Section 19

Power

This section presents statistics on the supply, production, and distribution of power and energy. The principal sources of these data are the Federal Power Commission and the American Gas Association.

The Federal Power Commission, in its Annual Report and in various annual and monthly publications, issues information on the electric power and natural gas industries. Among the annual reports are Statistics of Privately Owned Electric Utilities in the United States, Statistics of Publicly Owned Electric Utilities in the United States, Steam-Electric Plant Construction Cost and Annual Production Expenses, Hydroelectric Plant Construction Cost and Annual Production Expenses, Statistics for Interstate Natural Gas Pipeline Companies, Sales by Producers of Natural Gas to Natural Gas Pipeline Companies, and World Power Data. Monthly reports include Electric Power Statistics and Statistics of Major Interstate Natural Gas Pipeline Companies. These various publications contain national and State data production of electricity, capacity of generating plants, fuels used in energy production, energy sales and consumption, hydroelectric power, construction costs and production expenses of power plants, and depreciation practices of electric and interstate gas pipeline utilities.

The Commission also issues reports on electric utility charges in its annual All-Electric Homes and Typical Electric Bills and on projections for the future in its periodic Electric Power Requirements and Supply of the United States, by Regions, Present and Future. Maps showing principal natural gas pipelines and electric facilities in the United States are also published from time to time.

The American Gas Association, in its monthly and quarterly bulletins and its yearbook, Gas Facts, presents data on gas utilities, including sales, revenues, customers, prices, and other financial and operating statistics. Other sources include the Bureau of Mines' Minerals Yearbook, containing data on coal, oil, and natural gas production and utilization; and the Edison Electric Institute's monthly and annual Statistical Bulletin, containing data on the distribution of electric energy by public utilities.

No. 753. Total Horsepower of All Prime Movers: 1940 to 1967

[In thousands. As of January, except as noted. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except as noted Prime movers are mechanical engines and turbines, and work animals, which originally convert fuels or force (as wind or falling water) into work and power. Electric motors, which obtain their power from prime movers, are excluded to avoid duplication. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series S 1–14]

No. 754. Mineral Energy Resources and Electricity—Production and Consumption: 1930 to 1967

[In trillions of British thermal units, except percent. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except data for bituminous coal include Alaska for all years. Unit heat values used are: Anthracite, 12,700 B.t.u. per pound; bituminous coal and lignite 13,100 B.t.u. per pound; petroleum, 5,800,000 B.t.u. per barrel; natural gas, total production multiplied by 1,075 B.t.u. minus repressuring vent and waste gas multiplied by 1,035 through 1964, and by 1,032 thereafter. For electricity series, hydropower and nuclear power converted to coal input equivalent at prevailing average pounds of coal per kilowatt hour each year at central electric plants, using 12,000 B.t.u. per pound. No. 770. Gas Utility Industry—Summary: 1945 to 1967

[Excludes Hawaii through 1955 and Alaska through 1960. Covers natural, manufactured, mixed, and liquid petroleum gas. Based on questionnaire mailed to all privately owned gas utilities and municipally owned gas departments in the United States, except those with annual revenues less than $25,000, which in the aggregate account for only a negligible portion of the industry]

Section 20

Science

This section presents statistics relating to various aspects of scientific and technical activity. Major topics are research and development, training and employment of scientists and engineers, atomic energy, space vehicles, and patents and trademarks. Principal sources of these data are the National Science Foundation, the Atomic Energy Commission, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The National Science Foundation gathers data chiefly through recurring statistical surveys and the National Register of Scientific and Technical Personnel (see below). Current Foundation publications containing data on funds for research and development and on scientific and engineering personnel include the bulletin series, Reviews of Data on Science Resources; the regular reports, Federal Funds for Research, Development, and Other Scientific Activities; Basic Research, Applied Research, and Development in Industry, and American Science Manpower; occasional reports relating to colleges and universities, and other nonprofit institutions; special reports such as Scientific Manpower From Abroad; and policy reports relating to national allocation of manpower and funds to science and technology. Statistical surveys in these areas pose particularly difficult problems of concept and definition and the data should, therefore, be regarded as broad estimates rather than precise quantitative statements. Detailed discussions of the scope and limitations of the data appear in the source publications.

Neither the National Aeronautics and Space Administration nor the Atomic Energy Commission publish any statistical reports as such. NASA's Semiannual Report contains current data on finances and its biweekly Satellite Situation Report presents information on artificial satellites, including both objects in orbit and decayed objects. The Atomic Energy Commission's annual and semiannual reports contain data on atomic energy, equipment, finances, and licenses.

Other sources of statistics on scientific and technical activities include The Budget of the United States Government, which contains summary financial data on all Federal research and development programs; the report series Resources for Medical Research, issued by the Public Health Service of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and designed to present timely information on funds, manpower, facilities, and institutions devoted to medical and health-related research; and the Annual Report of the Commissioner of Patents, issued by the Department of Commerce's Patent Office and presenting data on patent applications and issuances and on trademark registrations and renewals.

Research and development.—The National Science Foundation defines research as a "systematic and intensive study directed toward a fuller knowledge of the subject studied" and development as "the systematic use of scientific knowledge directed toward the production of useful materials, devices, systems, methods, or processes." The data on funds are presented within the framework of a national economic structure composed of four sectors: (1) The government sector, made up primarily of Federal executive agencies; (2) the industry sector, consisting of manufacturing and nonmanufacturing firms and the federally funded research and development centers they administer; (3) the colleges and universities sector, composed of colleges, universities, and their affiliated institutions, agricultural experiment stations and associated schools of agriculture, and federally funded research and development centers administered by educational institutions; and (4) the other nonprofit institutions sector, consisting of such organizations as private philanthropic foundations, nonprofit research institutes, voluntary health agencies, and federally funded research and development centers administered by nonprofit organizations. The federally funded centers are research and development organizations which are exclusively or substantially financed by the Federal government and which, in most instances, were originally established to meet a particular R&D need of the Government. They are administered on a contractual basis, by companies, educational institutions, or other nonprofit organizations. The R&D funds reported consist of current operating costs, including those for planning and administration, except as otherwise noted. They exclude funds for routine testing, mapping and surveying, collection of general-purpose data, dissemination of scientific information, and training of scientific manpower.

Scientists, engineers, and technicians.—Scientists and engineers are defined as persons engaged in scientific and engineering work at a level requiring a knowledge of sciences equivalent at least to that acquired through completion of a 4-year college course. They are generally classified according to the fields of their employment and not according to the discipline in which they received their major training. Technicians are defined as persons engaged in technical work at a level requiring knowledge acquired through a technical institute, junior college, or other type of training less extensive than 4-year college training. Craftsmen and skilled workers are excluded. The National Register of Scientific and Technical Personnel is a comprehensive program, conducted by the National Science Foundation, for the voluntary registration of scientists. Because it is voluntary, the Register does not include all scientists and engineers in the United States but it does provide valuabl estatistical information on demographic and other characteristics not available elsewhere.

[1] Data not collected for 1963 and 1965.
[2] Because of overlapping in job series classifications, several thousand personnel were transferred from engineering to the physical sciences series in 1961; many of them were transferred back to engineering in 1962.
[3] Includes actuary, mathematics, statistics, and, beginning 1961, mathematical statisticians.
[4] Includes social science, economics, history, and the anthropological sciences. Also included only in 1964 and 1966 is urban planning, with 138 and 175 in each year, respectively.

No. 784. Scientists, Engineers, Selected Health-Related Professionals, and Technicians Employed by State Government Agencies, by States: 1964

[Not comparable with survey data published by Dept. of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, for 1962. Social scientists, statisticians, and practicing psychologists, reported as scientists in 1964, were not all in 1962. Nonpracticing physicians, dentists, psychiatrists, public health specialists, and veterinarians who were counted as scientists in 1962 are reported with selected health-related professionals in 1964]

[1] Permits authorized construction of 11 research and test reactors in 1965, 13 in 1966, and 11 in 1967.

[2] Beginning 1963, each reactor licensee was required to have available a "senior" reactor operator.

[3] Beginning 1963, State governments began to take over a part of materials licensing under agreements with the AEC. As of Dec. 31, 1967, 17 such agreement States had issued or assumed control of 6,077 material licenses not reflected in above figures.

[4] Beginning 1960, includes only parent organizations, which are issued single basic licenses. Subordinate organizations at various locations included for prior years.

[5] Trilateral agreements involve the United States, the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), and a third country and pertain to the application of the IAEA safeguards system to material and equipment supplied by the United States under bilateral agreements for cooperation in the civil uses of atomic energy.

Section 21

Transportation—Land

This section presents statistics relating to the mileage, control, and financing of public roads and to the transportation of persons and goods by land. The modes of transport included are passenger car, truck, railroad, bus and streetcar, and pipeline.

The principal compiler of data on public roads and motor-vehicle registrations is Department of Transportation's Bureau of Public Roads, which, since 1945, has issued the annual Highway Statistics. Its Highway Statistics, Summary to 1965, presents public roads data carried back for 20 to 65 years. The principal sources of land transport data, other than for public roads and motor-vehicle registrations, are the Interstate Commerce Commission's Annual Report and its annual Transport Statistics in the United States, Part 1, which contains data on railroads. Other important publications of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the field of land transport include the annual Statistics of Class I Motor Carriers (issued as Part 7 of Transport Statistics); the annual Statistics of Oil Pipe-Line Companies (issued as Part 6 of Transport Statistics); and, for historical data on railroads, Statistics of Railways in the United States, published annually from 1887 through 1953. The annual Accident Bulletin, formerly published by the Commission, is now issued by the Federal Railroad Administration of the Department of Transportation. Another basic source of data is the Census of Transportation conducted by the Bureau of the Census.

Data from the 1963 census are included in Commodity Transport Survey and Motor Carrier Survey and data from both the 1963 and 1967 censuses in National Travel Survey and Truck Inventory and Use Survey. The Census of Manufactures and the Annual Survey of Manufactures of the Bureau of the Census contain statistics on the motor-vehicle and equipment industry. Data from these Bureau of the Census reports are included in section 28, Manufactures, of this volume.

Nongovernmental data can be found in the weekly and annual Cars of Revenue Freight Loaded and the annual Yearbook of Railroad Facts, both published by the Association of American Railroads, Washington, D.C.; Bus Facts, issued annually by the National Association of Motor Bus Owners, Washington; the Transit Fact Book, containing street railway and motorbus statistics, published annually by the American Transit Association, Washington; and Transportation Facts and Trends, issued by the Transportation Association of America, Washington. Useful annual handbooks in the field of motor-vehicle transport are Automobile Facts and Figures and Motor Truck Facts, both issued by the Automobile Manufacturers Association, Detroit; American Trucking Trends, issued by the American Trucking Association, Washington; and Accident Facts, issued by the National Safety Council, Chicago.

Rural and urban roads.—The terms "rural," "urban," and "municipal" are used in different ways in different tables in this section. Because of special problems and purposes, it is not possible to apply identical definitions and groupings to all types of data. Definitions are given in table headnotes where pertinent.

Highway systems.—The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1916 provides for the sharing of highway construction costs between the States and the Federal Government with the initiative retained by each State for choosing projects and carrying them out. The planning and development of Federal-aid systems began in 1921. Federal funds share with State funds in costs of engineering, construction, and right-of-way acquisition on the designated systems while other charges, such as maintenance and policing, are borne entirely by the States and local agencies.

