup>6</sup> Averages of daily closing figures. Changes have been made in stocks used at various times. However, the number of stocks has remained constant over the period shown here.

<sup>7</sup> Based on prices end of month. 200 stocks used represent for the most part an identical list, except in public utility group, which is a continuous series composed of 24 electric utilities (representing combined holding and operating electric companies for 1940 and operating electric companies thereafter). Data for A. T. & T. Co. included in figures for 200 stocks; excluded from utilities in order to show more clearly the trend for electric companies.

<sup>8</sup> Includes also 15 banks and 10 insurance stocks and 1 additional public utility stock (see footnote 7).

<sup>1</sup> Through 1950, average yields on taxable bonds due or callable after 15 years; beginning 1955, on those due or callable in 10 years or more.

<sup>3</sup> Estimated yields prevailing on highest grade issues in first quarter of each year prior to 1951 and in February only beginning 1951. Data from National Bureau of Economic Research through 1950; thereafter, Scudder, Stevens and Clark.

<sup>8</sup> Includes also 15 banks and 10 insurance stocks, and 1 additional public utility (see footnote 7, table 620).

<sup>4</sup> Medical insurance includes insurance against costs of (a) in-hospital, medical (nonsurgical), physicians' visits, (b) visits to doctor's office, and (c) visits to patient's home. Since about 1950 most of the increase shown has been for insurance limited to in-hospital medical care.

<sup>5</sup> Beginning 1950, includes members of Blue Shield plans, Blue Cross plans that provide in-hospital medical benefits, and medical-society sponsored and all other independent plans.

<sup>6</sup> For 1940-1957, based on civilian population, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, as of July 1; beginning 1958, includes Alaska and Hawaii. 5 to 15 percent of population with each type of insurance benefit has protection from more than one kind of plan or policy; rates not corrected for such duplication.

[Amounts, except per capita, in thousands of dollars. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Prior to 1916 figures are as compiled by the New York Journal of Commerce and include losses of $10,000 or over in the principal cities of the United States, plus 15 percent for small and unreported losses. These figures are not comparable with those shown for later years (the 1916 Journal of Commerce figure being $214,531,000 as against $253,378,000) which cover all fires reported to the Actuarial Bureau Committee, plus 25 percent for unreported and uninsured losses prior to 1935 and 30 percent thereafter. Estimated fire losses are based on paid losses through 1953, on incurred losses thereafter]

Section 17

Business Enterprise

Statistics in this section relate in general to the place and behavior of the business firm and of business initiative in the American economy. The data include measures of and changes in the numbers of businesses; assets and liabilities of corporations; types of business income and expenditures; business sales and inventories; and consumer cooperatives.

The principal sources of these data are the Survey of Current Business and its National Income Supplement (1954) and U.S. Income and Output (1958), published by the Office of Business Economics, Department of Commerce; the Federal Reserve Bulletin issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; and monthly statements published by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. Other sources are publications of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Internal Revenue Service.

Firms in operation, entering, and leaving.—The number of firms in existence and the number of new, discontinued, and transferred businesses are estimated by the Office of Business Economics on the basis of data from the Internal Revenue Service and the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

A business firm is defined by the Office of Business Economics as a business organization under a single management and may include one or more plants or outlets; a firm doing business in more than one industry is classified by industry according to the major activity of the firm as a whole. A self-employed person is considered a firm only if he has either one or more employees or has an established place of business. This count of firms differs from that of the Bureau of the Census which ordinarily represents a count of establishments, e.g., manufacturing plants or retail stores, larger than a minimum specified size.

New businesses include firms which are newly established; discontinued businesses refer only to liquidations. Business transfers represent purchases of going businesses, acquisitions of businesses through inheritance, transfers of businesses to a trustee or executor, as well as changes in the form of business organization.

Industrial and commercial failures.—These data are collected by Dun & Bradstreet, and are available by years since 1857 and by months since 1900. The number of failures includes concerns involved in court proceedings or voluntary actions likely to end in loss to creditors; discontinuances with outside obligations paid in full are not included. Data cover manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, building contractors, and certain types of commercial service, but do not encompass all business enterprises. Specific types of business not listed are: Finance, insurance, and real estate companies; railroads and steamship lines; amusement enterprises. Failures data are published monthly in summary form in Dun's Review & Modern Industry.

Corporate assets and liabilities.—Data on corporate assets and liabilities are from the Internal Revenue Service and the Securities and Exchange Commission. In its annual report, Statistics of Income, Corporation Income Tax Returns, the Internal Revenue Service presents balance sheet and income account data for all United States corporations. In a quarterly release entitled Net Working Capital of U.S. Corporations, the Securities and Exchange Commission publishes data on the net working capital position of all United States corporations, exclusive of banks, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies, showing the principal components of current assets and liabilities.

Corporate income, profits, dividends, and taxes.—Several agencies (the Internal Revenue Service, the Office of Business Economics, and the Federal Reserve Board) compile corporate income account data. These data, however, are not comparable because of differing methods of compilation.

The Internal Revenue Service publishes corporate data based on income tax returns in the aforementioned Statistics of Income.

The corporate data issued by the Office of Business Economics are a part of its national income and product accounts and are defined as required for purposes of national income estimation. The primary sources of data for the Office of Business Economics estimates of profits, taxes, dividends, and undistributed profits are the original corporate tax returns submitted to the Internal Revenue Service. Various adjustments of the Statistics of Income data are required by the national income treatment, particularly with respect to depletion, capital gain or loss, and intercorporate dividends, and because the original corporate income statements do not represent the final stage of information.

Federal Reserve Board data relating to profits and dividends apply to particular industrial segments only, such as large manufacturing and public utility corporations.

Sources and uses of corporate funds.—These data indicate capital requirements of corporations and the manner in which they are financed. Sources of funds are equal to their uses. Certain discrepancies, however, apart from errors in estimation, interfere with this equality. These discrepancies are not particularly significant and are due to omission of such factors as (1) money accruing to corporations from an excess of sales over purchases of used plant and equipment, and (2) transactions in securities held as permanent investments except public offerings.

Business sales and inventories.—Business sales and inventories as defined by the Office of Business Economics are the sum of data for manufacturing, wholesale, and retail trade. Sales are estimated aggregate values and inventories are book values at the end of the period. Sales signifies sales or shipments for retail and wholesale trade and billings or shipments for manufacturing. Trade inventories are valued at cost of merchandise on hand, while manufacturers' inventories are valued at the cost price or market price, whichever is lower. The data on sales and inventories for manufacturers (see tables 668 and 669) are based on annual data, published by the Internal Revenue Service in Statistics of Income.

Net change in business inventories.—To ascertain net physical change in nonfarm inventories, book values of beginning and ending inventories of each year are expressed in terms of constant base year prices by means of selected Bureau of Labor Statistics wholesale price indexes appropriate to each industry. Net increment in deflated book value figures is then converted to a current price basis by index ratios of current prices to base year prices. No inventory valuation adjustment is shown for farm inventories because change in farm inventories is estimated by the Department of Agriculture from physical quantity data.

Plant and equipment expenditures.—A joint survey by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Department of Commerce presents quarterly data on actual plant and equipment expenditures, and on anticipated expenditures for the next two quarters. In addition, at the beginning of each year, a survey is made of plans of business as regards capital expenditures during that year. The data are based on reports submitted by corporations registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, by transportation companies under Interstate Commerce Commission jurisdiction, and by a large sample of nonregistered companies, unincorporated as well as corporate, reporting to the Department of Commerce.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series V 4-19") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

<sup>1</sup> Individually owned businesses and farms.

(a) For sole proprietorships, excludes capital gains or losses and investment income not associated with the taxpayer's business.

(b) For partnerships and corporations engaged in finance, insurance, and real estate, excludes a sizable part of their income because reporting instructions prescribe separate entries for investment income.

(a) Sole proprietorships: Business receipts less total deductions, including cost of goods sold.

(b) Partnerships: Total receipts less total deductions, including cost of goods sold. Net profit includes investment and other income.

(c) Corporation returns: Net income is the gross income subject to tax, less ordinary and necessary business deductions.

No. 650. EMPLOYERS REPORTING UNDER SOCIAL SECURITY ACT, EMPLOYMENT, AND TAXABLE WAGES, BY SIZE OF FIRM: FIRST QUARTER, 1945 TO 1956

[Employers and employment in thousands, wages in millions. Includes Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Virgin Islands. Data represent commercial and industrial employers in the scope of County Business Patterns (see table 651), but also include estimates for late returns excluded from that publication. Excludes self-employed and railroads. Data for 1945 through 1949 represent all employers reporting. Additional types of employers, first required to report for 1951 and later years, are excluded. An employer is a legal entity, such as a corporation, partnership, or single ownership, for which a single tax return is filed]

No. 657. CORPORATE PROFITS, BY INDUSTRY: 1950 TO 1960

[In millions of dollars. Beginning 1960, includes Alaska and Hawaii. Data are for corporations organized for profit. Represent profits accruing to U.S. residents, measured before and after Federal and State profit taxes, without deduction of depletion charges and exclusive of capital gains and losses; intercorporate dividends from profits of domestic corporations are eliminated; net receipts of dividends and branch profits from abroad are added. In other major respects, the definition of profits is in accordance with Federal income tax regulations. The inclusion of depletion charges has an important effect on data for mining industries]

No. 658. CORPORATE PROFITS, TAXES, AND DIVIDENDS: 1940 TO 1960

[In millions of dollars. Beginning 1960, includes Alaska and Hawaii. See headnote, table 657. Taxes refer to Federal and State corporate income and excess profits taxes. Carryback tax refunds deducted from tax liability for year in which liability incurred. Cash dividends represent amount disbursed to U.S. residents, and therefore are measured after elimination of intercorporate dividends. Undistributed profits represent difference between corporate profits after taxes and net dividend payments]

No. 669. NET CHANGE IN BUSINESS INVENTORIES: 1929 TO 1961

[In millions of dollars. Beginning 1960, includes Alaska and Hawaii. Net change in business inventories measures change in physical inventories, valued at average prices current during year. Difference between change in business inventories as thus measured and change in book value of inventories constitutes inventory valuation adjustment]

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Excludes all railroad failures. Series revised beginning 1933 to exclude real estate and financial companies. These revisions bring "Failures" more nearly in accordance with type of concerns covered by "Total concerns in business," in which no changes were made. Beginning 1939, new series includes voluntary discontinuances with loss to creditors and small concerns forced out of business with insufficient assets to cover all claims, in addition to failures included in former series. <sup>1</sup> Annual data represent number of names listed in July issue of Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book; monthly data are listings in edition published in specified month. See table 676 for class of industries covered.

<sup>2</sup> Includes concerns discontinuing following assignment, voluntary or involuntary petition in bankruptcy, attachment, execution, foreclosure, etc.; voluntary withdrawals from business with known loss to creditors; also enterprises involved in court action, such as receivership, and, since June 1934, reorganization or arrangement which may or may not lead to discontinuance; and businesses making voluntary compromise with creditors out of court.

<sup>3</sup> Liabilities exclude long-term publicly held obligations; offsetting assets are not taken into account.

<sup>4</sup> Monthly data represent annual rate at which business concerns would fail if number of concerns and failures listed in that month prevailed for entire year. Adjustments have been made for seasonal fluctuations.

Section 18

Communications

This section presents statistics on usage, finances, and operations of the various communications media: Postal service, telephone, telegraph, radio, television, newspapers, and books. Data on the postal service are included in the Annual Report of the Postmaster General. Statistics on revenues, volume of mail, and distribution of expenditures by classes of mail and services are presented in the Post Office Department's annual Cost Ascertainment Report. Principal sources of wire and wireless data are the Federal Communications Commission's Annual Report and its annual Statistics of Communications Common Carriers (prior to 1957 titled Statistics of the Communications Industry in the United States). Statistics on number and circulation of newspapers and periodicals and on sales of books and pamphlets are issued by the Bureau of the Census in reports of the Census of Manufactures. Annual data on number and circulation of daily and Sunday newspapers appear in Editor and Publisher's International Yearbook Number. Monthly data on new books and new editions of books are presented by R. R. Bowker Company in Publishers' Weekly.

Postal Service.—"Cost ascertainment" is the term used by the Post Office Department to describe its system for developing data on revenues, expenses, volume, and average hauls fairly attributable to each class of mail handled by the Postal Service (first, second, third, fourth, foreign, penalty, franked, free for the blind, and air mail) and similar data for each of its special services (special delivery, money order, insurance, collect-on-delivery, registry, certified, and postal savings).

Telephone and telegraph systems.—Statistical coverage of wire and wireless communications has been concentrated in the Federal Communications Commission since its establishment in 1934. According to the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the Commission has full jurisdiction only over carriers engaged in interstate or foreign communications service by means of their own facilities or those of another carrier under direct or indirect common control. The Commission requires all except the smallest of these carriers to file annual and monthly reports and requires the companies controlling any but the smallest to file annual reports. Full jurisdiction applies to practically all wire-telegraph, ocean-cable, and radiotelegraph carriers but not to a large number of telephone carriers which are engaged in interstate or foreign service only by connection with the facilities of another unaffiliated carrier. However, the gross operating revenues of the telephone carriers reporting annually to the Commission are estimated to cover over 90 percent of the revenues of all telephone carriers in the United States.

Broadcasting.—The number of broadcast stations refers to the number licensed or holding construction permits. Total broadcast revenues are defined as total time sales of all networks and stations, less commissions to agencies and plus incidental revenues, such as sale of talent, program material, etc. Reports filed with the Federal Communications Commission by broadcast stations and networks cover substantially all units operating in the United States and its outlying areas.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series R 139-141) provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

<sup>1</sup> After allowance for reimbursements, embossed envelope purchases, indemnity claims, and miscellaneous revenue and expenditure offsets. Revenues, expenditures, and deficits through 1953 on cash-disbursement basis, i.e., they include payments and receipts in a year applicable to prior years; beginning 1954, expenditures are shown in year in which obligation was incurred, and revenues in year which gave rise to the earnings, whether collected or accrued. During fiscal 1954, the Department began receiving reimbursement for penalty and franked mail, and discontinued payment of subsidies to airlines. These and other changes affect the comparability of the figures from year to year.

<sup>2</sup> Includes capital expenditures for plant and equipment and cost of materials and supplies, but no provision for depreciation. Also includes costs of certain services rendered to other agencies without reimbursement but excludes costs of certain services rendered to the Post Office Department by other agencies. Beginning 1954, amounts shown represent obligations incurred.

<sup>5</sup> Expenditures and deficit for fiscal 1957 have been increased by $26 million for retroactive increases in rail rates for eastern roads granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1958.

No. 692. TELEPHONE SYSTEMS—SUMMARY, CLASS A CARRIERS: 1930 TO 1960

[All money figures in millions. Includes Hawaii and Puerto Rico; no class A carriers in Alaska. Excludes inter-company duplications. Covers class A telephone carriers filing annual reports with FCC. Class A carriers are those whose annual operating revenues exceeded $100,000 for years prior to 1952, and $250,000 thereafter; comparability of data relatively unaffected by change in coverage. Gross operating revenues of class A carriers (excluding intercompany duplications of Bell System) reporting in 1960 represented approximately 92 percent of revenues of all telephone carriers as estimated by U.S. Independent Telephone Association]

<sup>6</sup> Covers Hawaii and Puerto Rico and also international telegrams originating or terminating in Alaska.

<sup>8</sup> For 1954, includes $26 million for newspapers and $19 million for periodicals, not distributed by publishers between subscription and sales and advertising; for 1958, $35 million for newspapers and $40 million for periodicals.

<sup>1</sup> 1954 and 1958 may not be strictly comparable since 1954 includes 4,621,000 hardbound books and $2,805,000 receipts.

<sup>2</sup> For 1947 and 1954 "educational and other standardized tests" included with "pamphlets." For 1958, copies sold and receipts excluded from the "books" totals.

<sup>3</sup> Since these books are frequently sold direct to consumers, some publishers reported receipts on a retail basis; hence, aggregate receipts for this type of book are a combination of wholesale and retail values but do represent total receipts at publishing plant level. Also, since books in this category are typically sold on an installment plan basis, the values reported here (actual receipts during the year) may not agree with publishers' sales for same reporting period. 1958 receipts not strictly comparable with prior years since deductions were made in 1958 for known payments for salesmen's compensation and operating expenses for sales offices and sales branches maintained to assist in door-to-door distribution. Copies sold represent number of volumes rather than sets. Also, for 1958, some dictionaries and other single volume books sold direct to the consumer were included in "All other books, n.e.c."

<sup>7</sup> For 1947, "Book club books" included in "All other books, n.e.c."; for 1954, included in "Adult trade books, hardbound."

NO. 710. NEW BOOKS AND NEW EDITIONS PUBLISHED, BY SUBJECT: 1950, 1960, AND 1961

[Includes books published in the United States and its outlying areas. Based on book information received by Publishers' Weekly and checked against similar information reaching Library of Congress and American Library Association, Library Journal. New editions, as distinct from new books, are either revisions of earlier editions or reprints, without change, at a sharply differing price or format. Excluded are State and Federal Government publications, periodicals, quarterlies, and serials, dissertations, second, third, or fourth printings or impressions, and pamphlets of under 49 pages. Data for 1950 and 1960 are not strictly comparable with 1961 because of a change in tabulation methods. The grand total for 1960 that would be comparable with 1961 is 16,554. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1967, Series R 165-167]

Power; Research and Development

This section presents statistics on the supply, production, and distribution of power and energy; expenditures and manpower for scientific activities; patents and trademarks; and space vehicles. The principal sources of these data are the Federal Power Commission, National Science Foundation, American Gas Association, Atomic Energy Commission, and National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Federal Power Commission publishes various statistical reports containing data on production of electric energy, capacity of generating plants, basic fuels used, and water power. Data on sales, revenues, and number of customers by classes of service, and on rates, typical bills, and related matters are also issued at regular intervals by the Commission. Monthly statistics on production, fuels used in production, sales by classes of service, salaries and wages, taxes, and other costs of production appear in the Commission's series entitled Electric Power Statistics.