The Federal-aid primary system connects all of the principal cities, county seats, ports, manufacturing areas, and other traffic generating areas. In general, these are the same as the main State trunkline roads. The Federal-aid secondary system consists of important feeder roads linking the farms, factories, distribution outlets, and smaller communities with the primary system.

Motor carriers.—Prior to 1950, class I for-hire motor carriers were classified by the Interstate Commerce Commission as those with $100,000 or more of gross annual operating revenue. Beginning 1950, the class I minimum became $200,000. Beginning 1957, the class I minimum for motor carriers of property was increased to $1,000,000; however, the minimum for class I motor carriers of passengers remained at $200,000.

Railroads.—The total railroad mileage of the United States comprises companies reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission, grouped as follows: (1) Regular interstate carriers (and their nonoperating subsidiaries); (2) switching and terminal railroads; and (3) private railroads (identified by the Commission as "circular" because they report on brief circulars, or as "unofficial" when their reports are received too late for tabulation). For the most part, circular and unofficial companies, and switching and terminal railroads, are not included in the statistics.

Nonoperating subsidiaries comprise proprietary companies, which are covered by the reports of operating carriers, and lessor companies, which have no traffic and whose reports appear only in statistics of capitalization, dividends, and investment.

Operating railroads are classified on the basis of operating revenues. Prior to 1956, the classification was as follows: Class I, those having more than $1,000,000 gross annual operating revenue; class II, from $100,000 to $1,000,000; and class III, less than $100,000. From 1956 to 1964, the following classification was in effect: Class I, $3,000,000 or more; and class II, under $3,000,000. Effective January 1965, the classification was changed to the following: Class I, $5,000,000 or more; and class II, under $5,000,000.

NA Not available. [1] In effect Dec. 31.
[2] Weighted average, based on net gallons taxed. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii. [3] No tax.
[4] Tax on diesel fuel, and usually other special fuels for highway vehicles, is higher than gasoline tax shown.
[5] The State tax rate on liquefied petroleum gas is 6 cents per gallon in California, 8 cents per gallon in Mississippi, and 5 cents per gallon in Wyoming.
[6] State tax rate in Hawaii is 8 cents per gallon in Hawaii County and 5 cents per gallon in other counties; in Nevada, the State tax rate is 6 cents per gallon, and effective July 1, 1966, all counties have the option of levying an additional 1 cent tax.
[7] Trucks or combinations with more than 2 axles pay motor-fuel tax rates of 9 cents per gallon in Kentucky and Virginia. (Prior to July 1, 1960, the tax in Virginia was 8 cents.)

Z Less than 500 trucks.

[1] Based on physical characteristics of vehicles reported; approximates following classification in terms of gross vehicle weight (empty weight of vehicle plus load it was designed to carry): Light—10,000 lb. or less; Medium—10,001 to 19,500 lb.; Light-heavy—19,501 to 26,000 lb.; Heavy-heavy—over 26,000 lb.

[2] Local—in or around city and suburbs or within a short distance of the farm, factory, or home base of the vehicle; Intermediate—beyond local limits but usually not more than 200 miles, one way, from home base of vehicle; Long distance—trips usually more than 200 miles, one way, from home base. U.S. total for trucks not reported, 2,236,000.

No. 830. Truck Carriers—Selected Operating Statistics: 1963

[Represents motor carriers of property that render trucking services to the public, but are not subject to the Interstate Commerce Commission economic regulations. Covers carriers engaged in intrastate or local service and interstate carriers of nonmanufactured agricultural products and fish. These carriers account for 74 percent of all truck carriers and 21 percent of total operating revenues. Based on a sample and subject to sampling variability; see source for detailed explanation]

No. 832. Transit Industry—Summary: 1940 to 1966

[Money figures in millions of dollars, except as indicated. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Comprises all privately and publicly owned organized local passenger transportation agencies except taxicabs, suburban railroads, and sightseeing and school buses. Covers (a) local motorbus lines, (b) electric street railways, (c) elevated and subway lines, (d) interurban electric railways and (e) trolley coach lines. Based on financial and statistical reports received by American Transit Association from transit companies representing more than 85 percent of the industry. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series Q 330-340]

Section 22

Transportation—Air and Water

This section presents statistics on civil air transportation, both passenger and cargo, and on water transportation, including inland waterways, oceanborne commerce, the merchant marine, cargo and vessel tonnages, and shipbuilding. The principal sources of these data are the annual FAA Statistical Handbook of Aviation, issued by the Federal Aviation Administration; the annual Waterborne Commerce of the United States and the Annual Report of the Chief of Engineers, Part 2, issued by the Corps of Engineers of the Department of the Army; the monthly and annual U.S. Waterborne Foreign Trade, and U.S. Airborne Foreign Trade, issued by the Bureau of the Census; and the annual Merchant Marine Statistics, issued by the Bureau of Customs.

Data on air transportation are also presented in Air Transport Facts and Figures, published annually by the Air Transport Association of America, Washington, D.C. Additional sources of data on water transportation include A Statistical Analysis of the World's Merchant Fleets, issued periodically by the Maritime Administration of the Department of Commerce; The Bulletin, issued monthly by the American Bureau of Shipping, New York; and the Annual Summary of Merchant Ships Launched in the World and the Register Book published by Lloyd's Register of Shipping, London, England. The 1821 through 1946 issues of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States, published by the Bureau of the Census, are a basic source of historical data.

Data relating to merchandise exports and imports, their classification, dollar values, and countries of origin and destination are in section 30, Foreign Commerce and Aid.

Civil aviation.—Federal promotion and regulation of civil aviation are carried out by the Federal Aviation Administration and the Civil Aeronautics Board. The Board issues certificates permitting persons to engage in air transportation as a business, fixes air mail rates which they may charge, and may establish maximum and minimum rates for transportation of passengers and goods. It also has the duty of investigating accidents in air transportation.

The principal activities of the Federal Aviation Administration are: Controlling the use of navigable airspace; prescribing regulations dealing with the competency of airmen, airworthiness of aircraft, and air traffic control; operation of air route traffic control centers, airport traffic control towers, and flight service stations; the design, construction, maintenance, and inspection of navigation, traffic control, and communications equipment for the airways; and promotion of air safety.

These agencies publish annual operational data on the use of airway facilities; data related to the location of airmen, aircraft, and airports; the activity volume in the field of non-air carrier (general aviation) flying; and aircraft production and registration.

Air carriers and service.—The term certificated route air carrier refers to air carriers holding certificates of public convenience and necessity, issued by the Civil Aeronautics Board, authorizing the performance of scheduled air transportation over specified routes and a limited amount of nonscheduled operations. This general carrier grouping includes the all-purpose carrier (i.e., the so-called passenger/cargo carriers) and the all-cargo carriers, and comprises all of the airlines certificated by the board, except the supplemental air carriers. Certificated route air carriers are often referred to as "scheduled airlines," although they also perform nonscheduled service. Nonscheduled service comprises revenue flights that are not operated in regular scheduled service, such as charter flights, and all nonrevenue flights incident to such flights. Scheduled service is transport service operated over an air carrier's certificated routes, based on published flight schedules, including extra sections and related nonrevenue flights.

Vessel shipments, entrances, and clearances.—Shipments by dry cargo vessels comprise shipments on all types of watercraft except tanker vessels; shipments by tanker vessels comprise all types of cargo, liquid and dry, carried by tanker vessels.

A vessel is reported as entered at the first port which it enters in the United States, regardless of whether any cargo is unladen at that port. A vessel is reported as cleared from the last port where outward cargo is completed or where the vessel cleared in ballast. Army and Navy vessels entering or clearing without commercial cargo and vessels touching at a United States port in distress, or for other temporary causes without discharging cargo, are not included in the figures.

Units of measurement.—Cargo tonnage and shipping weight both represent the gross weight of the cargo including the weight of containers, wrappings, crates, etc. However, shipping weight excludes lift and cargo vans and similar substantial outer containers. Other tonnage figures generally refer to stowing capacity of vessels, 100 cubic feet being called 1 ton. Gross tonnage comprises the space within the frames and the ceiling of the hull, together with those closed-in spaces above deck available for cargo, stores, passengers, or crew, with certain minor exceptions. Net or registered tonnage is the gross tonnage less the spaces occupied by the propelling machinery, fuel, crew quarters, master's cabin, and navigation spaces. It represents substantially space available for cargo and passengers. The net tonnage capacity of a ship may bear little relation to weight of cargo. Dead-weight tonnage is the weight in long tons required to depress a vessel from light water line (that is, with only the machinery and equipment on board) to load line. It is therefore the weight of the cargo, fuel, etc., which a vessel is designed to carry with safety.

No. 866. United States Receipts and Payments for International Transportation: 1947 to 1967

[In millions of dollars. Data are international transportation transactions recorded for balance of payment purposes (see table 1198). Receipts include freight on exports carried by U.S. operated carriers and foreign carrier expenditures in U.S. ports. Payments include freight on imports carried by foreign carriers and U.S. carrier port expenditures abroad. Freight on exports carried by foreign carriers is excluded since such payments are directly or indirectly for foreign account. Similarly, freight on U.S. imports carried by U.S. carriers is a domestic rather than an international transaction. Minus sign (–) denotes decrease. See Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series U 170 and U 177, for totals]

No. 870. Waterborne Imports and Exports—Cargo Tonnage, by Flag of Carrier Vessel: 1950 to 1966

[In thousands of short tons. Beginning July 1950, excludes commodities classified for security reasons as "Special Category." For 1955 and 1960, exports exclude shipments individually valued under $500. For 1963 and later years, exports exclude shipments to Canada individually valued under $2,000 and to other countries under $500. Under $100 shipments are excluded for all years. Beginning 1955, imports exclude shipments under 2,000 pounds shipping weight regardless of value, as well as shipments valued at less than $100 regardless of shipping weight. For January 1960 through June 1965, imports exclude formal entry shipments valued at less than $100 and informal entry shipments valued under $251. For July–December 1965 and later years, imports exclude all shipments under $251. Section 23

Agriculture

This section presents statistics concerning the structure of our agricultural economy. Included are data on farms and farm population; land utilization and conservation; farm income, expenditures, and debt; farmer cooperatives; farm output and marketings; trade in agricultural products; and data on specific crops, livestock, poultry, and livestock and poultry products.

The principal sources of these data are reports issued by the Bureau of the Census, which conducts a Census of Agriculture every 5 years and Censuses of Irrigation and of Drainage every 10 years; and three annual reports, Agricultural Statistics, Crop Production, and Crop Values, issued by the Statistical Reporting Service, Department of Agriculture. Other important sources include The Balance Sheet of Agriculture, Changes in Farm Production and Efficiency, The Farm Income Situation, and other Situation reports, issued by the Economic Research Service, Department of Agriculture. Sources of current data on agricultural exports and imports include Foreign Agricultural Trade, also published by the Economic Research Service, and the reports of the Bureau of the Census, particularly Report FT 135, U.S. Imports, General and Consumption, Schedule A Commodity and Country, and Report FT 410, U.S. Exports, Schedule B Commodity and Country.

A Census of Agriculture has been taken by personal enumeration of individual farms every 10 years since 1840 and every 5 years since 1920. The first census included such items as numbers of livestock, production of wool, value of poultry and dairy products, and production of principal crops. Data on number, acreage, and value of farms were first obtained in the 1850 census; on farm tenure, in 1880; and on a detailed classification of farmland by use, in 1925. The 1964 Census of Agriculture is the most recent one for which complete data are available.

Annual agricultural statistics of a wide variety have been issued by the Department of Agriculture for over 100 years. The 44 field offices of the Statistical Reporting Service collect data from voluntary reporters. State estimates and other information are sent to the Crop Reporting Board of the Statistical Reporting Service, which issues reports containing State, regional, and national data.

Statistics compiled by the Statistical Reporting Service on crops, livestock and livestock products, agricultural prices, farm employment, and other related subjects are based mainly on data obtained through mail questionnaires. The basic information is obtained from nearly three-fourths of a million reporters, mostly farmers, who report for their own and nearby farms on some 80 crops and scores of other items pertaining to agricultural production and farm family living. Livestock data are obtained in June and December and crop acreage data in October.

Farms and farmland.—In the course of its history, the Bureau of the Census has used varying definitions of a farm. In the 1959 and 1964 censuses, places of less than 10 acres were counted as farms if estimated sales of agricultural products for the year amounted to at least $250, and places of 10 or more acres if such sales amounted to at least $50. In the 1950 and 1954 censuses, places of 3 or more acres were counted as farms if the annual value of agricultural products, whether for home use or for sale, but exclusive of home-garden products, amounted to $150 or more; places of less than 3 acres were counted as farms only if the annual sales amounted to $150 or more. For definitions used in earlier censuses, see U.S. Census of Agriculture: 1959, Vol. II, Introduction.

Estimates based on evaluation studies of the 1959 and 1964 census results indicate an underenumeration of 341 thousand farms in 1959, 8.4 percent of the estimated total number, and of 401 thousand farms, or 11.3 percent, in 1964. In both censuses, the estimated underenumeration of land in farms amounted to 71.5 million acres, or 6 percent of the estimated total acreage. Except as noted, data from those censuses have not been adjusted for the estimated underenumeration. Additional details are given in U.S. Census of Agriculture: 1959, and 1964; Vol. II, Introduction.

Currently included as farms are such agriculture enterprises as nurseries, greenhouses, hothouses, mushroom houses, and cranberry bogs; excluded are fish farms, fish hatcheries, oyster farms, frog farms, fur farms, apiaries, kennels, game preserves, parks, and the like. In the case of landowners who had one or more tenants, renters, croppers, or managers, the land operated by each was counted as a separate farm.

In the 1964 census, farms classified as commercial were generally those with sales of $2,500 or more, and also those with sales of $50 to $2,499 provided the operator was under 65 years of age and did not work off the farm 100 or more days during the year.

Farmland refers to all land under the control of a farm operator and considered as part of his farm, including land not actually under cultivation or used for pasture or grazing. Rent-free land was included as part of the farm only if the operator had sole use of it. Land used for pasture or grazing that was neither owned nor leased by the farm operator, such as national forests, Taylor grazing land, State or other public lands, and some railroad and other privately owned lands, is not included.

Irrigation and drainage.—Irrigated land as defined by the Bureau of the Census is the net acreage of farmland to which irrigation water was applied during the census year. It excludes land not irrigated during the year and also irrigated nonfarm land. In the 18 Western States (Alaska excluded) and Louisiana, the Bureau of the Census collects information on irrigation at 10-year intervals from irrigation companies, districts, and other organizations, and from farms that operate their own irrigation works. Irrigation information for other States is generally limited to the regular farm census. Following the 1954 and 1959 censuses, a special survey of irrigation was conducted in humid areas.

In the 1950 and 1960 drainage censuses, the Bureau of the Census enumerated, in general, only organized enterprises with 500 acres or more of drained farmland. In 1950, smaller irrigation enterprises which had their own drainage works were also included. In the 1920 to 1940 censuses, all organized enterprises draining farmlands were included regardless of size.

Soil conservation.—Soil conservation district legislation has been enacted in all 50 States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Soil conservation districts have broad responsibility and authority for conservation and development of soil, water, and related resources. In most cases, districts have authority to accept Federal, State, county, and private assistance for their soil and water conservation programs.

Farm income.—Cash income is the cash receipts from farm marketings and represents quantities of agricultural products sold by farmers multiplied by prices received per unit of production at the local market. Gross farm income includes cash receipts and also Government payments, value of farm products consumed on farms, and rental value of farm homes.

Information on prices received is obtained by the Statistical Reporting Service of the Department of Agriculture from about 33,000 voluntary reporters, including farmers, local merchants, and handlers of agricultural products. Season average prices received by farmers are calculated by weighting midmonth prices by monthly sales during the crop marketing season, beginning with the first month in which a particular crop harvest begins.

Crop reporting.—Estimates by the Department of Agriculture's Statistical Reporting Service of crop acreage and production for the census years are set up currently from available information and, if necessary, are later revised to a level based largely on the census enumerations. Estimates for intercensal years are based on sample data obtained each year from individual reporters, supplemented by such data as State assessors' enumerations of agricultural information, reports of carlot shipments, warehouse receipts, local surveys, personal observations by field statisticians, and reports from other sources. Cotton acreage and production are also based on sample data and on ginning information gathered by the Bureau of the Census.

Livestock.—Each Census of Agriculture from 1840 through 1900 was taken as of June 1. The various quinquennial and decennial censuses since then have been taken as of January, April, or the fall, as specified in the published results. Comparison of livestock inventories from census to census is seriously affected by changes in date of enumeration. From January to April, and from October and November to January, material changes occur in numbers on hand in most parts of the country, due to births, marketings, farm slaughter, etc. To obtain as much comparability as possible, the censuses taken in April either excluded recently born animals from the enumeration or provided for their enumeration in a separate age group. Volume II of U.S. Census of Agriculture: 1959 shows a complete history of the enumeration of livestock and analyzes comparability from census to census.

Annual inventory numbers of livestock on farms and estimates of livestock, dairy, and poultry production prepared by the Department of Agriculture are based on information from farmers, supplemented by State assessors' data and by records of brand inspections, rail and truck shipments, and slaughter. The level for these inventories is based largely on interpretations of quinquennial census enumerations.

[1] Beginning 1940, includes inductions and enlistments into Armed Forces, and persons returning from Armed Forces. For all years, includes persons who did not move but who were in and out of the farm population because agricultural operations began or ceased, respectively, on the place where they were living.

[2] Total population includes Armed Forces abroad.

No. 902. Farms—Number, by Type, by States: 1964

[Based on reports for a sample of farms. In general, a farm was classified as a particular type if its sales of a particular product or group of products amounted to 50 percent or more of total value of farm products sold. For definition of commercial farm, see text, p. 592. For composition of regions, see fig. I, p. xii]

[1] Represents value at the first level at which cooperatives transact business for farmers. Adjusted for duplication resulting from intercooperative business.
[2] Because many associations are engaged in more than one type of business, these totals are less than the sum of associations handling individual items or performing individual services.
[3] Includes trucking, cotton ginning, storage grinding, locker plants, and miscellaneous services.
[4] Charges for services related to marketing or purchasing but not included in the volume reported for these activities.

[1] Measures annual volume of farm production available for eventual human use. Livestock and crops, as combined into total farm output, exclude value of feed other than pasture consumed, and hatching eggs, to avoid double counting of feed crops in both livestock and crop production and of hatching eggs as part of both poultry-meat and egg production.

[2] Includes livestock products not shown separately, except horses and mules. Livestock production consists of 3 components: Constant-dollar value of pasture consumed, other feed consumed, and product-added in converting feed and pasture into livestock and products for human use. See footnote 1.

[3] Total constant dollar value of all crop production regardless of its final disposition. Includes production of hay seeds, pasture seeds, cover-crop seeds, and some miscellaneous crop production not shown.

[1] Values are based on season average prices; see footnote 2

[2] Season average price received by farmers. State prices weighted by production to obtain U.S. price prior to 1958, but weighted by sales beginning 1958. For certain years, prices for wheat, rye, rice, corn for grain, grain sorghums, oats, barley, dry edible beans, soybeans, flaxseed, cotton and cottonseed include an allowance for unredeemed loans and purchase agreement deliveries. See also notes on prices for each crop.

[3] Based on reported price of grain sorghums.

[4] State production figures, which conform with Bureau of the Census annual ginning enumeration with allowance for cross-State ginnings, rounded to thousands and added for U.S. totals.

[5] Bales of 500 pounds, gross weight.

[6] Average price to April 1, 1968.

[7] Prices are for hay sold baled.

[8] Cleaned basis.

[9] Includes some quantities not harvested and/or not marketed on account of economic conditions.

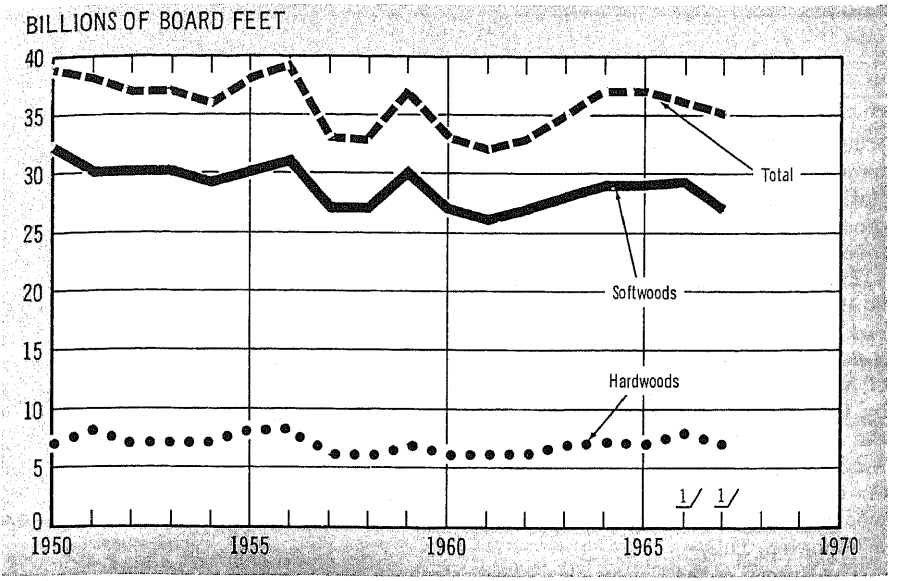
Section 24

Forests and Forest Products

This section presents basic statistics on the area and ownership of commercial forest land, and on the annual growth, cut, and volume of timber on this land; forestry statistics covering the national forests and Forest Service cooperative programs; product statistics for lumber, pulpwood, wood pulp, paper and board, turpentine, rosin, and veneer logs; and other similar data.

The principal sources of these data are Timber Trends in the United States, issued in 1965 by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture, and The Demand and Price Situation for Forest Products, National Forest System, and Forest Fire Statistics, issued annually by the Forest Service; and reports of the quinquennial Census of Manufactures and the monthly and quarterly Current Industrial Reports, issued by the Bureau of the Census. Additional information in this field is published in the Annual Report of the National Forest Reservation Commission, the Annual Naval Stores Report of the Department of Agriculture's Statistical Reporting Service, the monthly Survey of Current Business of the Office of Business Economics, and the monthly Fingertip Facts and Figures of the National Forest Products Association, Washington, D.C.



The Bureau of the Census also collects statistics on foreign trade of forest products. The Bureau of Labor Statistics publishes monthly and annual statistics of wholesale lumber prices. Information on the domestic movement of forest products is collected by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Association of American Railroads.

The completeness and reliability of statistics on forests and forest products vary considerably. The data for forest land area and stand are, of course, much more reliable for areas which have been surveyed than for those which have not been surveyed. Estimates of fire damage or causes of fires are not completely reliable, although forest fire statistics for Federal lands are considered much better than those for private lands. In the field of forest products, much more data are available for lumber production and other manufactured products such as veneer and plywood, pulp and paper, naval stores, etc., than for the primary forest products such as poles and piling, fuelwood, and fence posts.