The Federal Power Commission has uniform systems of accounts for public utilities under its jurisdiction and for its licensees. It compiles data from annual reports of electric utilities containing information on assets, liabilities, revenues, generating capacity, and consumers; power system reports of electric utility systems presenting information on generating capacity, transmission facilities, and loads and load characteristics; monthly and annual reports containing information on production of electricity for public use, fuel consumed, and fuel on hand; and reports from electric utilities and industrial corporations on their electric power requirements and supply.

The National Science Foundation publishes a number of continuing, as well as special, reports on its recurring surveys of scientific activities in Federal Government agencies, industrial firms, colleges and universities, and other nonprofit institutions. These publications, concerned with annual expenditures, scientific manpower employed, and other statistical aspects of scientific activities, include the pamphlet series Reviews of Data on Research and Development and Scientific Manpower Bulletins; the annual reports, Federal Funds for Science; and Funds for Research and Development in Industry; and other similar reports relating to colleges and universities and other nonprofit organizations. The Foundation surveys of research and development are a comparatively new statistical undertaking and pose particularly difficult problems of concept and definition. The data are therefore subject to certain limitations and should be regarded as broad estimates rather than precise quantitative statements (see Reviews of Data on Research and Development).

The American Gas Association, in its monthly and quarterly bulletins and its yearbook, Gas Facts, presents data on natural gas utilization and on production of gas manufactured from coal, oil, and similar products. Other important sources of information include the Bureau of Mines' Minerals Yearbook, containing data on coal, oil, and natural gas production and utilization; the Edison Electric Institute's monthly and annual Statistical Bulletin, containing data on the distribution of electric energy by public utilities; the Atomic Energy Commission's annual and semi-annual reports containing data on atomic energy equipment, finances, and licenses; and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Space Activities Summary, issued for each space vehicle launched and giving data on the launching vehicle and its "payload."

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

No. 712. MINERAL FUELS AND WATER POWER—PRODUCTION AND CONSUMPTION, 1920 TO 1961, BY SOURCE

[In trillions of British thermal units. Beginning 1950, includes Alaska, and 1960, Hawaii. Data for bituminous coal include Alaska for all years. Unit heat values employed are: Anthracite, 12,700 B.t.u. per pound; bituminous coal and lignite, 13,100 B.t.u. per pound; petroleum, 5,800,000 B.t.u. per barrel; natural gas, total production multiplied by 1.075 B.t.u. minus repressuring vent and waste gas multiplied by 1.035. Water power includes installations owned by manufacturing plants and mines, as well as Government and privately owned public utilities. Fuel equivalent of water power calculated from kilowatt-hours of power produced wherever available, as is true of all public utility plants since 1919. Otherwise, fuel equivalent calculated from reported horsepower of installed water wheels, assuming capacity factor of 20 percent for factories and mines. ## No. 713. TOTAL HORSEPOWER OF ALL PRIME MOVERS: 1930 TO 1961

[In thousands. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except as noted. Prime movers are mechanical engines and turbines, and work animals, which originally convert fuels or force (as wind or falling water) into work and power. Electric motors, which are secondary movers and obtain their power from prime movers, are excluded to avoid duplication. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series S 1-14]

<sup>3</sup> Includes small percentage from wood and waste and also, in past few years, from nuclear fuel.

<sup>2</sup> Organizations, mainly cooperatives, to which loans for extending central station electric service in rural areas are made.

<sup>6</sup> Through 1954, this item was headed "Consumers connected." The change was a result of a revised definition of a consumer as reported by REA borrowers, effective Jan. 1, 1955. It resulted in a downward adjustment in the national total of about 60,000 for 1955, chiefly through elimination of idle services.

<sup>4</sup> Beginning 1957, data include only parent organizations, which are issued single basic licenses. Subordinate organizations at various locations included for prior years.

<sup>5</sup> The Oak Ridge National Laboratory is the AEC's principal distributor of radioisotopes. Sales are made also by other AEO laboratories and by commercial suppliers. Sales figures include AEO sales made to commercial suppliers but not by them. Shipments to foreign countries are comprised of shipments made by AEO laboratories and by commercial suppliers.

No. 739. SCIENTISTS AND ENGINEERS IN PRIVATE INDUSTRY, BY INDUSTRY AND OCCUPATION: JANUARY 1960

[Includes Alaska, excludes Hawaii. Scientists and engineers were defined as all persons engaged in scientific and engineering work at a level which requires a knowledge of physical, natural, or mathematical sciences equivalent at least to that acquired through completion of a 4-year professional college course. Administrators of research and development and other activities are included with each occupation. Research and development was defined to include basic and applied research in the sciences (including medicine) and in engineering, and design and development of prototypes and processes]

Section 20

Roads and Motor Vehicles

This section presents statistics relating to the mileage, control, and financing of public roads and to motor-vehicle travel and usage. The Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Commerce is the principal compiler of data concerning public roads and motor-vehicle registrations. Since 1945, it has published such data in its annual Highway Statistics. The same Bureau's Highway Statistics, Summary to 1955, presents public roads data carried back over periods ranging from 20 to 50 years. The motor-vehicle registration figures which appear in Highway Statistics are compiled from reports and records of State highway departments.

The first road mileage survey was made in 1904. Data for 1904 and other road mileage surveys made in 1909, 1914, and 1921 appear in Department of Agriculture Bulletin 1279, Rural Highway Mileage, Income, and Expenditures, 1921-22.

Useful annual handbooks in this field are Automobile Facts and Figures and Motor Truck Facts, both issued by the Automobile Manufacturers Association of Detroit, Mich.; and Accident Facts, issued by the National Safety Council of Chicago, Ill. In addition, statistics on the motor-vehicle and equipment industry are compiled by the Bureau of the Census and published in its Census of Manufactures reports and Annual Survey of Manufactures. Data from these reports are also included in section 29, Manufactures, in this volume.

Rural and urban roads.—The terms "rural," "urban," and "municipal" are used in different ways in different tables in this section. Because of special problems and purposes, it is not possible to apply identical definitions and groupings to all types of data. Definitions are given in table headnotes where pertinent.

Highway systems.—The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1916 provides for the sharing of highway construction costs between the States and the Federal Government with the initiative retained by each State for choosing projects and carrying them out. The planning and development of Federal-aid systems began in 1921. Federal funds share with State funds in costs of engineering, construction, and right-of-way acquisition on the designated systems while other charges, such as maintenance and policing, are borne entirely by the States and local agencies.

The Federal-aid primary system connects all of the principal cities, county seats, ports, manufacturing areas, and other traffic generating areas. In general, these are at the same time the main State trunkline roads. Certain sections of the primary system are more important than others from the viewpoint of national interest. Consequently, in 1944, the Congress authorized the creation of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways, not to exceed 40,000 miles in length. In 1956, Congress extended the system to 41,000 miles and authorized for the first time a long-range program to complete the system. Federal funds of $37 billion, providing 90 percent of the total estimated cost, are authorized for the fiscal years 1957 to 1971.

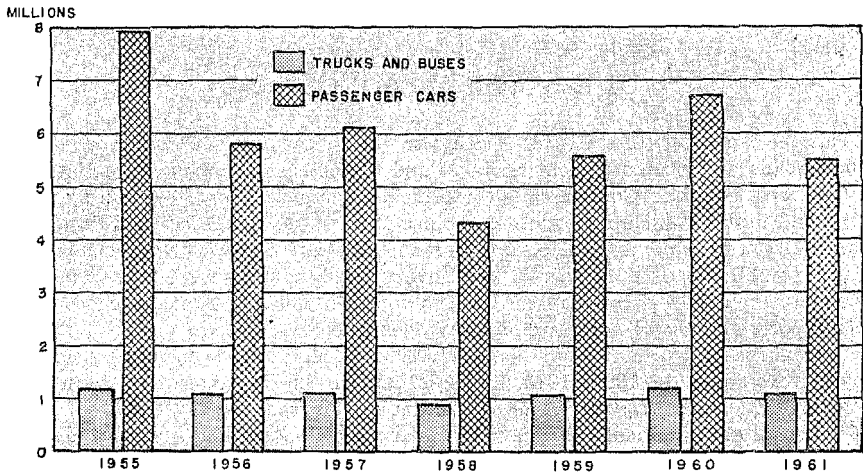

The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1944 authorized the first specific funds for Federal-aid highways in urban areas, and established the Federal-aid secondary system, consisting of important feeder roads linking the farms, factories, distribution outlets, and smaller communities with the primary system.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series Q 247-250") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

Section 21

Transportation, Land and Air

This section presents statistics concerning the systems of mass transport of persons and goods by land and air. The modes of transport included are railroad, trucking, bus and streetcar, pipeline, and civil aviation.

The principal sources of these data are the Interstate Commerce Commission's Annual Report and its annual Transport Statistics in the United States, Part 1, which contains data on railroads; and the Federal Aviation Agency's annual FAA Statistical Handbook of Aviation. Other important sources published by the Interstate Commerce Commission include the quarterly and annual Statistics of Class I Motor Carriers (issued as Part 7 of Transport Statistics); the annual Statistics of Oil Pipe-Line Companies (issued as Part 6 of Transport Statistics); the annual Accident Bulletin; and, for historical data on railroads, Statistics of Railways in the United States, published annually from 1887 through 1953. Nongovernmental sources of data include Cars of Revenue Freight Loaded, published weekly and annually by the Association of American Railroads; the Transit Fact Book, relating to street railways and motor buses, published annually by the American Transit Association; and Air Transport Facts and Figures, published annually by the Air Transport Association of America.

Railroads.—The total railroad mileage of the United States comprises companies reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission, grouped as follows: (1) Regular interstate carriers (and their nonoperating subsidiaries); (2) switching and terminal railroads; and (3) private railroads (identified by the Commission as "circular" because they report on brief circulars, or as "unofficial" when their reports are received too late for tabulation). Except for certain mileage data, circular and unofficial companies are not included in the statistics. Switching and terminal roads, formerly included with operating railroads, are now separated, and data for them do not appear in most of the tables.

Nonoperating subsidiaries comprise proprietary companies, which are covered by the reports of operating carriers, and lessor companies, which have no traffic and whose reports appear only in statistics of capitalization, dividends, and investment.

Operating railroads are classified on the basis of operating revenues. Prior to 1956, the classification was as follows: Class I, those having more than $1,000,000 gross annual operating revenue; class II, from $100,000 to $1,000,000; and class III, less than $100,000. Since 1956, the following classification has been in effect: Class I, $3,000,000 or more; and class II, under $3,000,000. Class III has been eliminated.

Motor carriers.—Statistics of class I for-hire carriers are compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission from annual and quarterly reports submitted to it by these carriers. Prior to 1950, class I motor carriers were those with $100,000 or more of gross annual operating revenue. Beginning with 1950, the class I minimum became $200,000. Beginning with 1957, the class I minimum for motor carriers of property was increased to $1,000,000; however, the minimum for class I motor carriers of passengers remained at $200,000.

Civil aeronautics.—Federal promotion and regulation of civil aviation are carried out by two bodies—the Federal Aviation Agency and the Civil Aeronautics Board. The Board issues certificates permitting persons to engage in air transportation as a business, fixes air mail rates which they may charge, and may establish maximum and minimum rates for transportation of passengers and goods. It also has the duty of investigating accidents in air transportation.

The principal activities of the Federal Aviation Agency are: Controlling the use of navigable airspace; prescribing regulations dealing with the competency of airmen, airworthiness of aircraft, and air traffic control; operation of air route traffic control centers, airport traffic control towers, and flight service stations; the design, construction, maintenance, and inspection of navigation, traffic control, and communications equipment for the airways; and promotion of air safety.

These agencies publish annual operational data on the use of airway facilities; data related to the location of airmen, aircraft, and airports; the activity volume in the field of non-aircarrier (general aviation) flying; and aircraft production and registration data by type of equipment.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series Q 1-11") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 789. RAILROAD ACCIDENTS—NUMBER OF PERSONS KILLED AND INJURED, BY STATUS: 1921 TO 1961

[As of December 31. Beginning 1960, includes Alaska and Hawaii. Covers all reportable accidents, including those due to suicide, mental derangement, and attempt to escape custody. For various reasons, including fact that returns were required under different acts, statistics are not strictly comparable. Accidents causing damage to railroad property in following amounts, with or without a casualty, were classified as train accidents for years specified: 1921-1947, over $150; 1948, over $250; 1949-1950, $275 or over; 1951, $300 or over; 1952, $325 or over; and beginning 1953, $350 or over. Accidents causing damage less than amounts specified and with a reportable casualty were classified as train-service accidents. <sup>1</sup> Not compiled for intra-Alaska.

<sup>2</sup> Includes military airports with joint civil and military use. Airport type definitions: General use—airports serving as regular, alternate, or provisional stops for scheduled and large irregular carriers; non-air-carrier airports offering a minimum of services such as fuel and regular attendant during normal working hours; and airports operating seasonally which qualify under above definition. Limited use—airports available to public but not equipped to offer minimum services. Restricted use—use by general public prohibited except in case of forced landing or by previous arrangement.

Waterways, Water Traffic, and Shipping

This section presents statistics concerning water transportation, including inland waterways and oceanborne commerce, the merchant marine, cargo and vessel tonnages, and shipbuilding. The principal sources of these data are the annual Waterborne Commerce of the United States and the Annual Report of the Chief of Engineers, Part 2, issued by the Corps of Engineers of the Department of the Army; the monthly and annual U. S. Waterborne Foreign Trade, issued by the Bureau of the Census; and the annual Merchant Marine Statistics, issued by the Bureau of Customs. Data in this field are also presented in A Statistical Analysis of the World's Merchant Fleets, issued periodically by the Maritime Administration of the Department of Commerce; The Bulletin, issued monthly by the American Bureau of Shipping; and the Annual Summary of Merchant Ships Launched in the World and the Register Book published by Lloyd's Register of Shipping, London, England. A basic source for historical data is Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States, issued annually through 1946 by the Bureau of the Census.

Data relating to merchandise exports and imports, their classification, dollar values, and countries of origin and destination may be found in section 31, Foreign Commerce.

Units of measurement.—Cargo tonnage and shipping weight both represent the gross weight of the cargo including the weight of containers, wrappings, crates, etc. Other tonnage figures generally refer to stowing capacity of vessels, 100 cubic feet being called 1 ton. Gross tonnage comprises the space within the frames and the ceiling of the hull, together with those closed-in spaces above deck available for cargo, stores, passengers, or crew, with certain minor exceptions. Net or registered tonnage is the gross tonnage less the spaces occupied by the propelling machinery, fuel, crew quarters, master's cabin, and navigation spaces. It represents substantially space available for cargo and passengers. The net tonnage capacity of a ship may bear little relation to weight of cargo. Dead-weight tonnage is the weight in long tons required to depress a vessel from light water line (that is, with only the machinery and equipment on board) to load line. It is therefore the weight of the cargo, fuel, etc., which a vessel is designed to carry with safety.

Vessel shipments, entrances, and clearances.—Shipments by dry cargo vessels comprise shipments on all types of watercraft except tanker vessels; shipments by tanker vessels comprise all types of cargo, liquid and dry, carried by tanker vessels.

A vessel is reported as entered at the first port which it enters in the United States, regardless of whether any cargo is unladen at that port. A vessel is reported as cleared from the last port where outward cargo is completed or where the vessel cleared in ballast. Army and Navy vessels entering or clearing without commercial cargo and vessels touching at a United States port in distress, or for other temporary causes without discharging cargo, are not included in the figures.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series Q 216-229") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 810. UNITED STATES RECEIPTS AND PAYMENTS FOR INTERNATIONAL TRANSPORTATION: 1947 TO 1961

[In millions of dollars. Includes Alaska and Hawaii. Data are international transportation transactions recorded for balance of payments purposes (see table 1195). Receipts include freight on exports carried by U.S. operated carriers and foreign carrier expenditures in U.S. ports. Payments include freight on imports carried by foreign carriers and U.S. carrier port expenditures abroad. Freight on exports carried by foreign carriers is excluded since such payments are directly or indirectly for foreign account. Similarly, freight on U.S. imports carried by U.S. carriers is a domestic rather than an international transaction. Minus sign (—) denotes decrease. ## No. 811. WATERBORNE IMPORTS AND EXPORTS—CARGO TONNAGE, BY FLAG OF CARRIER VESSEL: 1935 TO 1961

[In thousands of short tons. Prior to 1946, excludes cargoes (small in aggregate) carried by ships of less than 100 tons gross capacity. Beginning 1950, excludes U.S. Army and Navy cargo, and includes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. Beginning July 1950, excludes commodities classified for security reasons as "special category." For 1955 and beginning July 1956, exports exclude shipments under $500 in value regardless of shipping weight; for January through June 1956, exclude those under $1,000 regardless of shipping weight. For 1955 through 1957, imports exclude shipments under 2,000 pounds shipping weight regardless of value, as well as shipments valued at less than $100 regardless of shipping weight. Beginning 1958, imports exclude only those shipments valued at less than $100 regardless of shipping weight. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series Q 210-215]

Agriculture—Farms, Land, and Finances

This section presents statistics concerning the basic structure of our agricultural economy. Included are data on farm population; number, acreage, value, and ownership of farms; land utilization, irrigation, drainage, and soil conservation; and farm income, expenditures, debt, and prices. The principal sources of these data are reports issued by the Bureau of the Census, which conducts a Census of Agriculture every 5 years and Censuses of Irrigation and of Drainage every 10 years; the annual Crop Report and Related Data, Federal Reclamation Projects, issued by the Bureau of Reclamation, Department of the Interior; and current and annual publications of the Department of Agriculture, chief of which are Report of Administrator of Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Statistics, The Farm Income Situation, and Farm Real Estate Market Developments.