A historical series for production, imports, exports, and consumption of forest products is included in table 1017.

– Represents zero. [1] Comprises species which contain at least 1 saw log defined as follows: Softwoods must be at least 9.0 inches in diameter, breast height, except in Calif., Oreg., Wash., and coastal Alaska where the minimum diameter is 11.0 inches. Hardwoods must be 11.0 inches in all States. [2] Comprises all live sawtimber trees, poletimber trees, saplings, and seedlings meeting specified standards of quality or vigor; excludes cull trees.

Section 25

Fisheries

This section presents statistics relating to quantity, value, species, and disposition of fish caught for commercial purposes, and to fishery products. The principal sources of such data are the annual report, Fishery Statistics of the United States, and the monthly and annual bulletins in the Current Fishery Statistics series published by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior.

The Fish and Wildlife Service conducts annual surveys of the fishery industries. Results from the surveys include data on the quantity and value of the catch of individual species of fish, employment in fisheries, gear operated, fishing and transporting craft used, employment in wholesale and manufacturing establishments, and the volume and value of production of manufactured fishery products. In addition, the reports include data on imports, exports, freezings, and cold storage holdings of fishery products; and monthly landings in most coastal States, and in Ohio, Michigan, and Wisconsin. Information is also collected covering shad fisheries of the Hudson and Potomac Rivers; alewife fisheries of the Potomac; seed oyster fisheries; Pacific Coast halibut fisheries; New England offshore fisheries; South Atlantic and Gulf shrimp fisheries; the fur seal industry of the Pribilof Islands; and the Pacific Coast whaling industry.

The first comprehensive survey of fisheries and fishery industries of the United States was made for the year 1880, although it did not include the Mississippi River and its tributaries. A complete survey of the United States was conducted in 1908 by the Bureau of the Census and again in 1931 by the Bureau of Fisheries, then in the Department of Commerce. Various sections of the country have been surveyed from time to time. A complete survey of all sections, including manufacturing and wholesaling operations, was made for 1950. Beginning in 1954, complete data have been collected annually, except for a portion of the Mississippi River and its tributaries in 1961.

A report on the 1963 Census of Commercial Fisheries was released by the Bureau of the Census in 1966. It presents statistics on the number of commercial fishing operators, receipts from fishing activities, employment, vessels operated, value of catch, and fishing gear.

Section 26

Mining and Mineral Products

This section presents statistics relating to the mineral industries and mineral products. The data are arranged in four broad groupings: General summary statistics, fuels, nonmetals other than fuels, and metals. Summary measures of production and employment are presented for mining and its products. More detailed data on value and quantity of production, prices, imports and exports, consumption, and distribution are shown for specific mineral industries and products.

The principal source of these data is the Minerals Yearbook, published by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior. In the current edition, covering the year 1966, the former volumes I and II have been combined as volume I–II, Metals, Minerals, and Fuels, with some foreign production and trade data included. Volume III, Area Reports follows the format of previous editions. Volume IV, International Review, was not published for 1966. Other government sources are the Census of Mineral Industries, conducted every 5 years by the Bureau of the Census; Statistics of Oil Pipe Line Companies, issued annually by the Interstate Commerce Commission as Part 6 of Transport Statistics: and the Bureau of the Mint's Annual Report of the Director, which presents data on gold and silver. Non-government sources include the Engineering and Mining Journal, issued monthly by the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., New York, and The Iron Age, issued weekly by the Chilton Co., Philadelphia.

Mineral statistics, with principal emphasis on commodity detail, have been collected by the United States Geological Survey or by the Bureau of Mines since 1880. Current data available from Bureau of Mines publications include quantity and value of minerals produced, sold or used by producers, or shipped; quantity of minerals stocked; crude materials treated and prepared minerals recovered; and consumption of mineral raw materials. The Bureau of Mines also collects and publishes data on man-hours, active days, length of shift, and accidents.

Decennial censuses of mineral industries were conducted by the Bureau of the Census from 1840 to 1940. Censuses were taken again for the years 1954, 1958, and 1963. They provide, for the various types of mineral establishments, information on operating costs, capital expenditures, and labor, equipment, and energy requirements in relation to their value of shipments and other receipts. Commodity statistics on many of the manufactured mineral products are also collected by the Bureau at monthly, quarterly, or annual intervals and issued in its Current Industrial Reports series.

Data on mining and mineral products may also be found in other sections of this Abstract. For example, data on iron and steel, aluminum and magnesium, copper products, clay products, and other manufactured mineral products appear in section 28, Manufactures; and summary data for outlying areas of the U.S. appear in section 31.

In general, figures shown in the individual commodity tables include data for outlying areas, and may therefore not agree with summary table 1015. Except for crude petroleum, the export and import figures include foreign trade passing through the customs districts of Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, but exclude shipments between conterminous U.S. and outlying areas.

[1] Includes small quantity of anthracite mined in States other than Pennsylvania.
[2] 1960, refined only; thereafter, crude and refined.
[3] Grindstones, pulpstones, millstones (weight not recorded), grinding pebbles, sharpening stones, and tube-mill liners.
[4] Weight not recorded.
[5] Excludes abrasive stone, bituminous limestone and sandstone, and ground soapstone, all included elsewhere in table. Includes calcareous marl and slate.
[6] Comprises value of items that cannot be disclosed: Aplite, brucite, calcium-magnesium chloride, diatomite, graphite, iodine, kyanite, lithium minerals, magnesite, greensand marl, olivine, staurolite, and wollastonite.
[7] Included with "Metals undistributed."
[8] Comprises value of items that cannot be disclosed: Chromite, cobalt, magnesium chloride for magnesium metal, manganiferous residuum, platinum-group metals (crude), rare earth metal concentrates, tin, zirconium concentrate, and values indicated by footnote reference 7.

[1] Gross earnings paid to all employees on payroll.

[2] Computed by subtracting cost of supplies, minerals received for preparation, purchased fuel and electric energy, contract work, and purchased machinery from the value of shipments and capital expenditures.

[3] Excludes proprietors and firm members of unincorporated concerns.

[4] Represents employees up through the working foreman level engaged in manual work. Includes development and exploration workers.

[5] Excludes paid vacations, holidays, and sick leave; includes actual overtime hours (not straight-time equivalent).

[6] Represents value of shipments of primary and secondary products of the industry and amount received for services performed for other establishments on a contract, fee, or other basis.

[7] Excludes figures for uranium-radium-vanadium ores industry (not available).
[8] Not strictly comparable with data for earlier years because of change in reporting procedures for crude petroleum and natural gas companies. [9] Excludes Alaska and Hawaii.
[10] Data were collected on the quantity but not on the cost of gas received for processing and on the value of residue gas shipped. Such costs have been estimated and included in group totals.
[11] Excludes data for dimension stone quarries operated in conjunction with dressing plants.
[12] Excludes data for mining included in establishments classified in manufacturing industries.
[13] Excludes 1 crushed stone quarry in Hawaii operated as part of an establishment primarily producing ready-mixed concrete.

[1] Relates to mines having an output of 1,000 tons a year or more, including lignite and small output of anthracite produced outside Pennsylvania. [2] Includes anthracite.

[3] Includes coal consumed by railroads (85,130,000 short tons in 1940, 60,969,000 in 1950, and 2,101,000 in 1960) excluded in distribution. For 1965, excludes anthracite; includes slack, culm, and lignite.

[4] Source: Federal Power Commission. Represents consumption by public-utility power plants in power generation, including a small quantity of coke. [5] Source: Bureau of the Census.

[6] Estimates based on reports collected from a selected list of representative steel and rolling mills, manufacturing plants and retailers. [7] Beginning 1950, average number of men working daily.

[8] Beginning 1950, production includes some bootleg coal purchased by anthracite industry for preparation and shipment to market. [9] Preliminary.

Section 27

Construction and Housing

This section presents various measures of construction activity and costs; housing units; housing values, facilities, and structural characteristics; and residential financing.

The principal sources of these data are the monthly Construction Reports series (see below) and reports of the decennial Census of Housing published by the Bureau of the Census; and the monthly Construction Review, published by the Business and Defense Services Administration. Other sources include the monthly Dodge Construction Contract Statistics Services of F. W. Dodge Division, McGraw-Hill Information Systems Company, which presents State data on construction contracts; the Engineering News-Record, issued weekly by McGraw-Hill Publications, which contains figures on construction costs; various statistical reports and records of the Department of Housing and Urban Development; and the Annual Report of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which presents home mortgage data. Data on characteristics of vacant housing units are collected by the Bureau of the Census and presented quarterly in its Current Housing Reports.

Construction.—Monthly statistics on the start of construction of total, single-family, and multifamily housing units in housekeeping residential buildings are published in Construction Reports: Housing Starts. Quarterly information is presented on number of units in multifamily buildings by number of floors and by number of bedrooms. The statistics are derived from monthly sample surveys. Historical data on housing starts and building permits appear in Housing Construction Statistics, 1899 to 1964, issued by the Bureau of the Census in 1966.

Monthly statistics supplemented by additional quarterly data on the number of new one-family homes sold and for sale, and annual statistics giving characteristics of new homes sold, contractor-built homes, and owner-built and rental homes, compiled by the Bureau of the Census under the sponsorship of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, are published in Construction Reports: Housing Sales. Statistics are based on samples of homes authorized by building permits and of homes started in areas without permit systems.

Monthly estimates of the value of construction put in place appear in the Bureau of the Census series, Construction Reports: Construction Activity, and in Value of New Construction Put in Place: 1962–1966.

A composite construction cost index is prepared by the Bureau of the Census and published monthly by the Business and Defense Services Administration in Construction Review.

Monthly statistics on housing units authorized by building permits, based on reports provided monthly by over 3,000 relatively active permit-issuing places and annually by the 12,000 known permit-issuing jurisdictions, appear in Construction Reports: Building Permits. Monthly statistics on nonresidential construction authorized by building permits, produced by the Bureau of the Census, appear in Construction Review.

Quarterly and annual statistics on expenditures for residential additions, alterations, repairs, maintenance, and replacements are published annually in Construction Reports: Residential Alterations and Repairs. Statistics are based on expenditures reported by owners of a sample of single and multifamily properties, including nonfarm and farm, privately and publicly owned, owner and renter occupied, and vacant housing units.

Housing.—From 1850 through 1930, the Bureau of the Census collected some housing data in conjunction with Censuses of Population and Agriculture. Beginning in 1940, full-fledged Censuses of Housing have been taken at 10-year intervals. The most recent census, taken as of April 1, 1960, provided data on occupancy and structural characteristics, condition, plumbing facilities, equipment, fuels, and financing. It also included data on components of inventory change (new construction, conversion, merger, demolition, and other gains and losses) for 1950–60 and 1957–60.

Estimates based on evaluation studies of the 1950 and 1960 censuses indicate a net undercount of about 2.3 percent for occupied housing units in 1950 and about 2.0 percent in 1960. Both studies indicated there were problems relating to the coverage of vacant units and, therefore, information on the undercount for the vacant portion of the housing inventory is not shown. The estimates of net coverage errors for occupied units for 1950 an 1960 are not strictly comparable due to such factors as differences in timing, procedures, and change in the unit of enumeration. The census data have not been adjusted to reflect the estimated undercount.

Housing units.—In general, a housing unit is a group of rooms or a single room occupied or intended for occupancy as separate living quarters, that is, the occupants do not live and eat with any other persons in the structure, and there is either (1) direct access from the outside or through a common hall, or (2) a kitchen or cooking equipment for the exclusive use of the occupants. Transient accommodations (tourist courts, hotels, etc.), barracks for workers (railroad, construction, etc.), and institutional-type quarters are not included in the housing-unit inventory.

Residential financing.—The collection of detailed statistics on residential mortgages began in 1890. As part of the 1920 and 1940 censuses, mortgage questions were asked of owners who occupied their own homes. In 1950, the census included a separate survey on residential financing, covering nonfarm residential mortgaged properties, both owner and renter. As part of the 1956 National Housing Inventory, data were collected on the financing of owner-occupied nonfarm properties. In 1960, the Residential Finance Survey program of the Census of Housing covered financing of both home owner and rental properties and characteristics of nonmortgaged as well as mortgaged properties.

Data on home mortgages and foreclosures, based largely on reports from major holders, are provided by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. The Federal Housing Administration compiles, from its records, data on its real estate financial operations, such as volume of mortgages insured, type of lending institution, etc. The Veterans Administration also compiles, from its records, data on amounts and types of loans.

NA Not available. [1] Includes value of site.

[2] Covers materials either (a) physically incorporated as integral part of a building or (b) normally installed during construction and not removable without seriously impairing building. Excludes consumer durables, such as kitchen ranges, refrigerators, etc. Beginning 1965, applies to Alaska and Hawaii.

Source: Dept. of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

[3] Based on minimum wage rates agreed upon through collective bargaining; excludes overtime. As of July 1. Source: Dept. of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, unpublished data.

[4] Covers both building and nonbuilding construction, excluding maintenance and repair. Represents a weighted average of various indexes, both private and government, used for different types of construction.

[5] Based on average contract unit bid prices for composite mile (involving specific average amounts of excavation, paving, reinforcing steel, structural steel, and structural concrete).

[6] Average for 30 cities of 4 types of buildings: Wood-frame, brick-wood frame, brick-steel frame, and reinforced concrete. Covers materials and labor costs in structural portion of buildings but excludes materials and labor prices for plumbing, heating, lighting, sprinklers, and elevators. Reflects employee-benefit costs, and allows for contractors' overhead and profit.

[7] Covers both building and nonbuilding construction. Wages and materials for 12 cities combined in 40–60 ratio. Wages are for hod carriers and common laborers only. Materials weighted: Sand, gravel, crushed stone, cement, common brick, and lumber, 1 each; hollow tile, ½; and structural and reinforcing steel (together) ½. Excludes taxes and employee-ebnefit costs.

[8] Average of 20 cities for types shown. Weights based on surveys of actual building costs and vary with different types of structures. Wage rates used for both common and skilled labor. Reflects payment of sales taxes and social security payroll taxes. Unweighted averages from Boeckh series prepared by Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

[9] Building construction index computed on basis of hypothetical unit of construction requiring 6 bbl. of portland cement, 1.088 M bd. ft. of 2″ x 4″ lumber, 2,500 lb. of structural steel, and 68.38 hours of skilled labor. General construction index based on same materials components combined with 200 hours of common labor. Not adjusted for changes in materials availability, competitive conditions, efficiency of plant and management, productivity, or related factors.

[10] Composite of 36 major cost elements in 3 commercial-type buildings including structural elements and elevators, wiring, plumbing, heating, and ventilating. Job costs include both skilled and unskilled labor, and series reflects employee-benefit costs.

[11] Eastern cities. Based on firm's cost experience with respect to labor rates, materials prices, competitive conditions, efficiency of plant and management, and productivity. Reflects payment of sales taxes and employee-benefit costs.

[12] Based on data covering public utility construction costs (building construction, gas plant construction, and electric light and power construction) for 95 items in 6 geographic regions of the U.S. Job costs include both skilled and common labor. Indexes do not reflect tax payments nor employee-benefit cost. Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, has converted these series to a 1957–59 base, and combined the various items into a single index.

[13] As derived by Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census; covers steam production plants only; excludes hydraulic plants.

[1] Statistics on the number of occupied units are essentially comparable although identified by various terms—the term "family" applies to figures for 1930 and earlier; "occupied dwelling unit," 1940 and 1950; and "occupied housing unit," 1960. For 1890, 1910, and 1920, includes the small number of quasi-families; 1900 and 1930 represent private families only.

[2] Total population, which includes the population in group quarters and quasi-family groups, divided by the number of occupied units. This concept was used for consistency; population counts exclusive of persons in group quarters and quasi-family groups are not available for some of the census years.

[3] Includes Alaska and Hawaii.

[4] Not comparable with data for earlier censuses because of a basic change in definition of farm residence. See text, p. 2.

[5] For 1890 to 1920, "Farm" contains a small proportion of urban-farm families in addition to the rural-farm families.

No. 1093. Renter-Occupied Nonfarm Housing Units—Gross Monthly Rent: 1940 to 1960

[Number in thousands. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Contract monthly rent is the rent at the time of enumeration, as contracted for by the renter, regardless of whether it includes furniture, heating fuel, electricity, cooking fuel, water, or other services sometimes supplied. Gross monthly rent is contract monthly rent plus the reported average monthly cost of utilities (electricity, gas, water) and other fuels (such as coal, oil, kerosene, and wood) if these items were paid for by the renter, in addition to contract monthly rent. In 1940 and 1950, if furniture was included in the contract rent, the reported estimated rent of the housing unit without furniture was used for the computation rather than the contract rent. For definition of median, see headnote, table 8]

Section 28

Manufactures

This section presents measures of the manufacturing segment of the economy and its component inputs and outputs. The input data include figures for establishments; employment and wages; raw materials, fuels, and electricity consumed; plant and equipment expenditures; and water use. The output data include figures for value and quantity of production and shipments; and value added by manufacture. Both types of data are shown for manufacturing as a whole, for major product groups, and for specific selected products.

The principal sources of these data are the reports of the Census of Manufactures conducted periodically by the Bureau of the Census; the same agency's Annual Survey of Manufactures; and its Current Industrial Reports series which presents monthly, quarterly, or annual data on production, shipments, and stocks for particular commodities. Indexes of industrial production are presented monthly in the Federal Reserve Board's Federal Reserve Bulletin. Reports on current activities of industries, or current movements of individual commodities, are also compiled by such government agencies as Bureau of Labor Statistics, Statistical Reporting Service of the Department of Agriculture, Business and Defense Services Administration, Fish and Wildlife Service, Tariff Commission, and Internal Revenue Service; and by private research or trade associations such as the American Iron and Steel Institute, the National Canners Association, and the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers.

Data on financial operations and intercorporate relations of manufacturing corporations are collected from time to time by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Tariff Commission, and the Federal Trade Commission. Financial statistics for certain manufacturing industries in the form of balance sheets, profit and loss statements, analyses of sales and expenses, lists of subsidiaries, and types and amounts of security issues are summarized and published for the leading corporations that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Tariff Commission publishes commodity surveys which cover economic and competitive aspects of production, distribution, and international trade in selected important industries. Each survey deals with several products which are related because of the raw materials consumed, or because of their competitive uses. The Federal Trade Commission has made several comprehensive studies of individual industries.

Censuses and annual surveys.—The first Census of Manufactures covered the year 1809. Thereafter, a census was taken at 10-year intervals to 1899, with the exception of 1829. It was conducted at 5-year intervals from 1904 through 1919, and at 2-year intervals from 1921 through 1939. It was suspended during the war period until the 1947 census. Thereafter, censuses were taken covering 1954, 1958, 1963, and 1967. Data from the 1967 census, covering manufactures during 1967, will be presented in the 1969 edition of this book.

The Annual Survey of Manufactures, conducted for the first time in 1949, carries forward, for the intercensal years, measures of manufacturing activity covered in detail by the quinquennial Census of Manufactures. It provides statistics on employment, payrolls, value added by manufacture, inventories, and new capital expenditures for industry groups, individual industries, geographic divisions, States, and large standard metropolitan statistical areas.

The most recent annual survey is based on a sample of about 60,000 of an approximate total of 300,000 manufacturing establishments. It comprises all large plants, which account for approximately two-thirds of total manufacturing employment in the United States, and a representative selection of the more numerous small plants. Government-owned and -operated establishments are excluded.

Establishments and classification.—The 1947, 1954, 1958, and 1963 Censuses of Manufactures covered operating manufacturing establishments as defined in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual issued by the Bureau of the Budget. Reports were required from all establishments employing one or more persons at any time during the census year. Each of the establishments tabulated was classified in one of the more than 400 manufacturing industries as defined by the Standard Industrial Classification system. This system defines an industry as a number of establishments producing a single product or a closely related group of products. An establishment is classified in a particular industry if its production of this product or product group exceeds in value its production of any other product group. In a few instances, the industry classification of an establishment is determined not only by its product group but also by the processes employed in making the products.

Final reports of the 1958 Census of Manufactures present data based on the classifications in the 1957 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual and include 1954 data converted to the same basis. Selected industries were reclassified for the 1963 census. Wherever possible, the corresponding 1958 data were revised to a comparable basis. Because of the revisions in classification, 1954, 1958, and 1963 census data for some industries and industry groups are not comparable with figures for prior years. The 1967 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual was issued in early 1967.

While some establishments produce only the products of the industry in which they are classified, it rarely happens that all the establishments in an industry specialize to that extent. The statistics on employment, payrolls, value added, inventories, and expenditures, therefore, reflect not only the primary activities of the establishments in that industry but also activities of a secondary nature. For this reason the industry statistics usually cannot be directly related to statistics on the total shipments of products primary to the industry.

The 1947, 1954, 1958, and 1963 Censuses were conducted on an establishment basis. The term "establishment" signifies a single physical plant site or factory. It is not necessarily identical with the business unit or company, which may consist of one or more establishments. A company operating establishments at more than one location is required to submit a separate report for each location. An establishment engaged in distinctly different lines of activity and maintaining separate payroll and inventory records is also required to submit separate reports.

The basic statistical measures of manufacturing activity, such as employment, payrolls, value added, etc., are defined in essentially the same way for the annual surveys as for the Census of Manufactures. Consequently, these series may be considered comparable, except for the changes brought about by the revisions in the industry classification system noted above. However, beginning with 1949, average employment was calculated from the figures reported for the pay periods ending nearest the fifteenth of March, May, August, and November, whereas for 1947 such averages were based on 12 monthly employment figures. The 1954 figures are an average of reported employment totals for the four specified months, except for highly seasonal industries, where a 12-month average was obtained. For 1958 and 1963, averages of production workers for the four specified months plus the March figure for "all other employees" were used for all industries. Figures for 1947 exclude data for central administrative offices and auxiliary establishments of manufacturing concerns, which are included in the statistics for later years.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

Technical Note—Annual Survey of Manufactures

The annual survey estimates vary from the totals that would have been obtained from a complete canvass of all manufacturing establishments. The relative magnitude of this sampling variation is given in the table column captioned "Standard error." The standard error should be interpreted to mean that the sample estimates will differ from complete canvass totals by less than: (1) The percentage shown in approximately 2 cases out of 3; (2) twice the percentage shown in approximately 19 cases out of 20; and (3) three times the percentage shown in almost every case. It should be noted that standard errors are shown only for selected items. The standard errors of other measures are usually of the same general magnitude.