Data on farm production, marketings, and imports and exports for crops, livestock, and poultry are in Section 24, Agriculture—Production, Marketing, and Trade.

A Census of Agriculture, entailing personal enumeration of individual farms, has been taken every 10 years since 1840 and every 5 years since 1920. The first Census, limited in scope, included such items as numbers of livestock, production of wool, value of poultry and dairy products, and production of principal crops. Data on number, acreage, and value of farms were first obtained in the 1850 Census; on farm tenure, in 1880; and on farmland classified by use, in 1925. The most recent Census of Agriculture provided detailed statistics on agricultural resources and production during 1959.

Farms and farmland.—In the course of its history, the Bureau of the Census has used varying definitions of a farm. In the 1959 Census, places of less than 10 acres were counted as farms if estimated sales of agricultural products for the year amounted to at least $250, and places of 10 or more acres if such sales amounted to at least $50. In the 1950 and 1954 Censuses, places of 3 or more acres were counted as farms if the annual value of agricultural products, whether for home use or for sale, but exclusive of home-garden products, amounted to $150 or more; places of less than 3 acres were counted as farms only if the annual sales amounted to $150 or more. In the Censuses from 1925 to 1945, farms included places of 3 or more acres having any agricultural production, other than from a home garden, and places of less than 3 acres having agricultural production valued at a minimum of $250. For definitions used in earlier Censuses, see U.S. Census of Agriculture: 1959, Vol. II, Introduction.

Currently included as farms are such agricultural enterprises as nurseries, greenhouses, hothouses, mushroom houses, and cranberry bogs; excluded are fish farms, fish hatcheries, oyster farms, frog farms, fur farms, apiaries, kennels, game preserves, parks, and the like. In the case of landowners who had one or more tenants, renters, croppers, or managers, the land operated by each was counted as a separate farm.

Farmland refers to all land under the control of a farm operator and considered as part of his farm, including land not actually under cultivation or used for pasture or grazing. Rent-free land was included as part of the farm only if the operator had sole use of it. Land used for pasture or grazing that was neither owned nor leased by the farm operator, such as national forests, Taylor grazing land, State or other public lands, and some railroad and other privately owned lands, are not included.

Irrigation.—Irrigated land as defined by the Bureau of the Census is the net acreage of farmland to which irrigation water is applied. It does not include any land that was not irrigated during the Census year. Excluded also is uncultivated land in irrigated farms and irrigated nonfarm land.

Most of the irrigated land is in the 18 Western States (Alaska excluded) and Louisiana. In these States the Bureau of the Census collects information on acres irrigated, irrigation works, capital investment, etc. from irrigation companies, districts, and other organizations, and from farms that operate their own irrigation supply works. Information for other States is generally limited to the regular farm Census.

The development of irrigation projects rests primarily on the Bureau of Reclamation. By Congressional directive its activities are confined to the 19 Western States (including Alaska and Hawaii). The operation of irrigation works, upon complete development, is transferred to capable private water user organizations.

Drainage.—Most farmland drainage works serve to reclaim and improve the land. Other purposes are to protect the land against overflow, to rid the land of seepage from irrigation ditches, and to control alkali formation.

The Bureau of the Census in 1950 and 1960 enumerated, in general, only organized enterprises with 500 acres or more of drained farmland. In 1950, smaller irrigation enterprises which had their own drainage works were also included. In previous Censuses (1920 to 1940), all organized enterprises draining farmlands were included regardless of size. Privately drained lands of less than 500 acres have not been enumerated in any drainage Census. The change in procedure for 1950 materially reduced the number of enterprises enumerated, but affected very little the amount of drained land enumerated.

Eight of the 48 conterminous States—the 6 New England States, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia—have had no drainage projects reported in any of the Censuses of Drainage. In 1960, Arizona also had no drainage projects that qualified for inclusion.

Soil conservation.—Soil conservation district legislation has been enacted in all 50 States, and in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. A soil conservation district is a political subdivision of a State, determined by petition and referendum of farmers in the area, and approved by the State Soil Conservation Committee. In most cases, districts have authority to solicit Federal, State, county, and private assistance for their soil and water conservation programs. On request of the local governing body of a district, the Department of Agriculture provides technical and other assistance.

Farm prices and income.—Information on prices received by farmers for products they sell and prices paid for articles they buy for production and family living are obtained by the Statistical Reporting Service of the Department of Agriculture from about 33,000 voluntary reporters, including farmers, local merchants, and handlers of agricultural products. Season average prices received by farmers are calculated by weighing midmonth prices by monthly sales during the crop marketing season, beginning with the first month in which a particular crop harvest begins.

Index numbers of prices received and of prices paid by farmers (see table 874) are based on current midmonth prices. Information on construction of the indexes is in Agricultural Handbook No. 118, Volume 1, Agricultural Prices and Parity, and on revisions in the January 1959 issue of Agricultural Prices, both published by the former Agricultural Marketing Service. The ratio of the index of prices received to the index of prices paid measures the monthly variation in the average per unit exchange value of farm products in terms of commodities and services brought by farmers.

Cash income is the cash receipts from farm marketings and represents quantities of agricultural products sold by farmers multiplied by prices received per unit of production at the local market. Gross farm income includes cash receipts and also Government payments, value of farm products consumed on the farm, and rental value of farm homes.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

No. 841. FARMS—NUMBER AND ACREAGE, BY SIZE OF FARM: 1930 TO 1959

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii, 1950 data, except number of farms, based on a sample of farms. May not agree with other 1950 sample data, since size data were not adjusted to agree with total count of farms. Minus sign (-) denotes decrease. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1967, series K 61-72]

No. 845. FARMS—NUMBER, BY ECONOMIC CLASS: 1929 TO 1959

[In thousands. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Based on Bureau of the Census data. Figures for 1959 differ from totals in table 846 due to difference in classification of farms. For example, in the group having sales of $1,200 to $2,499 Department of Agriculture includes only those farms for which such sales provide the major source of family income, whereas Bureau of the Census includes all farms falling within that sales range]

No. 848. FARMS—NUMBER AND PERCENT DISTRIBUTION, BY TYPE: 1959

[Includes Alaska and Hawaii. Based on reports for a sample of farms. Type of farm determined on basis of relationship of value of sales from a particular source to total value of products sold for each farm. In general, value of sales from a particular source was 50 percent or more of total sales when a farm was classified as that type. Part-time farms include those with a value of products sold of $50-$2,499 and with operator either reporting 100 days or more of off-farm work or other income exceeding value of farm products sold, provided the operator was under 65 years of age. Part-retirement farms include those with a value of farm products sold of $50 to $2,499 and the operator was 65 years old or over. Abnormal farms include public and private institutional farms, experiment stations, community projects, etc.]

No. 858. IRRIGATION ORGANIZATIONS—SUMMARY: 1920 TO 1959

[Data are for 17 Western States (Alaska and Hawaii excluded, except as noted) and Louisiana. Relates to multiple farm organizations only. Based on reports of management of organizations. An organization is defined as a group of two or more water users, a company, a corporation, or a governmental district or agency that operates facilities to supply water for irrigation of farm or ranch lands. It may be a formal legal arrangement or an informal cooperative arrangement.]

No. 862. FEDERAL BUREAU OF RECLAMATION IRRIGATION PROJECTS—ACREAGE AND CROP VALUE: 1909 TO 1960

[In thousands. "Full irrigation service" applies to irrigable land receiving its sole irrigation supply through Bureau-constructed facilities and to previously irrigated land in non-Federal projects where a substantial part of the facilities were constructed, rehabilitated, or replaced by the Bureau; "supplemental and temporary irrigation service" applies to irrigable land receiving irrigation water through Bureau projects in addition to supply from nonproject sources and to land for which water is delivered under temporary arrangements. For 17 Western States included, see table 861]

<sup>3</sup> Includes all crops held on farms for whatever purpose and crops held off farms as security for Commodity Credit Corporation loans. The latter totaled $648 million on Jan. 1, 1961.

<sup>5</sup> Includes loans held and loans guaranteed. Although these are nonrecourse loans, they are included as liabilities because borrowers must either repay in cash or deliver the commodities on which they were based. The values of the underlying commodities are included among the assets; hence, the loans must be included as liabilities to avoid overstating the amount of proprietors' equities.

<sup>7</sup> Loans and credits extended by dealers, merchants, finance companies, individuals, and others. Estimates based on fragmentary data.

No. 879. FARM-TO-RETAIL PRICE SPREADS OF FARM FOOD PRODUCTS, BY COM-MODITY GROUPS: 1947 TO 1961

[In dollars, except for farmer's share of consumer's dollar. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. These estimates are based on prices of a market basket of farm food products containing quantities equivalent to 1952 annual average purchases per urban wage earner and clerical worker family. Quantities of foods valued do not change from year to year. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series T 352-355, for totals]

<sup>4</sup> Obtained by expressing the farm value as a percentage of retail cost (based on unrounded figures).

Section 24

Agriculture—Production, Marketing, and Trade

This section presents statistics concerning farm output and marketings, trade in agricultural products, and data relative to specific crops, livestock, poultry, and livestock and poultry products.

The principal sources of these data are reports of the decennial and quinquennial Censuses of Agriculture conducted by the Bureau of the Census and three annual reports, Crop Production, Crop Values, and Agricultural Statistics, issued by the Statistical Reporting Service, Department of Agriculture. Other important sources include Current Industrial Reports and Cotton Production and Distribution, issued by the Bureau of the Census; Cotton and Cottonseed Production and annual livestock summaries, issued by the Statistical Reporting Service; and various Situation reports, issued by the Economic Research Service, Department of Agriculture. Sources of current data on agricultural exports and imports include Foreign Agricultural Trade, also published by the Economic Research Service, and Quarterly Summary of Foreign Commerce of the United States, issued by the Bureau of the Census. Historical data are available in Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States, issued annually through 1946 by the Bureau of the Census. Statistics on other aspects of agriculture may be found in Section 23, Agriculture—Farms, Land, and Finances.

Crop reporting.—Annual agricultural statistics of a wide variety have been issued by the Department of Agriculture for 99 years. Its 43 field offices design the samples and collect data from voluntary reporters. State estimates and other information are sent to the Crop Reporting Board of the Statistical Reporting Service where, after review, reports are issued containing State, regional, and United States data.

Statistics compiled by the Statistical Reporting Service on crops, livestock and livestock products, agricultural prices, farm employment, and other related subjects are based mainly on data obtained through mail questionnaires. The basic information is obtained from nearly three-fourths of a million reporters, mostly farmers, who report for their own and nearby farms on some 80 crops and scores of other items pertaining to agricultural production and farm family living. The most extensive of the current survey data are gathered by the Statistical Reporting Service from questionnaires handled in cooperation with the Post Office Department through its rural mail carriers. These surveys obtain livestock data in June and December and crop acreage data in October.

In the data prepared by the Statistical Reporting Service, estimates of crop acreage and production for the census years are set up currently from available information. Later, if necessary, these data are revised to a level based largely on the Census enumerations. The estimates for intercensal years are based on sample data obtained each year from individual reporters. This information is supplemented by other data, such as State assessors' enumerations of agricultural information, crop meter frontage measurements, reports of carlot shipments, warehouse receipts, local surveys, personal observations by field statisticians, and reports from other sources having a knowledge of farming, agricultural production, and processing. Cotton acreage and production are also based on sample data and, in large measure, on ginning information gathered by the Bureau of the Census.

Livestock.—Each Census of Agriculture from 1840 through 1900 was taken as of June 1. The six decennial censuses since then have been taken as of April 15, 1910; January 1, 1920; April 1, 1930, 1940, and 1950; and October 1959.

The 1925, 1935, and 1945 quinquennial Censuses of Agriculture were taken as of January 1; the 1954 and 1959 Censuses were taken in the fall of the year. Comparison of inventory numbers of livestock from census to census is seriously affected by changes in the date of enumeration. From January to April, and from October and November to January, there are material changes in numbers on hand in most parts of the country, due to births, marketings, farm slaughter, etc. In an effort to obtain as much comparability as possible, the censuses taken in April either excluded recently born animals from the enumeration or provided for their enumeration in a separate age group. Volume II of U.S. Census of Agriculture: 1959 shows a complete history of the enumeration of livestock and presents a discussion of the comparability from census to census. For most kinds of domestic livestock, there are comparatively short cyclic fluctuations in numbers, even though the trend over a long period of time may be definitely in one direction.

Annual inventory numbers of livestock on farms, together with estimates of livestock, dairy, and poultry production prepared by the Department of Agriculture, are based on information furnished by individual farmers, supplemented by State assessors' data in a number of States, and by such records as brand inspections, rail and truck shipments, and slaughter. The level for these inventories is based in large part on interpretations of Census enumerations for years when such data are available.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

<sup>1</sup> Measures annual volume of farm production available for eventual human use.<sup>2</sup> Measures gross production of meat animals, dairy products, poultry and eggs, and some miscellaneous livestock products not shown separately, excluding horses and mules. Livestock production is made up of three components: Constant-dollar value of pasture consumed, other feed consumed, and product-added in converting feed and pasture into livestock and products for human use. In combining production of livestock and crops into total farm output, value of feed other than pasture consumed and hatching eggs are excluded to avoid double counting of feed crops in both livestock and crop production and to avoid double counting of hatching eggs as part of poultry meat production as well as egg production.<sup>3</sup> Total constant dollar value of all crop production regardless of its final disposition. Includes production of hay seeds, pasture seeds, and cover-crop seeds and some miscellaneous crop production not shown.<sup>4</sup> Hay and concentrates only. Constant dollar value fed to horses and mules is subtracted when combining livestock and crops into total farm output.Source: Department of Agriculture, Statistical Reporting Service; annual report, Agricultural Statistics.

<sup>1</sup> Sources of values for Government-financed programs are different from those for total exports; therefore not fully comparable in regard to valuation, shipping period, etc. Entries for "outside Government programs" are the residuals of the other 2 series.

<sup>5</sup> Excludes corn cut for fodder (acreage, 14,503,000; value, $206,935,000) probably duplicated in acreage of corn harvested for grain.

No. 940. MEATS AND LARD—SLAUGHTERING, PRODUCTION, FOREIGN TRADE, AND CONSUMPTION, BY KIND: 1945 TO 1961

[All quantities, except per capita, represent carcass weight equivalent. Excludes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, except for exports and imports. Excludes edible byproducts. Production of pork comprises weight of dressed hog carcass less head bones and less all carcass fat rendered into lard. Lard production represents rendered weight of lard, and lard exports represent rendered lard, including neutral lard. Excludes USDA exports and shipments for Lend-Lease, UNRRA and other claimants, and shipments for military civilian feeding and voluntary relief feeding. Civilian consumption is calculated from production and foreign trade, with an allowance for changes in stocks, and with deduction of military takings, and of deliveries to USDA. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series K 214-215, K 217-218, K 220-221, and K 223-224, for animals slaughtered and production, and G 552-555, for civilian per capita consumption]

No. 951. SELECTED ANIMAL AND VEGETABLE FATS AND OILS—PRODUCTION, CONSUMPTION, AND STOCKS: 1959 TO 1961

[In millions of pounds. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Beginning January 1959, significant changes were made in the monthly fats and oils surveys which affected comparability in the fats and oils series. Data cover factory operations only, and therefore exclude considerable quantities of lard, tallow, and grease produced on farms and by local butcheries and small renderers, and quantities consumed and held in homes, or by hotels, restaurants, bakeries, and quantities consumed and held by painters, building contractors, garages, etc. Stocks include amounts held by, and in transit to, producers, factory consumers, and public storages, but exclude amounts held in private storages by retailers, wholesalers, and jobbers]

Forests and Forest Products

This section presents basic statistics on the area and ownership of commercial forest land and volume of timber, including annual growth and cut; forestry statistics covering the national forests and Forest Service cooperative programs; product statistics for lumber, pulpwood, woodpulp, paper and paperboard, turpentine, rosin, veneer logs; and other similar data.

The principal sources of these data are Timber Resources for America's Future, issued in 1958, and National Forest Areas and Forest Fire Statistics, both issued annually by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture; reports of the quinquennial Census of Manufactures, and monthly and quarterly issues of Current Industrial Reports, published by the Bureau of the Census. Additional information in this field is published in the Annual Report of the National Forest Reservation Commission, the Annual Naval Stores Report of the Department of Agriculture's Statistical Reporting Service, the monthly Survey of Current Business of the Office of Business Economics, and the quarterly National Survey of Lumber Demand and Supply of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

The Bureau of the Census also collects statistics on foreign trade of forest products. The Bureau of Labor Statistics publishes monthly and annual statistics of wholesale lumber prices. Information on the domestic movement of forest products is collected by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Association of American Railroads.