In making any study of the trend, it is important to take account of the effect of the sampling variation on the apparent increase or decrease shown between years. In addition to sampling errors, individual figures may be subject to biases arising from undetected response or procedural errors which are not reflected in the "standard errors." Figures are enclosed by parentheses in the original source volumes if (1) the standard error of the estimate exceeds 15 percent, or (2) survey estimates are inconsistent with other census series and related data. Any estimate which can be derived by subtraction of one published figure from another may have a standard error considerably in excess of 15 percent.

NA Not available. [1] Census data. [2] Includes administrative offices and auxiliary units.
[3] Includes data for employees of manufacturing establishments engaged in distribution and construction work. Beginning 1950, includes administrative offices, and units auxiliary to manufacturing.
[4] Data for all industries in 1950, and for most industries in 1954, are based on pay periods ending nearest 15th of March, May, August, and November. For 1947, and industries of a seasonal type in 1954, data represent average of 12 monthly figures.
[5] Unadjusted through 1950; thereafter, adjusted. For definitions, see footnote 2, table 1110.
[6] Includes extensive and unmeasurable duplication from shipments between establishments in the same industry classification.
[7] Beginning 1954, includes expenditures for plants under construction and not yet in operation.

[1] "All employees" represents the average of "production workers" plus all other employees for the payroll period ended nearest the 15th of March.

[2] Value of shipments less cost of materials, supplies, containers, fuels, purchased electricity, and contract work, plus net change in finished goods and wor -in-process inventory, and value added in merchandising activities of manufacturing establishments. For 1958, brea down does not add to total because of exclusion of selected industries for Alaska and Hawaii in order to avoid disclosure.

[3] Includes extensive duplication arising from shipments between establishments in the same industry classification.

[4] Includes expenditures for plants in operation and plants under construction but not yet in operation.

[5] Value of production. The formula for computing adjusted value added by manufacture was modified to exclude any change in finished products inventories between beginning and end of year.
[6] Beginning 1963, not strictly comparable with data for 1958 due to difference in coverage.
[7] Includes privately owned and/or operated establishments classified in "Ordnance and accessories." Excludes Government-owned and -operated equipment.
[8] Manufacturing concerns often reported separately for central offices or auxiliaries which serve the manufacturing establishments of a company, rather than the general public. Separate reports were obtained from such units if at a different location or if they serviced more than one establishment.

[1] Sum of State totals may not add to U.S. total because figures were independently derived.
[2] Operating establishments only.
[3] Includes employment and payroll at administrative offices and auxiliary units.
[4] "Production workers" represents the average of the employment for the payroll periods ended nearest the 15th of March, May, August, and November. "All employees" represents the average of "production workers" plus all other employees for the payroll period ended nearest the 15th of March.
[5] 1965, represents unadjusted value added. See footnote 2, table 1108.

[1] Excludes administrative offices and auxiliary units.
[2] For 1954, 1958, and 1963, represents adjusted value added and, for 1947, unadjusted value added. Unadjusted value added is obtained by subtracting cost of materials, supplies, containers, fuel, purchased electric energy, and contract work from value of shipments for products manufactured plus receipts for services rendered. Adjusted value added also takes into account (a) value added by merchandising operations (that is, difference between the sales value and cost of merchandise sold without further manufacture, processing, or assembly), plus (b) net change in finished goods and work-in-process inventories between beginning and end of year.
[3] Includes expenditures for plants under construction and not yet in operation. Data by employment size-class not available for 1947.

No. 1111. Percent of Shipments Accounted for by Large Manufacturing Companies, Selected Industries: 1947, 1958, and 1963

[Prior to 1963, excludes Alaska and Hawaii. First 50 industries as determined by value of shipments in 1963. Industry codes and descriptions are based on the 1957 Standard Industrial Classification Manual (SIC) as modified in 1963. Determination of company affiliation of establishments is based on census reports and publicly available records. Value of shipment totals for establishments have been summarized into company totals in each manufacturing industry. "Largest" companies are determined by each company's value of shipments in the specified industry. Industries in the "not elsewhere classified" category are omitted, regardless of their value of shipments]

NA Not available. X Not applicable. [1] Standard Industrial Classification code.

[2] Figures not completely comparable between 1963 and prior years. Comprises, for all manufacturing establishments classified in an industry, (a) value of products "primary" to the industry, (b) value of "secondary" products, which are primary to other industries, (c) "miscellaneous receipts" such as those for contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap and salable refuse, repair, etc., and (d) value of resales, i.e., products resold in the same condition as bought.

[3] Value added by manufacture used as basis for computing percentages because value of shipments data (used for ranking) contain substantial duplication. For 1963, value added is adjusted; for prior years, unadjusted.

[4] For 1947, based on combined figures for Industry 3311, Blast Furnaces; Industry 3312, Steelworks and Rolling Mills; Industry 2931, Beehive Coke Ovens; and Industry 2932, Byproduct Coke ovens.

[5] A number of small establishments was misclassified into this industry affecting the number of companies, but having no appreciable effect on value or percentage of shipments.

[6] Value of production shown rather than value of shipments. Includes value of primary and secondary products made, miscellaneous receipts such as contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap and other salable refuse, and the value of products bought and resold in the same condition. For 1958, excludes resales.

[7] Included in 1958 census for first time.

[8] For 1947 and 1958, value of production; does not affect significantly comparability with 1963.

[9] Includes "captive" foundries (producing gray-iron castings for other plants of the same company). Accordingly, percentages do not reflect market shares in industry as such.

[1] Barrels of 31 wine gallons (see footnote 10).

[2] Based on Bureau of the Census estimated population 18 years old and over, as of January 1, including Armed Forces abroad. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Source: Dept. of Commerce, Business and Defense Services Administration.

[3] Prior to 1960, represents registered distilleries, fruit distilleries, and industrial alcohol plants. In some instances a plant was operated at different times in more than one of these categories and was counted in each.

[4] Prior to 1960, represents internal revenue bonded warehouses and industrial alcohol bonded warehouses.

[5] Prior to 1960, net production obtained by deducting total products used in redistillation from gross production of neutral product (spirits); thereafter, each kind of distilled spirits used in redistillation was deducted from gross production of same kind.

[6] Excludes alcohol produced for industrial use.

[7] A tax gallon for spirits of 100 proof or over is equivalent to the proof gallon, for spirits of less than 100 proof, to the wine gallon. (See footnotes 8 and 10.)

[8] A proof gallon is the alcoholic equivalent of a U.S. gallon at 60° F, containing 50 percent of ethyl alcohol by volume.

[9] Includes ethyl alcohol.

[10] A wine gallon is the U.S. gallon, equivalent to the volume of 231 cubic inches.

[11] Production represents total amount removed from fermenters, including distilling material, and beginning 1967, includes increase after fermentation (by amelioration, sweetening, and addition of wine spirits). In 1967, 411,269,690 gallons of distilling materials were produced.

[12] Includes special natural wines.

[13] Excludes distilling materials.

[14] Includes champagne, other effervescent wines, and artificially carbonated wines.

[1] Represents alcohol and spirits, 190 proof and over, produced at distilled spirits plants.

[2] Through 1940, represents withdrawals of all products for denaturation, that is, domestic ethyl alcohol, spirits produced by registered distilleries (redesignated upon receipt at denaturing plants as alcohol), and rum. Beginning 1950, represents all products (except rum) used for denaturation, that is, domestic ethyl alcohol, imported ethyl alcohol, and spirits. Rum is included for 1940 because denatured rum is included with specially denatured alcohol for that year.

[3] Prior to 1950, includes denatured rum.

[1] Prior to 1950, represents all spindles in place used exclusively for spinning cotton; thereafter, represents all spindles in place regardless of fiber spun.
[2] Prior to 1950, represents sum of greatest number of cotton spindles reported by each mill as active at any time during year, regardless of length of time operated; thereafter, comprises cotton-system spindles active last day of year, regardless of type of fiber spun. On July 29, 1967, there were 14,875,000 spindles active on cotton, 4,892,000 on synthetics and other fibers and blends, and 752,000 idle.
[3] Includes foreign and domestic cotton.
[4] Cotton stocks prior to 1940 and linters stocks for all years are stocks held by consuming establishments. Beginning in 1940, cotton stocks include stocks at public storage and compresses.

[In thousands of long tons. Prior to 1964, excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except for imports and exports, which also include Puerto Rico. Natural rubber refers to dry weights of all types, including liquid latex, guayule, etc. Synthetic comprises SBR (including weight of oil content, beginning 1955), neoprene, butyl, and butadiene-acrylonitrile, all years; beginning 1964, also includes polyisobutylene, chlorosulfonated polyethylene, and polysulfide, silicone, acrylic, stereo, and fluorocarbon rubbers. Reclaimed comprises both natural and synthetic rubber reclaims]

[2] Excludes quantities produced and consumed by municipalities.
[3] Excludes byproduct coke-oven production.
[4] Includes data for decolorizing and water purification grades only.
[5] Excludes quantities produced and consumed in plants manufacturing soda ash or urea.
[6] Total production, including quantities liquefied for use, storage, or shipment.
[7] Beginning 1955, excludes quantities produced and consumed in manufacture of methanol and ammonia, produced by ammonia dissociation process, or disposed of as waste, e.g., vented, used as fuel, etc.
[8] Ammonia soda and caustic carbonation processes.
[9] Includes quantities used to manufacture caustic soda, sodium bicarbonate, and finished light and dense soda ash. [10] Excludes quantities converted to finished dense soda ash.
[11] Prior to 1960, includes amounts produced and consumed in making meta-, ortho-, and sesquisilicates; beginning 1960, excludes these amounts. [12] Includes Glauber's salt converted to 100% Na_2SO_4.
[13] Includes sulfuric acid of oleum grades.

Section 29
Distribution and Services

This section presents statistics relating to retail, wholesale, and service trades. Data shown for the distribution trades, classified by kind of business, and for the various categories of services (personal, business, repair, amusement, hotel, etc.) cover sales or receipts, establishments, employees, payrolls, proprietors, and other items. Also included are several tables on advertising expenditures.

The principal sources of these data are the reports of the Census of Business and of annual and monthly surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census. Data on retail sales, wholesale inventories and sales, consumer expenditures for services, etc. appear in the monthly Survey of Current Business, issued by the Office of Business Economics. Financial data for tax-filing and securities-listed corporations engaged in retail, wholesale, or service trades, and for sole proprietorships and partnerships similarly engaged, appear in the annual Statistics of Income, published by the Internal Revenue Service, and are also available from the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Federal Trade Commission, in the course of its investigations, collects operating statistics on firms and chains in various kinds of business.

Censuses and current surveys.—Censuses of business have been taken at intervals since 1929. The 1963 census is the most recent for which complete data are available. Present legislation provides for a quinquennial census to be conducted for years ending in "2" and "7." Data from the 1967 census (conducted in 1968) will be presented in the 1969 edition of this book.

Current sample surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census cover various aspects of the retail, wholesale, and service trades. Estimates of weekly sales in retail stores are shown for the United States, by kind of business, in the Bureau's Weekly Retail Sales Report. Its Monthly Retail Trade Report contains monthly estimates of sales and end-of-month accounts receivable of all retail stores and of retail organizations operating 11 or more stores, United States, by kind of business. Also included are monthly retail sales data for census regions and divisions, 15 large States, and 20 large standard metropolitan statistical areas. Annual figures on sales, sales-stock ratios, and year-end inventories and accounts receivable data, classified by kind of business, are presented in the Annual Retail Trade Report.