The completeness and reliability of statistics of forests and forest products vary considerably. The latest data available for area of total forest land, area and ownership of commercial forest land, and annual growth and cut are for the year 1953. The data for forest land area and stand are, of course, much more reliable for areas which have been surveyed than for those which have not been surveyed. Although forest fire statistics for Federal lands are considered much better than for private lands, estimates of fire damage or causes of fires are not completely reliable.

In the field of forest products, much more data are available for lumber production and other manufactured products such as veneer and plywood, pulp and paper, naval stores, etc., than for the primary forest products such as poles and piling, fuelwood, and fence posts.

A historical series for production, imports, exports, and consumption of forest products is included in table 993.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series L 1-5") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

<sup>1</sup> Comprises all land which, in 1953, was (a) producing, or physically capable of producing, usable crops of wood, (b) economically available then or prospectively, and (c) not withdrawn from timber utilization.

Fisheries

This section presents statistics relating to quantity, value, species, and disposition of fish caught for commercial purposes, and of fishery products. The principal sources of such data are the annual report, Fishery Statistics of the United States, and the monthly and annual bulletins, Current Fishery Statistics, both published by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior.

The Fish and Wildlife Service conducts annual statistical surveys of the fishery industries. Results from the surveys include data on catch and value of individual species of fish and shellfish, employment in fisheries, quantity of gear operated, number of fishing and transporting craft used, employment in wholesale and manufacturing establishments, and volume and value of production of manufactured fishery products. In addition to the basic statistics on employment, yield, and production, the reports include data on imports, exports, freezings, and cold-storage holdings of fishery products; monthly production of fish meal and oil; quarterly production of fish sticks and portions; and monthly landings in most coastal States, and in Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. Information is also collected covering shad fisheries of the Hudson and Potomac Rivers; alewife fisheries of the Potomac; seed oyster fisheries; Pacific Coast halibut fisheries; South Atlantic and Gulf shrimp fisheries; the fur seal industry of the Pribilof Islands; and the Pacific Coast whaling industry.

The first comprehensive statistical survey of the fisheries and fishery industries of the United States was made for the year 1880, although it did not include data for the Mississippi River and its tributaries. A complete survey of the entire United States was conducted in 1908 and again in 1931. Various sections of the country have been surveyed from time to time. A complete survey of all sections, including manufacturing and wholesaling operations, was made for 1950. Complete data have been collected annually beginning with 1954.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series L 110-111") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 983. FISHERIES—DISPOSITION OF DOMESTIC CATCH: 1945 TO 1961

[Round weight of catch in millions of pounds. Includes Alaska and, beginning 1959, Hawaii. A large portion of waste derived from canning, filleting, and dressing fish and shellfish is utilized in production of fish meal and oil in addition to whole fish used in manufacture of these products. From 600 million to 1 billion pounds of waste were used in production of meal and oil each year shown. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1937, series L 155-161]

Mining and Mineral Products

This section presents statistics relating to the mineral industries and mineral products. The data are arranged in four broad groupings: General summary statistics, fuels, nonmetals other than fuels, and metals. Summary measures of production and employment are presented for mining and its products. More detailed data on value and quantity of production, prices, imports and exports, consumption, and distribution are shown for specific mineral industries and products. The latter include crude minerals (coal, iron ore, etc.), minerals which have passed through certain stages of processing (refined copper, cement, etc.), and minerals extracted by methods which do not involve mining in the conventional sense (magnesium, iodine, etc.).

The principal source of these data is the Minerals Yearbook, which consists of three volumes—Metals and Minerals (Except Fuels), Fuels, and Area Reports—published by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior. Other government sources are the Censuses of Mineral Industries conducted by the Bureau of the Census; Statistics of Oil Pipe Line Companies, issued annually by the Interstate Commerce Commission as Part 6 of Transport Statistics; and the Bureau of the Mint's Annual Report of the Director, which presents data on gold and silver. Nongovernment sources include the Engineering and Mining Journal, issued monthly by the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., and The Iron Age, issued weekly by the Chilton Co.

Mineral statistics, with principal emphasis on commodity detail, have been collected annually or at more frequent intervals by the United States Geological Survey or by the Bureau of Mines since 1880. Current data available from Bureau of Mines publications include quantities and values of minerals produced, sold or used by producers, or shipped; quantities of minerals stocked; crude materials treated and prepared minerals recovered; and consumption of mineral raw materials. The Bureau of Mines also collects and publishes data on man-hours, active days, length of shift, and accidents.

Censuses of mineral industries were conducted by the Bureau of the Census every 10 years from 1840 to 1940. Censuses were taken again for the years 1954 and 1958; summary data from those censuses are included here. Commodity statistics on many of the manufactured mineral products are also collected by the Bureau of the Census at monthly, quarterly, or annual intervals and issued in its Current Industrial Reports series.

Data on mining and mineral products may also be found in other sections of this Abstract. For example, data on iron and steel, aluminum and magnesium, copper products, clay products, and other mineral products appear in section 29, Manufactures; and summary data for outlying areas of the U.S. appear in section 32.

In general, figures shown in the individual commodity tables include data for outlying areas, and may therefore not agree with summary table 996. Except for crude petroleum, the export and import figures include foreign trade passing through the customs districts of Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, but exclude shipments between conterminous U.S. and outlying areas.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series M 13-14") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 990. VALUE OF MINERAL PRODUCTION: 1926 TO 1961

[In millions of dollars. Beginning 1953, includes Alaska and Hawaii. Includes some advanced products, as cement, lime, and natural gas liquids in all years, and, through 1946, value of heavy clay products; also, value of nonferrous metals is mine quantity valued at the refined price. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series M 13-14, M 20, and M 30]

<sup>1</sup> Represents value of shipments of primary and secondary products of the industry and amount received for services performed for other establishments on a contract, fee, or other basis.

SUMMARY: 1954 AND 1958

establishments for which both value of production and expenditures amounted to less than $500.

<sup>7</sup> Excludes figures for uranium-radium-vanadium ores industry (not available).

<sup>9</sup> For 1954, data were collected on the quantity but not on the cost of gas received for processing and on the value of residue gas shipped. Such costs have been estimated and included in group totals.

<sup>1</sup> Data relate to mines having output of 1,000 tons a year or more, including lignite and small output of anthracite produced outside Pennsylvania. Includes Alaska.

<sup>4</sup> Capacity of active mines with existing labor force, derived on basis of average output per day.

<sup>5</sup> Beginning 1950, production data include some bootleg coal purchased by anthracite industry for preparation and shipment to market. Data on employment, however, exclude such purchased coal, as complete employment data on "bootleg" holes are not available. Data for 1940 and 1950 not strictly comparable with later years.

<sup>4</sup> Total exports of copper, exclusive of ore, concentrates, composition metal, and unrefined copper. Exclusive also of "Other copper manufactures," for which quantity figures are not recorded before 1953. Beginning 1955, data not strictly comparable with earlier years due to changes in classification.

No. 1037. COPPER—EXPORTS AND IMPORTS: 1931 TO 1961

[Quantities in short tons; values in thousands of dollars. Includes trade of Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico with foreign countries. Exports are those classed as "domestic" in foreign trade statistics but include copper smelted or refined in United States from imported ore or unrefined metal. Prior to 1952, values include all forms of copper; quantities represent all copper except some "Other copper manufactures" for which quantity data were not reported. For 1952 and subsequent years, export data exclude certain copper manufactures not reported separately]

Section 28

Construction and Housing

This section presents various measures of construction activity and costs; housing units; housing values, facilities, and structural characteristics; and residential financing.

The principal sources of these data are the monthly Construction Reports series, Housing Starts and Construction Activity—Value of New Construction Put in Place, reports of the decennial Census of Housing (most recent, 1960), and the 1956 National Housing Inventory, published by the Bureau of the Census; and the monthly Construction Review, published by the Business and Defense Services Administration, and containing data compiled by the Bureau of the Census on value of construction contract awards, value of construction put in place, cost and seasonal indexes, housing starts, vacancy rates, building permits, and production, shipment, and inventories of construction materials, as well as data assembled from other sources on construction materials and prices, wage rates, and employment. Other sources, which specialize in particular types of construction or housing statistics, include the monthly Dodge Construction Statistics Services of F. W. Dodge Corp., which presents State data on construction contracts; the Engineering News-Record, issued weekly by the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., Inc., which contains figures on contract awards and construction costs; the Annual Report of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, which offers public housing statistics from its Public Housing Administration and other agencies; and the Annual Report of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which presents home mortgage data. Monthly data on characteristics of vacant housing units are collected by the Bureau of the Census and presented quarterly in its Current Housing Reports.

Construction.—Monthly estimates of the value of construction put in place are prepared by the Bureau of the Census and published in Construction Activity—Value of New Construction Put in Place. Construction estimates for buildings such as stores, warehouses, and factories are based on F. W. Dodge Corporation reports of construction contracts, supplemented by building permit data. Public utility construction estimates are derived from data compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission and other Federal regulatory agencies, and by private associations and organizations such as the American Gas Association, the American Transit Association, the Edison Electric Institute, and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Statistics for most types of State and local governmental construction are derived from data compiled by the F. W. Dodge Corporation, supplemented by reports issued by numerous construction news services such as the Engineering News-Record and from official reports issued by State and local government agencies. Estimates of Federally financed construction, Federally aided construction programs, and State and local highway construction are derived by the Bureau of the Census from reports of the responsible Federal agencies. Estimates of private residential construction activity, including number of housing units started, type of structure, and average construction costs, are based primarily upon reports compiled by the Bureau of the Census of building permits issued, supplemented by field surveys on a sample basis to measure the relationship between permit-issuance and start of construction and to obtain estimates of housing starts in nonpermit areas.

Housing.—The first Census of Housing was taken in 1940, although some housing data were collected by the Bureau of the Census in earlier years in conjunction with Censuses of Population and Agriculture. Housing data were collected in sample surveys by the Bureau of the Census in October 1944, November 1945, April 1947, and May 1948 as part of the Current Population Survey (see p. 1 for discussion of Survey). A second Census of Housing was taken in 1950. In 1955, a monthly vacancy survey was begun, results of which are issued on a quarterly basis. In 1956 a National Housing Inventory, conducted on a sample basis by the Bureau of the Census, provided measurements of the housing supply for the country as a whole, and for selected large metropolitan areas and information on components of change (gains and losses) during the 1950-56 period in terms of new construction, conversion, demolition, merger, and other additions and losses. The most recent Census of Housing was taken as of April 1, 1960. It included a components of change survey as of December 1959, covering the whole decade 1950-60 as well as the period 1957-60.

Housing units.—In general, a housing unit is a group of rooms or a single room occupied or intended for occupancy as separate living quarters, that is, the occupants do not live and eat with any other persons in the structure, and there is either (1) direct access from the outside or through a common hall, or (2) a kitchen or cooking equipment for the exclusive use of the occupants. Transient accommodations (tourist courts, hotels, etc.), barracks for workers (railroad, construction, etc.), and institutional-type quarters are not included in the housing-unit inventory.

In the 1950 Census, the unit of enumeration was the dwelling unit. Although the definition of housing unit in 1960 is essentially similar to that of dwelling unit in 1950, the housing unit definition was designed to encompass all private living quarters, whereas the dwelling unit definition did not cover all private living accommodations. The main difference was in the treatment of 1-room quarters. Nevertheless, the change in definition between 1950 and 1960 had relatively little effect on comparability of the data at national and State levels.

Residential financing.—As early as 1890, the Bureau of the Census (then Census Division of the Department of Interior) collected detailed statistics on residential mortgages. As part of the 1920 and 1940 Censuses, mortgage questions were asked of owners who occupied their own homes. In 1950, the census included a separate survey on residential financing, mainly conducted by mail after the basic population and housing enumeration had been completed. The survey covered nonfarm residential mortgaged properties, both owner and renter. As a part of the 1956 National Housing Inventory, data were collected on the financing of owner-occupied nonfarm properties. In 1960, the Residential Finance Survey program of the Census of Housing covered financing of both homeowner and rental properties and characteristics of nonmortgaged as well as mortgaged properties.

Data on home mortgages and foreclosures, based largely on reports from major holders, are provided by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. The Federal Housing Administration compiles, from its records, data on its real estate financial operations, such as volume of mortgages insured, type of lending institution, etc. The Veterans' Administration also compiles, from its records, data on amounts and types of loans.

Urban, rural, and farm-nonfarm residence.—See section 1, "Population," for 1960 definitions of urban, rural, and farm-nonfarm residence.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series N 1-28") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 1045. VALUE OF PRIVATE AND PUBLIC CONSTRUCTION: 1929 TO 1961

In millions of dollars. New series includes Alaska and Hawaii. New series differs from old in that it reflects differences due to the new series for housing starts (see headnote, table 1063), and the new series of private residential additions and alterations (based on a new quarterly survey by the Bureau of the Census), and in that it incorporates a revision of the farm construction estimates of the Department of Agriculture. Represents value of construction put in place during year; differs from building permit and construction contract data in timing and coverage. Includes installed value of equipment which is integral part of structure but not that of machinery, shipbuilding, or land costs. For old series, see also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series N 1-23.

No. 1050. BUILDING PERMIT ACTIVITY—VALUE BY CLASS OF CONSTRUCTION AND OWNERSHIP: 1954 TO 1959

[In millions of dollars. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Old series, not comparable with new series in table 1049; for differences between old and new series, see headnote, table 1049. Covers building activity in approximately 7,000 urban and rural-nonfarm localities having building-permit systems. Such localities include about 80 percent of the nonfarm population of the country, according to the 1950 Census. Compiled from estimates of construction costs made by prospective builders when applying for permits to build, and value of contracts awarded by the Federal Government. State and local government construction is reported by local officials]

Gas plant	58	66	111	142	181	184
Electric light and power <sup>14</sup>	62	69	113	145	176	173

<sup>3</sup> Includes Alaska and Hawaii. Covers materials either (a) physically incorporated as integral part of a building or (b) normally installed during construction and not removable without seriously impairing building. Excludes consumer durables, as kitchen ranges, refrigerators, etc.

<sup>4</sup> Covers both full- and part-time construction workers through working foreman level, engaged on-site or off-site in actual construction work (including preassembly and precutting operations) who are employed by general contractors and by subcontractors engaged in special trades, such as plumbing, painting, etc. Excludes all non-construction workers employed by these firms.

<sup>5</sup> Based on minimum wage rates agreed upon through collective bargaining; excludes overtime. As of June 1 for 1940; July 1, thereafter.

<sup>6</sup> Covers both building and nonbuilding construction excluding maintenance and repair. Represents a weighted average of various indexes both private and government, used for different types of construction.

<sup>8</sup> Average for 30 cities of 4 types of buildings: Wood-frame, brick-wood frame, brick-steel frame, and reinforced concrete. Covers materials and labor costs in structural portion of buildings but excludes materials and labor prices for plumbing, heating, lighting, sprinklers, and elevators. Reflects employee-benefit costs, and allows for contractors' overhead and profit.

<sup>9</sup> Covers both building and nonbuilding construction. Wages and materials for 12 cities combined in 40-60 ratio. Wages are for hod carriers and common laborers only. Materials weighted: Sand, gravel, crushed stone, cement, common brick, and lumber, 1 each; hollow tile,  $\frac{1}{2}$ ; and structural and reinforcing steel (together)  $\frac{1}{2}$ . Excludes taxes and employee-benefit costs.

<sup>10</sup> Average of 20 cities for types shown. Weights based on surveys of actual building costs and vary with different types of structures. Wage rates used for both common and skilled labor. Reflects payment of sales taxes and social security payroll taxes. Unweighted averages from Boeckh series prepared by Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

<sup>11</sup> Building construction index computed on basis of hypothetical unit of construction requiring 6 bbls. of portland cement, 1,088 M. bd. ft. of 2" x 4" lumber, 2,500 lbs. of structural steel, and 68.38 hours of skilled labor. General construction index based on same materials components combined with 200 hours of common labor. Not adjusted for changes in materials availability, competitive conditions, efficiency of plant and management, productivity, or related factors.

<sup>12</sup> Composite of 36 major cost elements in 3 commercial-type buildings including structural elements and elevators, wiring, plumbing, heating, and ventilating. Job costs include both skilled and unskilled labor, and series reflects employee-benefit costs.

<sup>13</sup> Eastern cities. Based on firm's cost experience with respect to labor rates, materials prices, competitive conditions, efficiency of plant and management, and productivity. Reflects payment of sales taxes and employee-benefit costs.

<sup>14</sup> Based on data covering public utility construction costs (building construction, gas plant construction, and electric light and power construction) for 65 items in 6 geographical regions of the U. S. Job costs include both skilled and common labor. Indexes do not reflect tax payments nor employee-benefit cost. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, has converted these series to a 1947-49 base, and combined the various items into a single index.

<sup>15</sup> As derived by Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census; covers steam production plants only; excludes hydraulic plants.