Statistics from the Bureau's wholesale trade survey, conducted monthly, include merchant wholesalers' sales and inventories and stock-sales ratios by kind of business, United States, as well as sales and inventory trends by kind of business and by geographic divisions. Monthly sales estimates are also shown by geographic divisions for the summary groups—durable goods trades, nondurable goods trades, and all trades combined. These data, based on reports submitted by a sample of firms representing merchant wholesalers in all kinds of business, appear in the Monthly Wholesale Trade Report. The monthly Selected Services Receipts Report, first issued in November 1966, provides monthly estimates of receipts for six major kinds of business groups for the United States as a whole. The monthly retail, wholesale, and service trades data are adjusted by the Bureau of the Census for seasonal variations and, in the case of sales, also for trading day differences. These data are also published in the Survey of Current Business.

The Bureau of the Census issues a quarterly report on green coffee inventories in the United States as well as total coffee roastings and roastings for soluble use. The Bureau's Canned Food Report, issued five times a year, provides canner and distributor stocks of various canned foods as well as canners' data on pack and shipments.

Estimates obtained from the annual and monthly surveys are based on sample data and are not expected to agree with the results that would be obtained from a complete census of all establishments. Measures of sampling variability, shown in the source reports, exclude biases arising from differences of response or from nonreporting.

Establishments and coverage.—The business establishments covered in the Census of Business are classified into 3 groups as follows: (1) Retail trade, places of business primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal, household, or farm consumption; (2) Wholesale trade, establishments primarily engaged in selling goods to dealers and distributors for resale or to purchasers who buy for business uses; and (3) Selected services, establishments engaged primarily in the sale of services as contrasted with the sale of merchandise. Figures for establishments refer to those in business at the end of the year.

The Census of Business excludes the activities of doctors, lawyers, dentists, and others performing a professional or scientific service; educational institutions; religious or charitable institutions; hospitals and infirmaries; and public utilities. Government-operated enterprises, except wholesale and retail liquor operations, are also excluded.

Data from the 1958 census exclude retail and service nonemployer establishments which had receipts of less than $2,500 and $1,000, respectively. In the 1963 census, this rule was modified so as to include those nonemployer establishments which did not operate the entire year if, during the period they operated, their receipts were at a rate which would have reached the annual totals specified had they operated the entire year. Wholesale trade establishments with no paid employment are excluded from both the 1958 and 1963 data.

Advertising.—The statistics on advertising expenditures are compiled by private organizations. McCann-Erickson, Inc., which compiles certain of the data shown, defines national advertising as the advertising done for companies whose products are distributed nationally, and for which national media rates are paid; and local advertising as the advertising done for companies which market their products locally and which may pay special "local" media rates. Monthly figures are published regularly in Printers' Ink and in the Survey of Current Business. Total corporate expenditures for advertising, by industry, appear in Statistics of Income.

Section 30

Foreign Commerce and Aid

This section presents data on the flow of goods, services, and capital between the United States and other countries; changes in official gold reserves of the United States; international investments; foreign assistance programs; and import duties.

The Office of Business Economics publishes current figures on the U.S. balance of payments and international investment position in its monthly Survey of Current Business, and on total foreign aid by the Federal Government in its periodic Foreign Grants and Credits by the United States Government. Figures for earlier periods are presented in Balance of Payments—Statistical Supplement, 1963 revised edition, and in the June issues of the Survey of Current Business. Statistics for the foreign aid programs are presented by the Agency for International Development in its quarterly Operations Report and annual report, U.S. Economic Programs Administered by the Agency for International Development and Predecessor Agencies, and by the Department of Agriculture in its Foreign Agricultural Trade of the United States. Geographic data on foreign income received by U.S. corporations and foreign taxes paid on this income are presented by the Internal Revenue Service in its Supplemental Statistics of Income reports.

The principal sources of import and export data are publications of the Bureau of the Census. Current data are presented monthly in Report FT 135, U.S. Imports, General and Consumption, Schedule A Commodity and Country (formerly Report FT 125, U.S. Imports of Merchandise for Consumption) and in Report FT 410, U.S. Exports, Commodity by Country. Historical data appear in Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States, issued annually through 1946 and resumed, on an annual basis in 1965, with a volume covering the years 1946 to 1963. For a complete list of the Bureau's monthly, quarterly, and annual reports in this field, consult the Bureau of the Census Catalog. In addition, the Bureau of International Commerce and the Office of Business Economics present summary and selected commodity and country data for U.S. foreign trade in the Overseas Business Reports and the Survey of Current Business, respectively. The Treasury Department's Annual Report of the Secretary contains information on import duties.

International accounts and foreign aid.—The balance of payments table (No. 1198) shows for given time periods the transfer of goods, services, grants, and financial assets and liabilities between the United States and the rest of the world.

The international investment position table (No. 1200) presents for specific dates the value of U.S. investments abroad and of foreign investments in the United States. The movement of foreign and U.S. capital as presented in the balance of payments is not the only factor affecting the total value of foreign investments. Among the other factors are: Changes in the valuation of assets or liabilities, including securities; defaults; expropriations; write-offs; and reinvested earnings of subsidiaries operating abroad and of foreign subsidiaries operating in the United States.

Foreign assistance is divided into three major categories—grants (military supplies and services, and other grants), credits, and other assistance (through net accumulation of foreign currency claims from the sale of agricultural commodities). The U.S. Government's capital investments in the international financial institutions constitute an additional measure taken by the Government to promote foreign economic recovery, development, and financial stability.

Grants are transfers for which no payment is expected (other than a limited percentage of the foreign currency "counterpart" funds generated by the grant), or which at most involve an obligation on the part of the receiver to extend aid to the United States or other countries to achieve a common objective. Credits are loan disbursements or transfers under other agreements which give rise to specific obligations to repay, over a period of years, usually with interest. In some instances assistance has been given with the understanding that a decision as to repayment will be made at a later date; such assistance is included in grants. At such time as an agreement is reached for repayment over a period of years, a credit is established. Such credits cannot, as a rule, be deducted from specific grants recorded in previous periods; an adjustment for grants converted into credits is made at the time of agreement. All known returns to the U.S. Government stemming from grants and credits (reverse grants, returns of grants, and payments of principal) are taken into account in net grants and net credits, but no allowance is made for interest or commissions. Other assistance represents the transfer of U.S. farm products in exchange for foreign currencies, (plus, since enactment of Public Law 87–128, currency claims from principal and interest collected on credits extended under the farm products program), less the Government's disbursements of the currencies as grants, credits, or for purchases. The net acquisition of currencies represents net transfers of resources to foreign countries under the agricultural programs, in addition to those classified as grants or credits.

Figures as published in Foreign Grants and Credits by the United States Government are not identical with figures shown for Government unilateral transfers and capital in the balance of payments, mainly because of differences in treatment of particular items by the two sets of accounts. Such items include: Contributions to the multilateral construction program of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; Government investments in certain productive enterprises abroad; Government receipts on funded claims; and net changes in foreign currency holdings resulting from transactions other than those under the farm products program, such as by collection of principal and interest and by purchase for dollars.

The basic instrument for extending military aid to friendly nations has been the Mutual Defense Assistance Program authorized by the Congress in 1949. Prior to 1952, economic and technical aid was authorized in the Foreign Assistance Act of 1948, the 1950 Act for International Development, and other legislation which set up programs for specific countries. In 1952, these economic, technical, and military aid programs were combined under the Mutual Security Act, which in turn was followed by the Foreign Assistance Act passed in 1961. Figures on activity under the Foreign Assistance Act as reported in Foreign Grants and Credits differ from similar data published by the Agency for International Development or its immediate predecessors due largely to differences in method of reporting, timing, and treatment of particular items.

Foreign trade.—Export data are compiled by the Bureau of the Census from Shippers' Export Declarations which exporters are required to file with customs officials for shipments leaving the United States. Export data include shipments made after World War II under the Department of the Army Civilian Supply Program for 1948 and subsequent years and, in addition, U.S. exports under mutual security programs. Shipments to U.S. Armed Forces for their own use are not included.

Export values are based on the selling price (or on the cost, if not sold) of the commodity shipped and include inland freight, insurance, and other charges to place of export. Transportation and other costs beyond the U.S. port of exportation are excluded. The country of destination is defined as the country of ultimate destination or country where the merchandise is to be consumed, further processed, or manufactured. In the event the exporter does not have definite information as to the country of ultimate destination for a shipment, it is credited (for statistical purposes) to the country to which it is consigned.

Certain export commodity classifications were grouped for security reasons into special categories beginning with May 1949, with periodic amendments to include additional commodities or to remove commodities from the special category list as the result of the relaxation of security restrictions for individual commodities. With the adoption of new security regulations, effective July 1950, the publication of the country of destination and customs district detail for the special category commodities and groups was discontinued. Data for special category commodities are included, however, in all total export statistics and, effective January 1967, are also included in totals for individual countries except a few for which security regulations still restrict the release of such information.

Shipments individually valued at less than $100 are not classified by commodity, but are included in exports with "other transactions." From July 1953 through December 1959, a 10-percent sample was the basis for data on export shipments individually valued from $100 to $499 (about 4 to 6 percent of total exports) except that, for January through June 1956, the 10 percent applied to shipments valued up to $999. Beginning January 1960, the sample ratio was increased to 50 percent for all countries except Canada. Effective January 1963, the 10-percent sample for Canada was applied to shipments individually valued from $100 to $1,999. In most cases, the sampling error in individual export totals is probably less than 5 percent.

Import data are compiled by the Bureau of the Census from import entries (various customs forms) which importers are required to file with customs officials for each shipment arriving. Import values are, in general, based on market or selling price excluding import duties and are f.o.b. the exporting country. The country of origin is defined as the country in which the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. If the importer cannot obtain information as to the country of origin, the merchandise is credited (for statistical purposes) to the country of shipment.

Imports are classified either as general imports or imports for consumption. General imports represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for in-transit shipments), that is, merchandise entered for immediate consumption ("duty free" merchandise, merchandise on which duty is paid on arrival, and merchandise entered into bonded customs manufacturing warehouses for processing and subsequent export of the main product) plus merchandise entered into bonded customs storage warehouses and into bonded customs smelting and refining warehouses. Imports for consumption are the total of entries for immediate consumption plus merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouses for consumption, withdrawn from bonded smelting and refining warehouses, and transferred from bonded storage warehouses to bonded manufacturing warehouses for manufacturing and export.

Beginning 1954, estimates of imports valued at $250 or less are based on a 5-percent sample; and beginning 1958, estimates of imports valued under $100 reported on form consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (limited to $250) are based on a 1-percent sample. For the period July 1965–December 1966, formal entry shipments valued at $250 and under are also estimated from a 1-percent sample. This was increased to a 5-percent sample for all shipments valued at $250 or less during 1967. These estimated low-value shipments are included in commodity and country imports with "other transactions." The total value of the estimated low-value shipments generally amounts to about 1 percent of the monthly import total.

A description of the procedures used for compiling the foreign trade statistics appears in Report FT 135, U.S. Imports, General and Consumption, Schedule A Commodity and Country, and Report FT 410, United States Exports, Commodity by Country.

Data relating to U.S. airborne and waterborne foreign commerce are presented in section 22, Transportation—Air and Water.