No. 1058. CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS—INDEXES OF VALUE: 1940 TO 1962

[1947-49=100, 1940-55; 1957=100, beginning 1956. Indexes are derived from monthly figures of construction contracts reported by F. W. Dodge Corporation. Reports covered 37 States and D.C. through 1955, and 48 States and D.C. thereafter. Indexes through 1955 based on 3-month moving average, centered at middle month; indexes beginning 1956 based on monthly data. More detailed description of old index, including seasonal adjustments, obtainable from Division of Research and Statistics, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System]

No. 1063. NEW HOUSING UNITS STARTED, BY TYPE: 1940 TO 1961

[New series includes Alaska and Hawaii. In general, new series is more nearly complete in coverage than old, and is based on a broader definition of housing unit. Also, new series is derived from continuing field measurement of actual housing starts; old series relied on current field measurement only in areas where building permits not required. For detailed description of sources and methods, see Construction Reports, Series C20-11 (Supplement), May 1960. For old series, see also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series N 106-117]

Beginning 1961, based on 1961 revision (Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, 1961, Bureau of the Budget).

No. 1064. MOBILE HOMES AND TRAVEL TRAILERS—MANUFACTURERS SHIPMENTS: 1956 TO 1962

[A mobile home, or housing-type trailer, is a vehicular portable structure built on a chassis and designed to be used without a permanent foundation as a year-round dwelling when connected to utilities. Mobile homes are defined as units over 28 feet long and weighing over 4,500 pounds; travel trailers, as units less than 28 feet long, regardless of weight, or weighing less than 4,500 pounds, regardless of length. Excludes units designed for commercial uses, pickup cabs, folding campers, and amphibious units]

No. 1065. NUMBER AND AVERAGE CONSTRUCTION COST OF NEW PRIVATELY OWNED NONFARM ONE-FAMILY HOUSING UNITS STARTED: 1940 TO 1962

[New series includes Alaska and Hawaii. Average cost of all such housing units started nationally. Data do not represent construction cost of a typical house. These averages are affected by changes in cost of materials and labor, variations in size and design of the houses, type of projects started, differences in construction methods, and other variables. Construction costs cover only labor, materials, and subcontracted work, and that part of the builders' overhead and profit chargeable directly to the construction projects. Cost data based primarily on builders' estimates of construction cost made at the start of construction. For difference between old and new series, see headnote, table 1063]

<sup>1</sup> The unit of enumeration was dwelling unit in 1940 and 1950 and housing unit in 1960; see p. 742 for difference in definition. For 1900 and 1930, count of families represents private families only; for 1910 and 1920, includes small number of quasi-family groups which were counted as families.

<sup>2</sup> Since population in private families was not tabulated separately for all years, population per occupied housing unit (or family) is based on total population (including population in quasi-households). See table 7, pp. 10, 11.

<sup>4</sup> For 1900 to 1920, "Farm" contains a small proportion of urban-farm families in addition to the rural-farm families. For changes in definition of "Farm," see "Farm and nonfarm residence," pp. 1, 2.

No. 1075. CONTRACT AND GROSS MONTHLY RENT OF RENTER-OCCUPIED NONFARM HOUSING UNITS: 1940 TO 1960

[In thousands. Beginning 1960, includes Alaska and Hawaii. Contract monthly rent is the rent at the time of enumeration, as contracted for by the renter, regardless of whether it includes furniture, heating fuel, electricity, cooking fuel, water, or other services sometimes supplied. Gross monthly rent is contract monthly rent plus the reported average monthly cost of utilities (electricity, gas, water) and other fuels (such as coal, oil, kerosene, and wood) if these items were paid for by the renter in addition to contract monthly rent. In 1940 and 1950, if furniture was included in the contract rent, the reported estimated rent of the housing unit without furniture was used for the computation rather than the contract rent]

No. 1078. MORTGAGE STATUS OF NONFARM OWNER-OCCUPIED DWELLING UNITS: 1890 TO 1960

[1960 includes Alaska and Hawaii and relate to 1- to 4-dwelling unit properties. For 1940 and 1950, mortgage statistics are for owner-occupied dwelling units in 1- to 4-dwelling unit structures without business. An owner-occupied dwelling unit was reported as mortgaged if property on which it was located had an indebtedness in form of a mortgage or deed of trust, or if occupants had contract to purchase property. For 1920 and earlier, mortgage data are for owner-occupied units in all types of structures. Although types of units for which mortgage data were reported are not the same for all censuses, differences are not large enough to invalidate comparisons. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1967, series N 190-194]

Manufactures

This section presents measures of the manufacturing segment of the economy and its component inputs and outputs. The input data include figures for establishments; employment and wages; raw materials, fuels, and energy consumed; plant and equipment expenditures; and water use. The output data include figures for value and quantity of production and shipments; and value added by manufacture. Both types of data are shown for manufacturing as a whole, for major product groups, and for specific selected products.

The principal sources of these data are the reports of the Census of Manufactures conducted periodically by the Bureau of the Census; the same agency's Annual Survey of Manufactures; and its Current Industrial Reports series which present monthly, quarterly, or annual data on production, shipments, and stocks for particular commodities. Indexes of industrial production are presented monthly in the Federal Reserve Board's Federal Reserve Bulletin. Reports on current activities of industries, or current movements of individual commodities, are also compiled by such government agencies as Bureau of Labor Statistics, Statistical Reporting Service of the Department of Agriculture, Business and Defense Services Administration, Fish and Wildlife Service, Tariff Commission, and Internal Revenue Service, and by private research or trade associations such as the American Iron and Steel Institute, the National Canners Association, and the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers.

Data on financial operations and intercorporate relations of manufacturing corporations are collected from time to time by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Tariff Commission, and the Federal Trade Commission. Financial statistics for certain manufacturing industries in the form of balance sheets, profit and loss statements, analyses of sales and expenses, lists of subsidiaries, and types and amounts of security issues are summarized and published for the leading corporations that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Tariff Commission publishes commodity surveys which cover economic and competitive aspects of production, distribution, and international trade in selected important industries. Each survey deals with several products which are related because of the raw materials consumed, or because of their competitive uses. The Federal Trade Commission has made several comprehensive studies of individual industries.

Censuses and annual surveys.—The first Census of Manufactures covered the year 1899. Thereafter, a census was taken at 10-year intervals to 1899, with the exception of 1829. It was conducted at 5-year intervals from 1904 through 1919 and at 2-year intervals from 1921 through 1939. It was suspended during the war period until the 1947 Census. A census covering the year 1954 was the first taken under present legislation which provides for a quinquennial Census of Manufactures. The most recent census covered the year 1958.

The Annual Survey of Manufactures, conducted for the first time in 1949, carries forward, for the intercensal years, measures of manufacturing activity covered in detail by the quinquennial Census of Manufactures. It provides statistics on employment, payrolls, value added by manufacture, inventories, and new capital expenditures for industry groups, important individual industries, geographic divisions, States, and large standard metropolitan statistical areas.

The most recent annual survey is based on a sample of about 60,000 of an approximate total of 300,000 manufacturing establishments. It comprises all large plants, which account for approximately two-thirds of total manufacturing employment in the United States, and a representative selection of the more numerous small plants. Government-owned and -operated establishments are excluded.

Establishments and classification.—The 1947, 1954, and 1958 Censuses of Manufactures covered operating manufacturing establishments as defined in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual issued by the Bureau of the Budget. Reports were required from all establishments employing one or more persons at any time during the census year. Each of the establishments tabulated was classified in one of the more than 400 manufacturing industries as defined by the Standard Industrial Classification system. This system defines an industry as a number of establishments producing a single product or a closely related group of products. An establishment is classified in a particular industry if its production of this product or product group exceeds in value its production of any other product group. In a few instances, the industry classification of an establishment is determined not only by its product group but also by the processes employed in making the products.

A revised edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual, which made extensive modifications in some of the industry groupings, was issued in 1957. Final reports of the 1958 Census of Manufactures present data tabulated on the basis of the new classifications and include 1954 Census data converted to the new SIC to effect comparability for the two years. Because of the revisions in the classification system, 1954 and 1958 Census data for some industries and industry groups are not comparable with figures for prior years.

While some establishments produce only the products of the industry in which they are classified, it rarely happens that all the establishments in an industry specialize to that extent. The statistics on employment, payrolls, value added, inventories, and expenditures, therefore, reflect not only the primary activities of the establishments in that industry but also activities of a secondary nature. For this reason the industry statistics usually cannot be directly related to statistics on the total shipments of products primary to the industry.

The 1947, 1954, and 1958 Censuses were conducted on an establishment basis. The term "establishment" signifies a single physical plant site or factory. It is not necessarily identical with the business unit or company, which may consist of one or more establishments. A company operating establishments at more than one location is required to submit a separate report for each location. An establishment engaged in distinctly different lines of activity and maintaining separate payroll and inventory records is also required to submit separate reports.

The basic statistical measures of manufacturing activity, such as employment, payrolls, value added, etc., are defined in essentially the same way for the annual surveys as for the census of manufactures. Consequently, these series may be considered to be comparable, except for the changes brought about by the 1957 revisions in the industry classification system noted above. However, beginning with 1949, average employment was calculated from the figures reported for the pay periods ending nearest the fifteenth of March, May, August, and November, whereas for 1947 such averages were based on 12 monthly employment figures. The 1954 figures are an average of reported employment totals for the four specified months, except for highly seasonal industries, where a 12-month average was obtained. For 1958, averages of production workers for the four specified months plus the March figure for "all other employees" were used for all industries. Further, 1947 figures exclude data for central administrative offices and auxiliary establishments of manufacturing concerns, which are included in the statistics for later years.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series P 1-8") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

Technical Note—Annual Survey of Manufactures

The annual survey estimates vary from the totals that would have been obtained from a complete canvass of all manufacturing establishments. The relative magnitude of this sampling variation is given in the table column captioned "Standard error." The standard error should be interpreted to mean that the sample estimates will differ from complete canvass totals by less than: (1) The percentage shown in approximately 2 cases out of 3; (2) twice the percentage shown in approximately 19 cases out of 20; and (3) three times the percentage shown in almost every case. It should be noted that standard errors are shown only for selected items. The standard errors of other measures are usually of the same general magnitude.

In making any study of the trend, it is important to take account of the effect of the sampling variation on the apparent increase or decrease shown between years. In addition to sampling errors, individual figures may be subject to biases arising from undetected response or procedural errors which are not reflected in the "standard errors." Figures are normally withheld from publication in the original source volumes if (1) the standard error of the estimate exceeds 15 percent, or (2) survey estimates are inconsistent with other Census series and related data. Any estimate which can be derived by subtraction of one published figure from another may have a standard error considerably in excess of 15 percent.

<sup>1</sup> Includes data for employees of manufacturing establishments engaged in distribution and construction work. Extent to which data for such employees were included in figures for earlier years is not known. Beginning 1950, includes administrative offices, and units auxiliary to manufacturing.

<sup>2</sup> Data for all industries in 1950-1953 and 1955-1957, and for most industries in 1954, are based on pay periods ending nearest 15th of Mar., May, Aug., and Nov. For 1947, and industries of a seasonal type in 1954, data represent average of 12 monthly figures.

<sup>3</sup> Value of shipments less cost of materials, supplies, fuels, electric energy, and contract work. (Differs from adjusted value in that value added in merchandising is omitted.)

<sup>1</sup> Value of production. The formula for computing adjusted value added by manufacture was modified to exclude any change in finished products inventories between beginning and end of year.

<sup>4</sup> Manufacturing concerns often reported separately for central offices or auxiliaries which serve the manufacturing establishments of a company, rather than the general public. Separate reports were obtained from such units if at a different location or if they serviced more than one establishment.

<sup>2</sup> Includes private pension plans; life, health, and accident insurance; stock purchase plans; thrift or savings plans; supplemental unemployment compensation plans; and deferred profit sharing plans. Excludes cost of in-plant medical services; cost of free parking lots; discounts on employee purchases; cost of uniforms and other work clothing supplied to employees; and similar expenditures.

<sup>3</sup> Comprises all types of insurance on structures, equipment, inventories, liability, theft, window breakage, etc. Excludes insurance protection for employees and charges for company operated self-insurance funds.

<sup>4</sup> Net value of assets cannot be precisely derived from the value and depreciation data appearing here because some of the accumulated depreciation through the end of 1956 may have been against assets which were sold, dismantled, repaired, etc., before the end of 1957 and, therefore, not included in the gross assets figure.

<sup>5</sup> Operating manufacturing establishments only; data not available for central admin-istrative offices and auxiliaries which service manufacturing establishments.

<sup>1</sup> For 1954, data represent average of all employees for payroll period ending nearest 15th of March, May, August, and November except that, for several industries, the total of all 12 months was used. For 1958, data represent average number of production workers for payroll period ending nearest 15th of March, May, August, and November plus all other employees for period ending March 15; no adjustment made for seasonality.

No. 1099. PERCENT OF TOTAL SHIPMENTS MADE BY LARGE MANUFACTURING COMPANIES, SELECTED INDUSTRIES: 1954 AND 1958

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. First 45 industries as determined by value of shipments in 1958. Industry codes and descriptions are based on standard industrial classification (SIC) system used through 1947 and differ from those appearing in the 1953 Census of Manufactures Reports, Series MC-20 through MC-39. For a description of the industries, see the appropriate 1954 Census of Manufactures Industry Report or the 1958 Census of Manufactures Preliminary Reports, Series MC(P)-20 through MC(P)-39. Determination of company affiliation of establishments is based on Census reports and publicly available records. Value of shipments totals for establishments have been summarized into company totals in each manufacturing industry. "Largest" companies are determined by each company's value of shipments in the specified industry]

<sup>1</sup> Comprises for all manufacturing establishments classified in an industry (a) value of products "primary" to the industry, (b) value of "secondary" products, which are primary to other industries, and (c) "miscellaneous receipts" such as those for contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap and salable refuse, repair, etc. Excludes sales of products bought and resold in same condition. 1954 figures for some industries reflect minor revisions of previously published data.

<sup>2</sup> Measures extent to which establishments classified in an industry "specialize" in making products regarded as primary to the industry. That is, value of shipments of primary products of establishments in the industry is expressed as a ratio of total shipments of all products made by these establishments (excluding "miscellaneous receipts," such as those for contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap and salable refuse, repair, etc.). 1954 ratios for some industries reflect minor revisions of previously published data.

<sup>3</sup> Measures extent to which all shipments of primary products of an industry are made by establishments classified in the industry, as distinguished from secondary producers elsewhere. That is, value of shipments of primary products made by establishments classified in the industry is expressed as a ratio of total shipments of primary products made by all producers, both in and out of the specified industry. 1954 ratios for some industries reflect minor revisions of previously published data.

<sup>4</sup> Value added by manufacture used as basis for computing percentages because value of shipments data (used for ranking) contain substantial and unmeasurable amount of duplication.

<sup>6</sup> Based on combined figures for Industry 3311, Blast Furnaces; Industry 3312, Steelworks and Rolling Mills; Industry 2331, Beehive Coke Ovens; and Industry 2932, Byproduct Coke Ovens. <sup>7</sup> Not available.

<sup>8</sup> Comparable data not available. In 1954 any establishment manufacturing at least 1 complete aircraft was classified in Industry 3721, Aircraft. In 1958 an establishment manufacturing complete aircraft was classified in Industry 3721 if its value of work done on aircraft exceeded its value of shipments of any other single industry's products.

<sup>9</sup> Approximately 50 small companies were misclassified into Industry 3721, Aircraft, because of incomplete reporting of product information. However, this misclassification had only an insignificant effect on value added, on employment, and on percentages accounted for by the 4, 8, and 20 largest companies.

<sup>10</sup> In 1954, this industry was composed of 2 industries, 2026, Fluid Milk (only), and 2027, Fluid Milk and Other Products. 1954 figures on value of shipments and on percentages accounted for by the 4 and 8 largest companies have been recalculated on a basis comparable to 1958.

<sup>11</sup> In the 1958 Census integrated pulp and paper companies were given the option of reporting their pulp and paper (or board) operations on a combined basis when both were conducted at a single physical location. Most integrated companies exercised this option, but a few with departmental accounting chose to report separately for the pulp mill and paper (or board) mill, as they were required to do in 1954. The only other pulp mills separately reported in the 1958 Census were (1) those exclusively selling their pulp on the market (i.e., not associated or affiliated with a paper and board mill), and (2) those pulp mills affiliated or associated with paper or board mills but operated at a different physical location. The change had little effect on comparability of value of shipments for the industry.

<sup>12</sup> Value of production shown rather than value of shipments. Includes value of primary and secondary products made and miscellaneous receipts such as receipts for contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap, and other salable refuse. <sup>13</sup> Includes Government-owned privately operating plants.

<sup>14</sup> Comparable data not available. Establishments primarily engaged in producing factory rebuilt and retreated tires were included in this industry in 1954 but included in the service trades in 1958.

<sup>15</sup> A number of small establishments were misclassified into Industry 3411. This misclassification, however, has no appreciable effect on the total value of shipments or on the percentages accounted for by the largest companies. <sup>16</sup> Excluded from 1954 Census.

<sup>1</sup> Through 1940, represents withdrawals of all products for denaturation, that is, domestic ethyl alcohol, spirits produced by registered distilleries (redesignated upon receipt at denaturing plants as alcohol), and rum. Beginning 1945, represents all products (except rum) used for denaturation, that is, domestic ethyl alcohol, imported ethyl alcohol, and spirits. Rum is included for 1935 and 1940 because denatured rum is included with specially denatured alcohol for those years. <sup>2</sup> Prior to 1945 includes denatured rum.

<sup>2</sup> Prior to 1960, net production obtained by deducting total products used in redistillation from gross production of neutral product (spirits); thereafter, each kind of distilled spirits used in redistillation was deducted from gross production of same kind.

<sup>3</sup> A tax gallon for spirits of 100 proof or over is equivalent to the proof gallon. For spirits of less than 100 proof the tax gallon is equivalent to the wine gallon.

<sup>6</sup> Prior to 1960, represents registered distilleries, fruit distilleries, and industrial alcohol plants. In some instances a plant was operated at different times in more than 1 of these categories and was counted in each.

<sup>7</sup> Prior to 1960, represents internal revenue bonded warehouses and industrial alcohol bonded warehouses.

<sup>8</sup> Production represents total amount removed from fermenters, including distilling material (substandard wines produced with excessive water or residue materials). In 1961, 324,325,116 gallons of distilling materials were produced.

<sup>2</sup> Prior to 1950, represents sum of greatest number of cotton spindles reported by each mill as active at any time during year, regardless of length of time operated; thereafter, comprises cotton-system spindles active last day of year, regardless of type of fiber spun. On July 31, 1961, there were 17,273,000 spindles active on cotton, 1,087,000 on synthetics, 626,000 on other fibers and blends, and 617,000 idle.

<sup>3</sup> Actual weight. Imports for consumption. Prior to 1942, carpet wool includes only Donskoi, Smyrna, East Indian, Chinese, and similar wools without merino or English blood, and apparel wool includes all other wools; thereafter, carpet wool includes all duty-free wool and apparel wool includes all dutiable wool.

<sup>4</sup> For 1942-1946, excludes a total of 508 million pounds of duty-free wool imported and stored in this country largely for the British Government, and later re-exported; not available to domestic mills.

No. 1129. RUBBER (NATURAL, RECLAIMED, AND SYNTHETIC)—NEW SUPPLY, DISTRIBUTION, AND STOCKS: 1945 TO 1961

(In tons of 2,240 pounds. Excludes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, except as noted. Natural rubber refers to dry weights of all types, including liquid latex, guayule, etc. Synthetic comprises SBR (including weight of oil content, beginning 1956) Neoprene, butyl, and butadiene-acrylonitrile, all years; beginning 1961, also includes polyisobutylene, chlorosulfonated polyethylene, and polysulfide, silicone, acrylic, stereo, and fluoro-carbon rubbers. Reclaimed comprises both natural and synthetic rubber reclaims]

<sup>8</sup> Beginning 1955, excludes quantities produced and consumed in manufacture of methanol and ammonia, produced by ammonia dissociation process, or disposed of as waste, e.g., vented, used as fuel, etc.

<sup>12</sup> Prior to 1960, includes amounts produced and consumed in making meta-ortho and sesquisulfates; beginning 1960, excludes these amounts.

No. 1144. IRON AND STEEL—AGGREGATE EXPORTS OF SELECTED ITEMS: 1900 TO 1961

[Quantities in thousands of short tons; values in thousands of dollars. Includes exports of Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico to foreign countries. Includes ferromanganese. Beginning 1925, excludes steam and hot water heating boilers and radiators. Value figures through 1920 exclude, and those beginning 1925 include, data for small items for which quantity figures are not available. Includes shipments under foreign aid programs; beginning 1945 also includes civilian supply shipments. See table 1146 for revised list of articles included, effective 1952]

FIG. XLIII. RETAIL AND WHOLESALE TRADE—SALES OF DURABLE AND NONDURABLE GOODS ESTABLISHMENTS: 1951 TO 1961

[See tables 1162 and 1174]

Source: Chart prepared by Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census. Data are from Department of Commerce, Office of Business Economics and Bureau of the Census.

Section 30

Distribution and Services

This section presents statistics relating to retail, wholesale, and service trades. The data are shown for the distribution trades, classified by kind of business, and for the different categories of services (personal, business, repair, amusement, hotel, etc.). They cover sales or receipts, establishments, employees, payrolls, proprietors, and other items. Several tables on advertising expenditures are also included.

The principal sources of these data are the reports of the Census of Business and of annual and monthly surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census. Other important government sources devoted to particular aspects of the distribution and service trades are the monthly Federal Reserve Bulletin (department store data) issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and the monthly Survey of Current Business (retail sales, sales and inventories of wholesalers, consumer expenditures for services, etc.) issued by the Office of Business Economics. Financial data for tax-filing and securities-listed corporations engaged in retail, wholesale, or service trades appear in the annual Statistics of Income published by the Internal Revenue Service and are also available from the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Federal Trade Commission, in the course of its investigations, collects operating statistics on firms and chains in various kinds of business.

Censuses and current surveys.—Censuses of Business have been taken at intervals since 1929. The 1954 census was the first taken under present legislation, which provides for a quinquennial Census of Business. The latest census covers the year 1958.

Current sample surveys of the Bureau of the Census are conducted with varying scope for the retail and wholesale trades. The Bureau compiles monthly reports of sales and end-of-month accounts receivable of all retail stores and of Group II retail stores (i.e., stores of organizations operating 11 or more retail stores), United States, by kind of business; monthly sales of Group I retail stores (i.e., stores of organizations operating 1 to 10 stores), Census regions, by kind of business; and percentage changes from previous month in sales, all kinds of business combined, Group I stores, selected metropolitan areas. These data appear in the Monthly Retail Trade Report. Annual figures on sales, inventories, and receivables, classified by kind of business, are presented in the Annual Retail Trade Report.

Statistics from the Bureau's wholesale trade survey, which is conducted monthly, include merchant wholesaler's sales and inventories, and stock sales ratios, by kind of business, for the United States, as well as sales and inventory trends by kind of business and by geographic divisions. These data, based on reports submitted by a sample of firms representing merchant wholesalers in all kinds of businesses, appear in the Monthly Wholesale Trade Report. They are used in the monthly estimates of aggregate sales and inventories of all wholesalers, as prepared by the Office of Business Economics and published in the Survey of Current Business.

The Bureau of the Census also compiles and issues current information on distributor stocks of various canned foods (see table 1105) and on inventories of green coffee held and green coffee roasted by roasters, importers, and dealers.

Estimates obtained from the annual and monthly surveys are based on sample data; exact agreement is not expected with the results that would be obtained from a complete census of all establishments. Measures of the sampling variability are shown in the source reports cited; these measures do not include biases which might arise from differences of response or nonreporting.

Establishments and coverage.—The business establishments covered in the fields included in the Census of Business may be generally described as follows:

Retail trade.—Places of business primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal, household, or farm consumption;

Wholesale trade.—Establishments primarily engaged in selling goods to dealers and distributors for resale or to purchasers who buy for business uses; and Service.—Establishments engaged primarily in the sale of services as contrasted with the sale of merchandise.

Certain types of businesses, broadly defined, generally are not included in the Census of Business. Outstanding in this group are the business activities of doctors, lawyers, dentists, and others performing a professional or scientific service; educational institutions; religious or charitable institutions; hospitals and infirmaries; public utilities; and government-operated enterprises.

Data on retail and service trades from the 1954 and 1958 censuses exclude establishments with no paid employment which had receipts of less than $2,500 and $1,000 for retail trade and service trades, respectively. Wholesale trade establishments with no paid employment were excluded.

Advertising.—Statistics shown here on advertising expenditures are compiled by private organizations. McCann-Erickson, Inc., which compiles certain of the data shown on advertising expenditures, defines national advertising as the advertising done for companies whose products are distributed nationally, and for which national media rates are paid. Local advertising is defined as advertising done for companies which market their products locally and may pay special "local" media rates. Monthly figures are published regularly in Printers' Ink and also in the Survey of Current Business.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series T 1-11") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

Section 31

Foreign Commerce and Aid

This section presents measures of the flow of goods, precious metals, services, and funds between the United States and other countries. These measures appear in summary in the balance of payments and in detail as dollar values of imports and exports of merchandise or commodities classified by countries of their origin or destination. Related aspects also shown are international investments, mutual security and other foreign aid programs, and import duties.

The Office of Business Economics compiles and publishes current figures on the U.S. balance of payments and international investment position in its monthly Survey of Current Business, and on total foreign aid by the Federal Government in its quarterly Foreign Grants and Credits by the United States Government. Figures for earlier periods are presented in Balance of Payments—Statistical Supplement, 1958. (A revised and updated edition will be issued in 1962.) Statistics for the foreign aid programs are compiled by the Agency for International Development (formerly the International Cooperation Administration), and appear in its quarterly Operations Report.

The principal sources of import and export data are publications of the Bureau of the Census. The Quarterly Summary of Foreign Commerce of the United States presents cumulative quarterly data in each issue (annual data in the issue for the last quarter of each year). For a complete list of this Bureau's monthly, quarterly, and annual reports in this field, consult its Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications. In addition, the Treasury Department's Annual Report of the Secretary is a helpful source for information concerning import duties.

International accounts and foreign aid.—The balance of payments table shows for given time periods the transfer of goods, services, grants, and financial assets and liabilities between the United States and the rest of the world or between the United States and a specific country or area.

The international investment position table presents for specific dates the value of U.S. investments abroad and of foreign investments in the United States. The movement of foreign and U.S. capital as presented in the balance of payments is not the only factor affecting the total value of foreign investments. Among the other factors are: Changes in the valuation of assets or liabilities, including securities; defaults; expropriations; write-offs; and reinvested earnings of subsidiaries operating abroad and of foreign subsidiaries operating in the United States.

Foreign assistance is divided into three major categories—grants (military supplies and services, and other grants), credits, and other assistance (through net accumulation of foreign currency claims from the sale of agricultural commodities). The U.S. Government's capital investments in the international financial institutions constitute an additional measure taken by the Government to promote foreign economic recovery, development, and financial stability.

Grants are transfers for which no payment is expected (other than a limited percentage of the foreign currency "counterpart" funds generated by the grant), or which at most involve an obligation on the part of the receiver to extend aid to the United States or other countries to achieve a common objective. Credits are loan disbursements or transfers under other agreements which give rise to specific obligations to repay, over a period of years, usually with interest. In some instances assistance has been given with the understanding that a decision as to repayment will be made at a later date; such assistance is included in grants. At such time as an agreement is reached for repayment over a period of years, a credit is established. Such credits cannot, as a rule, be deducted from specific grants recorded in previous periods; an adjustment for grants converted into credits is made at the time of agreement. All known returns to the U.S. Government stemming from grants and credits (reverse grants, returns of grants, and payments of principal) are taken into account in net grants and net credits, but no allowance is made for interest or commissions. Other assistance represents the transfer of U.S. farm products in exchange for foreign currencies, less the Government's disbursements of the currencies as grants, credits, or for purchases. The net acquisition of currencies represents net transfers of resources to foreign countries under the agricultural programs, in addition to those classified as grants or credits.

Figures as published in Foreign Grants and Credits by the United States Government are not identical with figures shown for Government unilateral transfers and capital in the balance of payments, mainly because of differences in treatment of particular items by the two sets of accounts. Such items include: Contributions to the multilateral construction program of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; Government investments in certain productive enterprises abroad; Government receipts on funded claims; and net changes in foreign currency holdings resulting from transactions other than those under the farm products disposal program, such as by collection of principal and interest.

The basic instrument for extending military aid to friendly nations has been the Mutual Defense Assistance Program authorized by the Congress in 1949. Prior to 1952, economic and technical aid was authorized by the Congress in the Foreign Assistance Act of 1948, the 1950 Act for International Development, and other legislation which set up programs for specific countries (e.g., Korea, Nationalist Government of China, etc.). In 1952, these economic, technical, and military aid programs were combined under the Mutual Security Act. Figures on mutual security program activity included in Foreign Grants and Credits differ from similar data published by the Agency for International Development or its immediate predecessors, the International Cooperation Administration and the Development Loan Fund (now combined in the AID), due largely to differences in method of reporting and in treatment of particular items.

Foreign trade.—Export data are compiled by the Bureau of the Census from Shippers' Export Declarations which exporters are required to file with Collectors of Customs for each shipment leaving the United States. Export data include shipments made after World War II under the Department of the Army Civilian Supply Program only for 1948 and subsequent years. In addition, export data include United States exports under the Lend-Lease, United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, International Cooperation Administration, Mutual Defense Assistance, and other mutual security programs. Shipments to United States Armed Forces for their own use are not included in export statistics for any period.

Export values are based on the selling price (or on the cost, if not sold) of the commodity shipped and include inland freight, insurance, and other charges to place of export. Transportation and other costs beyond the United States port of exportation are excluded. The country of destination is defined as the country of ultimate destination or country where the merchandise is to be consumed, further processed, or manufactured. In the event the exporter does not have definite information as to the country of ultimate destination for a shipment, it is credited (for statistical purposes) to the country to which it is consigned.

Certain export commodity classifications were grouped for security reasons into special categories beginning with May 1949, with periodic amendments to include additional commodities. With the adoption of new security regulations, effective July 1950, the publication of the country of destination and Customs District detail for the special category commodities and groups was discontinued. Data for special category commodities are included, however, in all total export statistics.

Shipments individually valued at less than $100 are not classified by commodity, but are reported in a single separate category. Effective with the statistics for July 1953 and continuing through December 1955, data for export shipments individually valued from $100 to $499 (about 4 to 6 percent of the total export value) were estimated on the basis of a 10-percent sample. From January through June 1956, the 10-percent sample was applied to shipments individually valued from $100 to $999 but, effective July 1956, the level was reduced to the previous level of $499. Beginning January 1960, the sample ratio of 10 percent was increased to a 50-percent sample for all countries except Canada. Unless otherwise noted, the margin of error in individual export totals due to sampling is probably less than 5 percent.

Import data are compiled by the Bureau of the Census from import entries (various Customs forms) which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs for each shipment arriving. Import values are, in general, based on market or selling price and are f.o.b. the exporting country. Values do not include import duties. The country of origin is defined as the country in which the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. If the importer cannot obtain information as to the country of origin, the merchandise is credited (for statistical purposes) to the country of shipment.

Imports are classified either as general imports or imports for consumption. General imports represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for in-transit shipments), that is, merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into a bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. Imports for consumption comprise merchandise entered into U.S. consumption channels, that is, merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into a bonded manufacturing warehouse (other than smelting or refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from a bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in a bonded smelting warehouse, withdrawn for consumption or for reexport.

Beginning 1954, estimates of imports valued at $250 or less (about 1 percent of total import value) are based on a 5-percent sample; and beginning 1958, estimates of imports valued under $100 reported on formal consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (limited to $250) are based on a 1-percent sample. These estimated import values are included in the over-all totals and are distributed in the proper country totals but are excluded from detailed commodity statistics. For 1954-1957, the estimated values are also distributed in the appropriate commodity group, economic class, and district totals; beginning 1958, the estimates are summarized and arbitrarily included in the totals for the "miscellaneous" commodity group and the "finished manufactures" economic class. As a result of the change in the sampling procedure in 1958, the import values for 1958 and subsequent years for customs districts, commodity groups (except miscellaneous), and economic classes (except finished manufactures) are probably understated by no more than 5 percent; figures for "miscellaneous" commodity group are probably overstated by no more than from 10 to 15 percent, and for "finished manufactures" by no more than about 1 percent.

Details concerning the sampling procedures appear in the Quarterly Summary of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States; Report FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption; and Report FT 410, United States Exports of Domestic and Foreign Merchandise.

Except as noted, the values stated are in United States dollars without reference to changes in the gold content of the dollar.

Area coverage.—The geographic area covered by these statistics, except as noted, is the United States customs area, which includes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, and for 1935 through 1939, the Virgin Islands. For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series U 168-192") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 1201. MAJOR U.S. GOVERNMENT FOREIGN ASSISTANCE, BY TYPE: 1945 TO 1961

[In millions of dollars. For totals by program and country, see tables 1203 and 1204. Grants and credits are generally goods delivered or shipped by, services rendered by, or funds disbursed by U.S. Government to or for account of a foreign government or other foreign entity. "Reverse grants and returns" and "Principal collections" are comprised of goods, services, and funds received by U.S. Government. "Assistance through net accumulation of foreign currency claims" represents transfer of U.S. farm products in exchange for foreign currencies, less the Government's disbursements of the currencies as grants, credits, or for purchases. "Funds" includes foreign currency which, with goods and services, is measured in dollar equivalents]

<sup>2</sup> Net new grants have not been adjusted for settlements for postwar relief and other grants under agreements. Net new credits exclude prior grants converted into credits, as follows: July 1945-Dec. 1954, $2,256 million; 1956, $1 million. Repayments on these settlements are included in net new credits. Technically, prior grants recorded into credits amounting to $273 million are so recorded for convenience, as settlements are still to be reached with the governments in question.

<sup>5</sup> These "loans" are essentially transfers on an indeterminate basis, generally requiring only the return of the identical item, if available. In essence, this was the requirement pertaining to wartime lend-lease transfers of watercraft, which were included as grant transfers in these data.

<sup>9</sup> Outstanding credits on Dec. 31, 1961, totaled $13,575,000,000 representing net credits extended since organization of Export-Import Bank, Feb. 12, 1934, less chargeoffs, and net adjustments due to exchange rates ($22,000,000), and excluding World War I debts.

<sup>11</sup> Equivalent value of currencies still available to be used, including $2,000,000 advanced from foreign governments and after loss by exchange rate fluctuations ($401,000,000), was $2,556,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1961.

No. 1206. MUTUAL SECURITY PROGRAM—DEVELOPMENT LOAN FUND: LOANS AUTHORIZED, SIGNED, AND EXPENDED, BY REGION AND COUNTRY: 1958 TO 1961

[In thousands of dollars. For years ending June 30. The Development Loan Fund was established by Congress in 1957 and incorporated as an independent agency in 1958, subject to the foreign policy guidance of the Secretary of State, to provide financing for economic development in the less-developed countries of the world. "Loans authorized" represents actions by the DLF Board of Directors to establish loans subject to acceptance of terms and conditions by borrowers; funds are set aside at time of authorization. Following acceptance, individual loan agreements are negotiated, and when signed by borrowers and the DLF, recorded as formal obligations]

<sup>1</sup> Effective Jan. 1950, exports of certain commodities were grouped into Special Categories for security reasons. Data for 1957 and subsequent years reflect changes made in list of Special Category commodities during 1957. Also, data for all periods reflect the declassification during 1960 of certain aviation fuels previously classified as Special Category commodities.

<sup>2</sup> 1947-1959, data from Bureau of Customs and represent unrevised figures based on reports at time of entry.

No. 1215. EXPORTS OF U.S. MERCHANDISE AND IMPORTS—INDEXES OF QUANTITY, UNIT PRICE, AND TOTAL VALUE: 1946 TO 1961

[1957-59 average=100. For area coverage, see text p. 857. Quantity and unit price indexes were constructed on a preceding year base and chained into the series shown below. The calculations were made in accordance with Fisher's "ideal formula," using both the weights of the given year and those of the preceding (or base) year. Commodities not directly entering the calculations were taken into account in the weighting, within the several economic classes of merchandise, on the basis of certain assumptions regarding similarity of their price movements to price changes of selected commodities specifically covered. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series U 21-44, for related but not comparable data]

No. 1216. TOTAL EMPLOYMENT AND EMPLOYMENT ATTRIBUTABLE TO EXPORTS, BY INDUSTRY GROUP: 1960

[In thousands, except percentages. Includes Alaska and Hawaii. Value of exports converted to employment in the private economy by (1) assigning commodity exports to the producing industry, (2) deriving indirect output required for these exports from each of the export supporting industries, and (3) converting direct and indirect output requirements into employment by using output per employee ratios. Export statistics used in deriving direct employment estimates were adjusted to a domestic U.S. basis by including exports to Puerto Rico and excluding exports from Puerto Rico to foreign countries. Employment estimates provide general indicators rather than precise figures. For description of methods and sources used in making estimates, see source.]

<sup>1</sup> Farm employment estimates for 1960 from Farm Labor, Department of Agriculture, and Census of Agriculture, Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census; manufacturing employment estimates from 1959 Survey of Manufactures, Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census; employment for remaining industry groups based on 1960 employment estimates by the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, contained in Employment and Earnings, November 1961.

<sup>2</sup> Covers employment in producing, transporting, and marketing goods in form in which exported. Employment required for transportation of goods is included in transportation industry; for marketing, in trade industry.

<sup>3</sup> Covers employment in supporting industries which produce, transport, and market materials, parts, components, etc., used to make the products which are exported.

<sup>4</sup> Covers all nonfarm wage and salary employment (excluding government) and total employment on farms, including farm operators, family workers, and employees. May exceed actual number of persons employed because of dual job-holding.

<sup>5</sup> Includes exports of major military end items such as military vehicles, aircraft, ships, and ordnance, including small arms and ammunition. Of the total military direct employment of 65.9 thousand workers, about 39.6 are in transportation equipment industry group and 26.3 in ordnance and miscellaneous manufacturing.

<sup>7</sup> Indirect employment required to produce major military exports was estimated as an overall figure and could not be distributed to the individual industry groups. For this reason, the indirect employment shown refers to indirect employment in the industries supplying materials, parts, components, etc., to the military goods industries; and estimates of indirect employment in each of the supporting industries and the share of industry employment attributable to exports are understated.

<sup>8</sup> Covers utilities, communications, all business services, forestry, fisheries, agricultural services, and contract construction.

<sup>9</sup> Employment required to replace plant and equipment used up in the course of producing, transporting, and marketing the goods exported from the United States was estimated as an overall total and could not be distributed to individual industry groups. Because employment could not be distributed to machinery and construction industries, and supporting industries, estimates of indirect employment in each of these industries are understated.

country of destination, for security reasons. Therefore, data in this table do not represent total exports to the respective countries and areas, but total exports less Special Category commodities. See July 1955, June, August, and December 1957, and April 1958 issues of commodities.

<sup>2</sup> Sampling error is not greater than 5 to 10 percent.<sup>3</sup> Sampling error is not greater than 15 to 20 percent.<sup>4</sup> Sampling error is not greater than 10 to 15 percent.<sup>5</sup> Sampling error is not greater than 2 to 5 percent.<sup>6</sup> Less than $500.<sup>7</sup> Time Span included with France prior to July 1958; with West Germany thereafter.<sup>8</sup> Country designations established January 1952; data for 1950 represent combined trade with East and West Germany.

NO. 1222. IMPORTS OF MERCHANDISE, FREE AND DUTIABLE, AND PERCENT FREE, BY ECONOMIC CLASSES: 1921 TO 1961

In thousands of dollars. For basis of dollar values and for area coverage, see text, p. 857. Data are "general imports" through 1933; "imports for consumption" thereafter. Percentage free in general imports is normally slightly lower than in imports for consumption because more dutiable general imports than free general imports are reported as reexported. Moreover, in the period 1922-1933, there is an understatement of free goods in general imports because for 1922 to 1933, carpet wool used for making carpets, and for 1922 to 1928, wheat imported for milling in bond for exports were reported as dutiable when entered, although no duty was ultimately paid on these products.]

Outlying Areas Under the Jurisdiction of the United States

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the principal possessions of the United States (Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa), and the Canal Zone. Population estimates of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands are also presented.

Primary sources of these data are the decennial censuses of population, housing, and agriculture, and the quinquennial censuses of business and manufactures conducted by the Bureau of the Census; the annual Vital Statistics of the United States issued by the Public Health Service; the Biennial Survey of Education published by the Office of Education; and the Quarterly Summary of Foreign Commerce of the United States issued by the Bureau of the Census. Additional information appears in the Minerals Yearbook of the Bureau of Mines.

Jurisdiction.—The circumstances under which the United States gained jurisdiction over these areas are as follows:

The islands of Puerto Rico and Guam, surrendered by Spain to the United States in October 1898, were ceded to the United States by the Treaty of Paris, signed December 10, 1898, and ratified in 1899. Puerto Rico acquired the status of a commonwealth on July 25, 1952.

The Virgin Islands, formerly known as the Danish West Indies, were purchased by the United States from Denmark in 1917.

American Samoa was acquired by the United States in accordance with a convention between the United States, Great Britain, and Germany, signed December 2, 1899, and ratified February 16, 1900.

The use, occupation, and control of the Canal Zone were granted to the United States under the terms of a treaty with the Republic of Panama, signed November 18, 1903, and ratified in 1904.

The Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, comprised of 96 atolls and island units formerly under Japanese mandate, was placed under the United Nations trusteeship system by an agreement approved by the Security Council on April 27, 1947, and by the United States on July 18, 1947.

For a brief summary of the territorial development of the United States, see tables 4 and 218 in sections 1 and 6, respectively.

Censuses.—Because of differences in the population and housing characteristics and the varieties of agricultural products among the outlying areas, the presentation of census data is not uniform for all areas. However, the tables in this section give, as nearly as possible, comparable data for the areas. The 1960 Census of Population covered all of the places listed above except the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands; the 1959 Census of Agriculture covered all except the Canal Zone and the Trust Territory; and the 1960 Census of Housing covered only Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands. Separate Censuses of Business and Manufactures were conducted in Puerto Rico for 1954 and 1958.

For definition and explanation of terms used; see section 1, Population; section 23, Agriculture—Farms, Land, and Finances; section 24, Agriculture—Production, Marketing, and Trade; section 28, Construction and Housing; section 29, Manufactures; and section 30, Distribution and Services.

Commerce.—Figures for trade with foreign countries shown here represent exports and imports through the respective customs districts and do not necessarily represent exports of commodities originating within the designated area, nor imports for direct consumption within the area.

Information in other sections.—In addition to the specialized statistics presented in this section, other data are included as integral parts of many tables showing distribution by States in various sections of the Abstract.

Section 33

Comparative International Statistics

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the various individual nations and on finances of international agencies.

The principal source for the data presented in this section is the United Nations Statistical Yearbook. Statistics of the individual nations may be found primarily in official publications or compendia, generally in the form of yearbooks, issued by most of the nations at various intervals in their own national languages, expressed in their own or customary units of measure. For handier reference, especially for international comparisons, the Statistical Office of the United Nations compiles and issues a number of international summary publications, generally in English and French. Among these are the Statistical Yearbook, the Demographic Yearbook, Population and Vital Statistics Reports (quarterly), the Monthly Bulletin of Statistics, and, in 1960, Patterns of Industrial Growth, 1938-1958. The Statistical Office of the United Nations also publishes a Yearbook of International Trade Statistics, and the Yearbook of National Accounts Statistics. For foreign agricultural and labor statistics, the outstanding sources are the Yearbook of Food and Agricultural Statistics issued by the Food and Agriculture Organization, and the Yearbook of Labour Statistics, issued by the International Labour Office; both are specialized agencies of the United Nations. These publications usually present data covering an extensive period of time, frequently up to 20 years. The International Population Statistics Reports, Series P-90 and P-91, issued by the Bureau of the Census, also present population figures for many foreign countries.

Statistical coverage.—Problems of space and availability of data limit the number of countries and the extent of statistical coverage shown here. The list of countries included is based on the membership rosters of the United Nations and of the larger specialized agencies of the United Nations (see table 1259). In a few instances, such member countries were omitted because of an almost complete lack of data.

Statistics are shown for a standardized list of countries. No attempt was made to alter the list according to the relative standing or significance of each country with respect to each specific subject item shown. In consequence, there may be instances, with respect to certain items shown, in which one or more of the countries omitted from the list are more important, statistically, than some of the countries included. Cases of this kind are believed to be infrequent.

The items selected for presentation here are believed to be among those most significant. However, certain important items, such as those on national income, are omitted because of the inability to convert the available statistics, stated in terms of the national currencies, to meaningful consistency in United States measures. Finally, items for which figures are available for a large number of countries were favored over items for which information is scanty, in order to broaden the scope of comparison as much as possible.

OEEC and EEC.—The Organisation for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC), a regional grouping of Western European countries established in 1948 for the purpose of harmonizing national economic policies and conditions, was succeeded on September 30, 1961, by the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD).

The OECD consists of the member nations of the former OEEC—Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and the United Kingdom—and also Canada and the United States.

The European Economic Community (EEC), or "Common Market," consisting of Belgium, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Italy, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands, was formed in 1958 for the purpose of promoting European economic integration. It is based on agreement among the member nations to stimulate their economic growth, primarily through the gradual elimination of trade barriers among themselves, the establishment of a common external tariff, the coordination of monetary, fiscal, and agricultural policies, and the removal of restrictions on movement of services, labor, capital and business enterprises within the community.

Quality and comparability of the data.—The quality and the comparability of the data presented here are affected by a number of factors:

(1) The year for which data are presented may not be the same for various subjects for a particular country, or for a given subject for different countries, though the data shown are the most recent available. All such variations have been noted (see table headnotes). In most instances, the data shown are for calendar years. In a number of cases, however, the 12-month totals shown do not correspond with the calendar year. Space limitations made it impracticable to present the data for a series of years except for the figures on population, agriculture, and gold and foreign exchange holdings.

(2) The bases, methods of estimating, methods of data collection, extent of coverage, precision of definition, scope of territory, and margins of error may vary for different items within a particular country, and for like items for different countries. Footnotes and headnotes to the tables give some of the qualifications attached to the figures. Limits of space made necessary some condensation and editing of the more detailed notes appearing in the source. Careful analysis is required, therefore, since many of the measures shown are, at best, merely rough indicators of magnitude.

(3) Figures shown in this section for the United States may not always agree with figures shown in the preceding sections. Such differences may be attributable to the use of differing original sources, a difference in the definition of geographic limits (conterminous United States only, or including Alaska and Hawaii or certain outlying areas and possessions), or to possible adjustments made in the United States figures by the United Nations in order to improve their comparability with figures from other countries.

Conversion factors.—To facilitate comparison in terms of familiar units, items shown in metric units in the source have been converted to U. S. equivalents by means of the conversion factors given in the Statistical Yearbook and shown below. Further conversion factors are presented in Appendix II, Weights and Measures, p. 946.

CONVERSION FACTORS

No. 1243. AREA AND POPULATION

[For many countries, figures are provisional. Basis and level of reliability of population estimates range from use of a continuous population register (Scandinavian countries) and census enumerations for a recent date (most countries) to noncensus counts or partial censuses (Indonesia, Lebanon, Syria, Viet-Nam), and conjectural estimates derived by other means than counting (Ethiopia, Liberia, and Saudi Arabia). Data, in general, refer to present-in-area population of the present territory. Area generally includes inland waters. See text, p. 910, for general comments concerning quality of the data.]

No. 1244. VITAL STATISTICS AND NET FOOD SUPPLY

[Crude birth rates, infant mortality rates, and death rates derived from data having complete or virtually complete coverage for many countries and incomplete coverage for others. For many countries, data are known to be by year of registration rather than by year of occurrence. Crude birth rate: Number of live births per 1,000 persons. Crude death rate: Number of deaths, exclusive of stillbirths, per 1,000 persons. Infant mortality rate: Deaths of infants under 1 year of age per 1,000 live births. Data exclude stillbirths. Net food supply: Net supply of foodstuffs, other than alcoholic beverages, available within the country for human consumption. Cereals in terms of flour and milled rice; potatoes include sweet potatoes, cassava, etc. and potato, manioc, and other root flour in terms of potatoes, cassava, etc.; meat (including offal, poultry, and game) in terms of carcass weight, excluding slaughter fats. See text, p. 910, for general comments concerning quality of the data. Years for which data are shown may vary from column to column and from country to country. Figures which are not for the year shown in the "year" column are prefixed by a letter to indicate the year represented as follows: a represents 1960; b, 1959; c, 1958; d, 1957; e, 1956; f, 1955; g, 1954; h, 1953; i, 1952; j, 1951; k, 1950; l, 1949]

No. 1247. SELECTED EUROPEAN COUNTRIES AND UNITED STATES—NATIONAL PRODUCT AND EXPENDITURE: 1950 TO 1960

[In billions of U.S. dollars at current prices and current exchange rates. Data subject to following limitations: (a) Gaps in original statistics filed by OEEC estimates which may contain serious errors; and (b) official exchange rates used to convert European currencies to dollars understate relative purchasing power of currencies thus distorting comparison of levels of national product and expenditure in Europe with those in U.S.]

<sup>1</sup> Refers to crop year beginning in year indicated, except as noted. All commodities index comprises food, fibers, tobacco, industrial oilsseeds, and rubber. Food index relates to production of crops and livestock products for human consumption. Based on 1952-56 price relationship to the country production figures. Deduction made for feed and seed in production process. <sup>2</sup> Refers, in general, to salaried employees and wage earners in manufacturing (excluding public utilities, building, and other construction). <sup>3</sup> In many instances, represents index only for principal city (or cities) of particular country. <sup>4</sup> General wholesale price index numbers usually weighted by gross value of sales on wholesale markets. <sup>5</sup> As of 1st quarter, 1961, except as noted. Indexes based primarily on common shares traded on leading exchange or exchanges of each country, and intended to cover representative sample of companies in manufacturing, mining, and construction fields. In some cases, where an index of industrial shares is not available, a general index, including shares of companies in transportation, distribution and finance fields, is reported. <sup>6</sup> Excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except as noted. <sup>7</sup> Average of daily quotations, except 1959, 1960, and 1961 which are 1st quarter. <sup>8</sup> Includes Alaska and Hawaii. <sup>9</sup> Wage earners only.

<sup>45</sup> Includes direct taxes. <sup>46</sup> Coal and iron ore mining only. <sup>47</sup> Excludes clothing, wood products and furniture (except plywood), printing and publishing.

<sup>3</sup> Based on apparent consumption of coal, lignite, petroleum products, natural gas, and hydro-electricity. <sup>4</sup> Relates to production (incl. repair work) in factories, and excludes mining, building and construction, and public utilities (gas, electricity, and water supply).

<sup>5</sup> Single plants or factories. <sup>6</sup> Comprises average number of paid employees, working proprietors, unpaid family workers, and homeworkers, except as otherwise noted. <sup>7</sup> Expressed in U.S. dollars and refers to merchandise including silver (exc. current silver coin), excluding gold and issued paper currency. Imports are generally valued c.i.f.; exports, f.o.b. Generally, postal and governmental trade are included, war reparations and restitutions excluded. See source publication for "general trade" or "special trade" category distinctions. Roughly half the countries fall into each category, thus affecting comparability.

<sup>9</sup> 14 years old and over. <sup>10</sup> Excludes members of Armed Forces outside continental U.S. and civilian citizens absent from country for extended periods.

<sup>41</sup> 7 years old and over. <sup>42</sup> Excludes unemployed. <sup>43</sup> Establishments with 5 or more engaged, gross value of production of 100,000 sucres or more, or value of fixed assets of 200,000 sucres.

<sup>45</sup> Establishments with 10 or more engaged, except those owned or managed by the government.

<sup>60</sup> Enterprises with 20 or more employees engaged in selected industries. <sup>61</sup> Includes peat. For U.S.S.R., coal equivalent of low grade coal revised. <sup>62</sup> Establishments with 3 or more engaged and/or installed power equipment. <sup>63</sup> Establishments with 1 or more employees. Excludes abattoirs, repair services principally for the retail trades, petroleum refining, and ordnance manufacturing.

<sup>64</sup> All industrial enterprises. <sup>65</sup> 15 years old and over. Japan based on 1-percent sample of census returns. <sup>66</sup> Establishments with 5 or more regular employees. Excludes tobacco manufacturing and establishments operated by central government.

<sup>82</sup> Excludes petroleum refining. <sup>83</sup> All publicly owned and cooperative enterprises. Excludes licensed handicrafts. <sup>84</sup> Excludes apprentices, part-time workers, volunteer brigades, and similar persons engaged.

<sup>2</sup> Source presents data in metric tons. Conversion of data to barrels allows for differences in specific gravity of petroleum. Figures refer to crude petroleum including shale oil, but excluding natural gasoline.

<sup>3</sup> Covers, as far as possible, all hydraulic cements used for construction (portland, metallurgic, aluminous, natural, etc.).

<sup>5</sup> Data expressed in terms of pure (monohydrate) sulfuric acid and include sulfuric acid equivalent of oleum or "fuming" acid.

<sup>7</sup> Data represent apparent consumption (i.e., production plus imports minus exports) and do not take into account changes in stocks.

<sup>26</sup> Excludes China (mainland) and North Korea. Production of crude iron ore (iron content 50-60%) in China (mainland) was approximately 40,604,000 short tons in 1959. Production of crude iron ore (iron content not available) in North Korea was approximately 2,980,000 short tons.

<sup>1</sup> In general, refers to production of milk (cow, sheep, goat, etc.) for consumption fresh or for conversion into butter, cheese, condensed milk, etc. Excludes milk sucked by, but includes milk fed to, young animals.

<sup>2</sup> In general, covers malt liquors (beer, ale, stout, porter, etc.) of varying alcoholic strength. Excludes the production of tax-free malt beverages of very low alcoholic content.

<sup>4</sup> Covers both sea and inland fisheries, in terms of live weight. Includes shellfish; excludes whales, dolphins, etc. Except as noted, includes quantities landed by domestic craft in foreign ports, and excludes quantities landed by foreign craft in domestic ports.

<sup>5</sup> In place as of Dec. 31. For Australia, in place as of June 30. Data relate to three and four cylinder cotton system spinning spindles installed in cotton mills, including a number spinning rayon staple all or part of the time. Includes only ring spindles.

<sup>30</sup> Data based on standard barrels of 1,055 specific gravity; actual production greater. April 1 of year stated.

<sup>31</sup> Excludes quantities landed by domestic craft in foreign ports and includes quantities landed by foreign craft in domestic ports.

<sup>1</sup> Figures relate to merchant fleets on June 30. They are given in gross registered tons (see text, p. 589). Only vessels of 100 gross tons and over are included. Excludes vessels without mechanical means of propulsion, but includes sailing vessels with auxiliary power. Excludes ships trading on Caspian Sea, not entered in Lloyd's register.

<sup>2</sup> In general, represents sum of net registered tonnage (see text, p. 589) of seagoing foreign and domestic merchant vessels (power and sailing) entered with cargo from a foreign port and refers to only one entrance for each foreign voyage. Excludes, if possible, "in ballast," i. e. entering without unloading goods.

<sup>3</sup> Represents weight of all goods (including their packing) in external trade loaded to and unloaded from seagoing vessels of all flags at ports of country in question. Excludes bunkers, ships' stores, ballast, and transshipment (goods transhipped from an importing vessel to an exporting vessel). Includes goods unloaded into or loaded from bonded warehouse.

<sup>4</sup> Relates to domestic and international traffic on all railway lines within each country shown except railways entirely within an urban unit and plantation, industrial, mining, funicular and cable railways. Passenger miles include all passengers except military, government, and railway personnel when carried without revenue; ton miles relate to freight net ton miles and include all goods whether carried by fast or ordinary trains except service traffic, mail, baggage and nonrevenue government stores.

<sup>5</sup> Covers both domestic and international scheduled services operated by companies registered in each country. Includes supplementary services occasioned by overflow traffic on regularly scheduled trips and preparatory flights for new scheduled services.

<sup>6</sup> For years in which a census of registration took place, census or registration figure is shown; for other years officially estimated number of vehicles in use is shown. Includes passenger cars and commercial vehicles. Excludes 2- or 3-wheeled cycles and motorcycles, trams, trolley buses, ambulances, hearses, military vehicles, police and special purpose or government security vehicles, trailers, and farm tractors.

<sup>14</sup> Government railways. Includes ambulances and hearses. Australia and India include special purpose vehicles. Canada includes trolley buses, military, and special purpose vehicles. Excludes tractor and semitrailer combinations. Federal railways. Excludes vehicles exempt from taxation.

<sup>44</sup> Includes imports and exports by air, parcel post, and trade in ships delivered as goods without being loaded on other ships.

<sup>1</sup> Comprises public and private telephones (including extension instruments) connected to a central exchange. Total number of telephones in use in the world in 1960 estimated to be 141,700,000.

<sup>2</sup> Comprises generally all types of telegrams including cablegrams and radiograms, but excludes messages in transit.

<sup>3</sup> Letters mailed for distribution within national territories. Comprises letters (airmail, ordinary mail and registered), postcards, printed matter, business papers, small merchandise samples, small packets, phonograph packets, and mail carried without charge, but excludes ordinary packages, and letters and packages with a declared value.

<sup>4</sup> Publications containing general news and appearing at least 4 times a week; may range in size from a single sheet to 50 or more pages. <sup>5</sup> Comprises copies sold both inside and outside the country.

<sup>6</sup> No adjustment made for copies sold outside the country. <sup>7</sup> Comprises stations broadcasting to the public; excludes television and service stations (e.g., aeronautical and naval stations). Data are believed to represent the number of stations but in some instances may refer to number of transmitters or of frequencies (wave lengths).

<sup>8</sup> Comprises for most countries number of licenses issued for receiving sets; figures which are estimates of number of sets in use are footnoted. In general, figures should be used with considerable caution as number of licenses falls, in varying degree from country to country, to represent full number in use. Data apply to all types of receivers for radio broadcasts to the public, including loud speakers connected to a "radio redistribution system" but excluding television sets. Total number of sets in use in the world in 1960 estimated to be 380,000,000.

<sup>9</sup> Figures which are estimates of number of sets in use are footnoted; all others relate to number of licenses issued for receiving sets. Total number of sets in use in world in 1960 estimated to be 99,000,000.

printed matter, and parcel post sent. <sup>44</sup> Revenue telegrams, excludes those transmitted exclusively over railway telegraph lines. For year ending June 30. <sup>45</sup> All letters sent.

No. 1258. EDUCATION AND HEALTH

[Education: Figures usually refer to both official (public) and independent (private) schools, to school year beginning in year stated, and generally exclude adult education, apprenticeship courses and correspondence schools; intercountry comparisons are subject to caution owing to variations in definitions and in scope of data; usually excludes (unless otherwise stated) nursery schools, kindergarten and other preschool education. Health: Data do not allow of a close comparison between countries which present a similar standard, whether high or low, in respect of strength and character of their medical facilities. However, they may be used to judge approximate difference in standard between advanced and less developed countries. See text, p. 910, for general comments concerning quality of the data. Years for which data are shown may vary from column to column and from country to country. Figures which are not for the year shown in the "year" column are prefixed by a letter to indicate the year represented, as follows: a represents 1959; b, 1958; c, 1957; d, 1956; e, 1955; f, 1954; g, 1953; h, 1952; i, 1951]

HISTORICAL APPENDIX—INDEX TO TABLES IN WHICH HISTORICAL STATISTICS SERIES APPEAR

Listed below are those statistical time series (identified by number) appearing in Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1857, for which tables in the Statistical Abstract present comparable figures. Historical series are listed only where comparable data are available for a year or years later than 1957. In a few instances, it may be necessary to combine figures shown in the Abstract to obtain totals comparable to the series shown in Historical Statistics.

APPENDIX II

Weights and measures

UNITED STATES UNITS WITH METRIC EQUIVALENTS

1 inch=2.540 centimeters.

1 foot=0.3048 meter.

1 yard=0.9144 meter.

1 mile=1.609 kilometers.

1 square yard=0.8361 square meter.

1 acre=0.4047 hectare.

1 square mile=2.590 square kilometers.

1 cubic inch=16.39 cubic centimeters.

1 cubic foot=0.02832 cubic meter.

1 cubic yard=0.7646 cubic meter.

1 liquid quart=0.9463 liter.

1 gallon=231 cubic inches=3.785 liters.

1 bushel (measured)=2,150.4 cubic inches=35.24 liters.

1 avoirdupois ounce=28.35 grams.

1 troy ounce=31.10 grams.

1 pound=0.4536 kilogram.

1 long ton=2,240 pounds=1.0160 metric tons of 1,000 kilograms.

1 short ton=2,000 pounds=0.9072 metric ton.

UNITED STATES GALLON AND BUSHEL WITH BRITISH EQUIVALENTS

1 United States gallon=231 cubic inches=0.8331 imperial gallon.

1 United States bushel=2,150.4 cubic inches=0.9694 imperial bushel.

APPROXIMATE WEIGHT OF PETROLEUM AND PRODUCTS

In the United States petroleum and its products are measured by bulk, not weight. Whether handled in containers or without them the quantities are customarily reduced to the equivalent of barrels of 42 United States gallons (barrel thus equals 158.984 liters). In many foreign countries these commodities are measured by weight. The specific gravity of the different grades of crude petroleum and of the finished products varies materially. On the basis of approximate averages the Department of Commerce in converting foreign weight statistics to gallons or barrels of 42 gallons uses the factors shown in the following table:

ITEM	WEIGHT OF UNITED STATES GALLON		WEIGHT OF BARREL OF 42 GALLONS
	Pounds	Kilograms	Pounds	Kilograms
Crude petroleum.....	7.3	3.311	306.6	139.07

GUIDE TO SOURCES OF STATISTICS

Alphabetically arranged by subject, this guide contains references to the important primary sources of statistical information for the United States. Secondary sources have been included if the information contained therein is presented in a particularly convenient form or if primary sources are not readily available. Nonrecurrent publications presenting compilations or estimates for several years or new types of data not available in regular series are also included.

Much valuable information may also be found in State reports (see pp. 986-988) and in reports for particular commodities, industries, or similar segments of our economic and social structure. Because of the large number of such references, they are not included here.

Section references on the right-hand side of each page indicate where data from the report cited appear in the Statistical Abstract. Where both current reports and a summary volume are cited, the section reference often appears opposite the summary volume only. Reference to the sections indicated will enable the user to ascertain the type of information presented in the original source. It should not be assumed that all of the subjects from the original source are summarized in the Abstract.

Publications listed under each subject are divided into two main groups: "United States Government" and "Other." The location of the publisher of each report is given except for Federal governmental agencies located in Washington.

Major reports, such as the Census of Population, which consist of many volumes, are listed by their general, all-inclusive titles. Specific volume numbers and subtitles of the major census publications are listed at the end of the guide.

Note.—In April 1961, the economic research and statistical reporting functions of the Department of Agriculture were reorganized, affecting the Agricultural Marketing Service, the Agricultural Research Service, and the Foreign Agricultural Service. Some of the work formerly conducted in parts of these three services has been brought together in two agencies, the Economic Research Service and the Statistical Reporting Service. Many of the current reports shown below as issued by AMS, ARS, and FAS are now issued by the two new agencies.

PUBLICATIONS OF MAJOR CENSUSES

Listed below are major reports of the 1960 Censuses of Population and Housing, the 1959 Census of Agriculture, the 1958 Censuses of Business and Manufactures and Mineral Industries, and the 1957 Census of Governments. In most cases separate reports are available for each State, subject, industry, etc. Preliminary reports which have been issued are not included in the list.

Complete information on publications of all the censuses appears in the Catalog of United States Census Publications, which is published quarterly and cumulated to the annual issue. A sample copy is available from the Bureau of the Census on request. The annual subscription price is $1.25 for 4 quarterly issues and 12 monthly supplements.

1960 CENSUS OF POPULATION

- Vol. I. Characteristics of the Population. Separate reports for the United States, each State, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and Canal Zone. First issued in four separate, paperbound chapters, designated as A, B, C, and D, for each area. The four chapters for each area will then be assembled and issued in buckram as numbered parts of Vol. I. In addition, all of the 57 chapters A have been assembled and issued in buckram as Part A, of Vol. I.
- Chapter A. Number of Inhabitants. Final population counts for States and counties and their urban and rural parts, and for standard metropolitan statistical areas, urbanized areas, all incorporated places, unincorporated places of 1,000 or more inhabitants, and minor civil divisions.
- Chapter B. General Population Characteristics. Sex, age, marital status, color or race, and relationship to head of household.
- Chapter C. General Social and Economic Characteristics. Statistics on nativity and parentage, State of birth, mobility, education, families and their composition, employment status, occupation, income, and other subjects.
- Chapter D. Detailed Characteristics. (Scheduled to be issued March–December 1962.) These reports will present most of the subjects covered in chapter C, above, cross-classified by age, color, and other characteristics, with additional information on families, single years of age, occupation, and industry.
- Vol. II. Subject Reports. Comprising 34 reports, scheduled to be issued in 1962 and 1963. Devoted essentially to detailed cross-relationships for the United States and regions and, in some cases, standard metropolitan statistical areas, for such subjects as national origin and race, fertility, families, marital status, migration, education, employment, unemployment, occupation, industry, and income.
- Vol. III. Selected Area Reports. (Scheduled to be issued in 1962 and 1963.) Three reports showing selected characteristics of the population (1) for State economic areas, (2) according to size of place and metropolitan status, and (3) for Americans overseas.
- Vol. IV. Summary and Analytical Report. (Scheduled to be issued December 1962.) A review of the results of the 1960 Census for each major subject field.
- Census Tract Reports. One report for each of 180 tracted areas in the United States and Puerto Rico. Information on population and housing subjects.

1960 CENSUS OF HOUSING

- Vol. I. States and Small Areas. (States issued December 1961–May 1962. U.S. Summary scheduled to be issued September 1962.) Separate reports for the United States, each State, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, and Virgin Islands. Information on tenure, color, vacancy status, population per occupied housing unit, number of persons per room, number of rooms, type of structure, condition and plumbing facilities, equipment and facilities, financial characteristics and other subjects, for the State as a whole, counties, urbanized areas, standard metropolitan statistical areas, and places of 1,000 inhabitants or more.
- Vol. II. Metropolitan Housing. (Scheduled to be issued July–October 1962; some advance reports available earlier.) 202 reports; one for the United States, one for each geographic division, one for each standard metropolitan statistical area with 100,000 or more inhabitants, and separate reports for the San Juan and Ponce SMSA's in Puerto Rico.
- Vol. III. City Blocks. 421 reports; one for each city with 50,000 inhabitants or more in the 1950 Census or in subsequent special censuses, and reports covering about 200 places that requested inclusion in the block statistics program.

Vol. IV. Components of Inventory Change.

Part 1A. 1950 to 1959 Components, United States and selected metropolitan areas. 18 reports, one each for the United States (scheduled to be issued July 1962) and for 17 large metropolitan areas (15 standard metropolitan statistical areas, and 2 standard consolidated areas; issued December 1961–May 1962), on the source of the 1959 inventory and the disposition of the 1950 inventory in terms of such changes as new construction, conversion, merger, and demolition, and of units which remained the same. Characteristics shown for all units.

Part 1B. Inventory Characteristics, United States and selected metropolitan areas. (Scheduled to be issued May–July 1962.) 18 reports (same as part 1A) on characteristics of the inventory and of households involved in moves in 1958–1959.

Part 2. 1957 to 1959, United States and selected metropolitan areas. (Scheduled to be issued August–December 1962.) 10 reports, one each for the United States and for 9 of the selected areas (those covered in the 1956 National Housing Inventory). Measurements and characteristics of the components of change since 1956.

Vol. V. Residential Finance.

Part 1. Homeowner Properties, United States and selected metropolitan areas. (Scheduled to be issued July 1962.) Data on financing and characteristics, for the United States by region and for each of 17 large metropolitan areas.

Part 2. Rental and Vacant Properties, United States. (Scheduled to be issued December 1962.) Data similar to those in Part 1, for the United States.

Vol. VI. Rural Housing, Economic Subregions. (Scheduled to be issued November 1962.) Analytical tables for 121 subregions and the United States, showing interrelationships between selected housing and household characteristics of occupied units.

Vol. VII. Housing of Senior Citizens. (Scheduled to be issued August 1962.) Cross tabulations of housing and household characteristics of units occupied by persons 60 years old and over, for the United States, each State, the District of Columbia, and selected standard metropolitan statistical areas.

1959 CENSUS OF AGRICULTURE

GUIDE TO STATE STATISTICAL ABSTRACTS

This bibliography includes all known State statistical abstracts published since 1956 plus those now in preparation that will be issued in the latter part of 1962. When a statistical abstract does not exist for a particular State, a near equivalent has been listed wherever possible. For some States two such publications have been listed. All sources contain, under one cover, statistics on a variety of subjects for the State as a whole, or its component parts, or both.