Area coverage.—The geographic area covered by these statistics, except as noted, is the United States customs area, which includes the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico, and, for 1935 through 1939, the Virgin Islands.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 1207. Major U.S. Government Foreign Assistance, by Program: 1945 to 1967

[In millions of dollars. "P.L." means Public Law. Grants and credits are generally goods delivered or shipped by, services rendered by, or funds disbursed by U.S. Government to or for account of a foreign government or other foreign entity. "Reverse grants and returns" and "principal collections" are comprised of goods, services, and funds received by U.S. Government. "Assistance through net accumulation of foreign currency claims" primarily represents transfer of U.S. farm products in exchange for foreign currencies (plus, since enactment of P.L. 87-128, principal and interest collections in foreign currencies for credits extended under the farm sales program), less the Government's disbursements of the currencies as grants, credits, or for purchases. "Funds" includes foreign currency which, with goods and services, is measured in dollar equivalents]

[1] July 1, 1945, through Dec. 31, 1967. All lend-lease and conversions of prior grants to credits are from V-J Day (Sept. 2, 1945).

[2] For detail, see table 1209.

[3] Net new grants have not been adjusted for settlements for postwar relief and other grants under agreements, and net new credits exclude prior grants converted into credits. Prior grants converted into credits were as follows: July 1945–December 1956, $2,257 million; 1962, $490 million. Repayments on these settlements included in net new credits. Technically, prior grants recorded into credits amounting to $273 million are so recorded for convenience, as settlements are still to be reached with governments in question.

[4] Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (P.L. 87-195), as amended. Also includes predecessor and related programs. Beginning 1964, Defense Dept. transactions estimated.

[5] These "loans" are essentially transfers on an indeterminate basis, generally requiring only the return of the identical item, if available. In essence, this was the requirement pertaining to wartime lend-lease transfers of watercraft, which were included as grant transfers in these data.

[6] Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act.

[7] Includes donations through United Nations Children's Fund and United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees.

[8] Outstanding credits on Dec. 31, 1967, totaled $21,997 million representing net credits extended since organization of Export-Import Bank, Feb. 12, 1934, less chargeoffs, and net adjustments due to exchange rates ($864 million), and excluding World War I debts. The amount repayable in dollars at U.S. Government option was $16,430 million; the remainder was repayable in foreign currencies, commodities, or services, at the option of the borrowers.

[9] Equivalent value of currencies still available to be used, including some funds advanced from foreign governments and after loss by exchange rate fluctuations ($1,293 million), was $1,966 million on Dec. 31, 1967.

[10] Commodity Credit Corporation Charter Act.

[11] Includes foreign currencies acquired from triangular trade operations and principal and interest collections on credits, originally extended under Public Law 83-480, which—since enactment of Public Law 87-128—are available for the same purposes as Public Law 83-480 currencies.

– Represents zero. [1] Military assistance programs chargeable to appropriations; totals exclude grants from stocks which are excess to requirements of U.S. military departments and are not charged to appropriations. Annual data for military assistance and excess stocks are deliveries; cumulative totals represent total amounts programed for 1950–1967. The difference between the sum of the data by years and the cumulative total is the value of goods programed but not yet delivered.

[2] Represents net Development Loan authorizations and other AID and predecessor agency obligations during each fiscal year beginning with the European Recovery Program on April 3, 1948. AID was the administering agency for economic assistance in 1962–1967. See text, p. 788.

X Not applicable. [1] Includes seed.
[2] Percents based on quantity are considerably lower than those based on value (see source).
[3] Exports exclude byproducts for 1958 and 1960; include private shipments for relief and charity amounting to $2.2 million for 1958, $21.5 million for 1960, and $0.4 million for 1965.
[4] Includes some byproducts, valued at $4.7 million, not included for 1958 and 1960.
[5] Exports exclude feed and fertilizer byproducts for 1958 and 1960.
[6] The value of imports exceeds that of exports for this commodity group in most years.
[7] Percents based on data for refined copper and alloys. Output includes substantial amounts of duplication.
[8] Exports include service industry machines and parts for 1958 and 1960.
[9] Exports include some used and rebuilt sewing machines and parts for 1958 and 1960.
[10] Exports exclude a considerable value of electromedical diagnostic equipment for 1958 and 1960.
[11] Exports include some unworked stones.

NA Not available. X Not applicable. [1] Commodities shown are mainly complementary (see source) and represent part of 4-digit SIC commodity classifications. [2] Substantial volume also exported. [3] Includes manganiferous iron ore (less than 10 percent manganese). [4] Percents based on output values estimated on the basis of recovered metal prices rather than at the mine. [5] Excludes refined anhydrous sulfate and salt cake (crude) technical. [6] Percents based on output which contains substantial duplication. [7] Excludes distillers' dried grains and dried solubles. [8] Excludes excelsior and cooperage headings. [9] Excludes paper-machine coated paper. [10] Probably includes significant amounts of plastic footwear. [11] Imports are for gloves in chief value of leather; percents based on output of all-leather gloves. [12] Not calculated because of duplication involved in combined output figures; minimum percent, 20. [13] Percents based on output values which do not reflect significant amounts of toll production. [14] Represents mainly metals, nickel, and tin. [15] Percents based on new supply which contains significant amount of duplication (value of imported movements included in output data). [16] Output excludes captive value of lapidary work.

[1] Beginning 1950, exports of certain commodities were grouped into "Special Categories" for security reasons. Data in this table do not represent total exports to the respective continents and countries, but total exports less "Special Category" commodities. See July 1955; June, August, and December 1957; and April 1958 issues of Foreign Trade Statistics Notes and January 1961 Report No. FT 410 for further explanation and lists of "Special Category" commodities. Data reflect changes made in list of such commodities during 1957, 1960, and 1965.

[2] Malta, Gozo, and Cyprus combined prior to 1962.

[3] Includes Aegean Islands.

[4] Effective January 1966, includes the portion of the Free Territory of Trieste under the administration of Italy.

[5] Effective January 1966, includes the portion of the Free Territory of Trieste under the administration of Yugoslavia.

Section 31

Outlying Areas Under the Jurisdiction of the United States

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the principal possessions of the United States (Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa), and the Canal Zone. Population estimates of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands are also presented.

Primary sources of these data are the decennial censuses of population, housing, and agriculture, and the quinquennial censuses of business and manufactures conducted by the Bureau of the Census; the annual Vital Statistics of the United States issued by the Public Health Service; the biennial Statistics of State School Systems published by the Office of Education; the Minerals Yearbook of the Bureau of Mines; and the annual Agricultural Statistics of the Department of Agriculture.

Jurisdiction.—The circumstances under which the United States gained jurisdiction over these areas are as follows:

The islands of Puerto Rico and Guam, surrendered by Spain to the United States in October 1898, were ceded to the United States by the Treaty of Paris, signed December 10, 1898, and ratified in 1899. Puerto Rico acquired the status of a commonwealth on July 25, 1952.

The Virgin Islands, formerly known as the Danish West Indies, were purchased by the United States from Denmark in 1917.

American Samoa was acquired by the United States in accordance with a convention among the United States, Great Britain, and Germany, signed December 2, 1899, and ratified February 16, 1900.

The use, occupation, and control of the Canal Zone were granted to the United States under the terms of a treaty with the Republic of Panama, signed November 18, 1903, and ratified in 1904.

The Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands is comprised of 2,141 atolls and islands, 96 of which are inhabited. This territory, formerly under Japanese mandate, was placed under the United Nations trusteeship system by an agreement approved by the Security Council on April 27, 1947, and by the United States on July 18, 1947.

For a brief summary of the territorial development of the United States, see tables 10 and 243 in sections 1 and 6, respectively.

Censuses.—Because of differences in the population and housing characteristics and the varieties of agricultural products among the outlying areas, the presentation of census data is not uniform for all areas. However, the tables in this section give, as nearly as possible, comparable data for the areas. The 1960 Census of Population covered all of the places listed above except the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands (the census of which was conducted in April 1958 by the Office of the High Commissioner), whereas the 1960 Census of Housing covered only Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands. The 1959 Census of Agriculture covered Puerto Rico, American Samoa, Guam, and the Virgin Islands; the 1964 Census covered the same areas except American Samoa. Censuses of Business and Manufactures were conducted in Puerto Rico for 1954, 1958, and 1963, and in Guam and the Virgin Islands for 1958 and 1963.

For definition and explanation of terms used, see section 1, Population; section 23, Agriculture; section 27, Construction and Housing; section 28, Manufactures; and section 29, Distribution and Services.

Information in other sections.—In addition to the specialized statistics presented in this section, other data are included as integral parts of many tables showing distribution by States in various sections of the Abstract.

[1] Value of shipments less cost of materials, supplies, fuels, electric energy, and contract work plus net change in finished goods and work-in-process inventory and value added in merchandising activities of manufacturing establishments.

[2] Represents net selling value, f.o.b. plant, after discounts and allowances, of all shipments of products from manufacturing establishments of an industry, plus receipts for miscellaneous activities of such plants. Excludes freight charges and excise taxes. Products transferred to other establishments of the same company are valued at the nearest approximation to the economic value. Includes extensive duplication arising from shipments between establishments in the same industry.

Section 32

Comparative International Statistics

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the various nations and on finances of international agencies.

The principal source for the data presented in this section is the United Nations Statistical Yearbook. Statistics of the individual nations may be found primarily in official publications, generally in the form of yearbooks, issued by most of the nations at various intervals in their own national languages, expressed in their own or customary units of measure. For handier reference, especially for international comparisons, the Statistical Office of the United Nations compiles and issues a number of international summary publications, generally in English and French. Among these are the Statistical Yearbook, the Demographic Yearbook, the Yearbook of International Trade Statistics, the Yearbook of National Accounts Statistics, Population and Vital Statistics Reports (quarterly), the Monthly Bulletin of Statistics, The Growth of World Industry: National Tables, 1953–1965, and The Growth of World Industry: International Analyses and Tables, 1938–1961.

For foreign agricultural and labor statistics, the outstanding sources are the Production Yearbook, issued by the Food and Agriculture Organization, and the Yearbook of Labour Statistics, issued by the International Labour Office; both are specialized agencies of the United Nations. These publications usually present data covering an extensive period of time, frequently up to 20 years. The International Population Statistics Reports, Series P–90 and P–91, issued by the Bureau of the Census, also present population figures for many foreign countries.

Statistical coverage.—Problems of space and availability of data limit the number of countries and the extent of statistical coverage shown here. The list of countries included is based on, but not limited to, the membership rosters of the United Nations and of the larger specialized agencies of the United Nations (see table 1275). In a few instances, member countries were omitted because of an almost complete lack of data.

The items selected for presentation here are believed to be among those most significant. However, certain important items, such as those on national income, are omitted because of the inability to convert the available statistics, stated in terms of the national currencies, to meaningful consistency in United States measures.

OECD, EEC, and EFTA.—The Organisation for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC), a regional grouping of Western European countries established in 1948 for the purpose of harmonizing national economic policies and conditions, was succeeded on September 30, 1961, by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD). The OECD consists of the member nations of the former OEEC—Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and the United Kingdom—and also Canada and the United States.

The European Economic Community (EEC), or "Common Market," consisting of Belgium, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Italy, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands, was formed in 1958 for the purpose of promoting European economic integration. It is based on agreement among the member nations to stimulate their economic growth, primarily through the gradual elimination of trade barriers among themselves, the establishment of a common external tariff, the coordination of monetary, fiscal, and agricultural policies, and the removal of restrictions on movement of services, labor, capital, and business enterprises within the community.

The European Free Trade Association (EFTA), established in late 1959, consists of Austria, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. It represents an agreement among the member nations to promote free trade and economic cooperation in Europe through gradual elimination of tariffs and quotas among themselves but without establishment of a common external tariff.

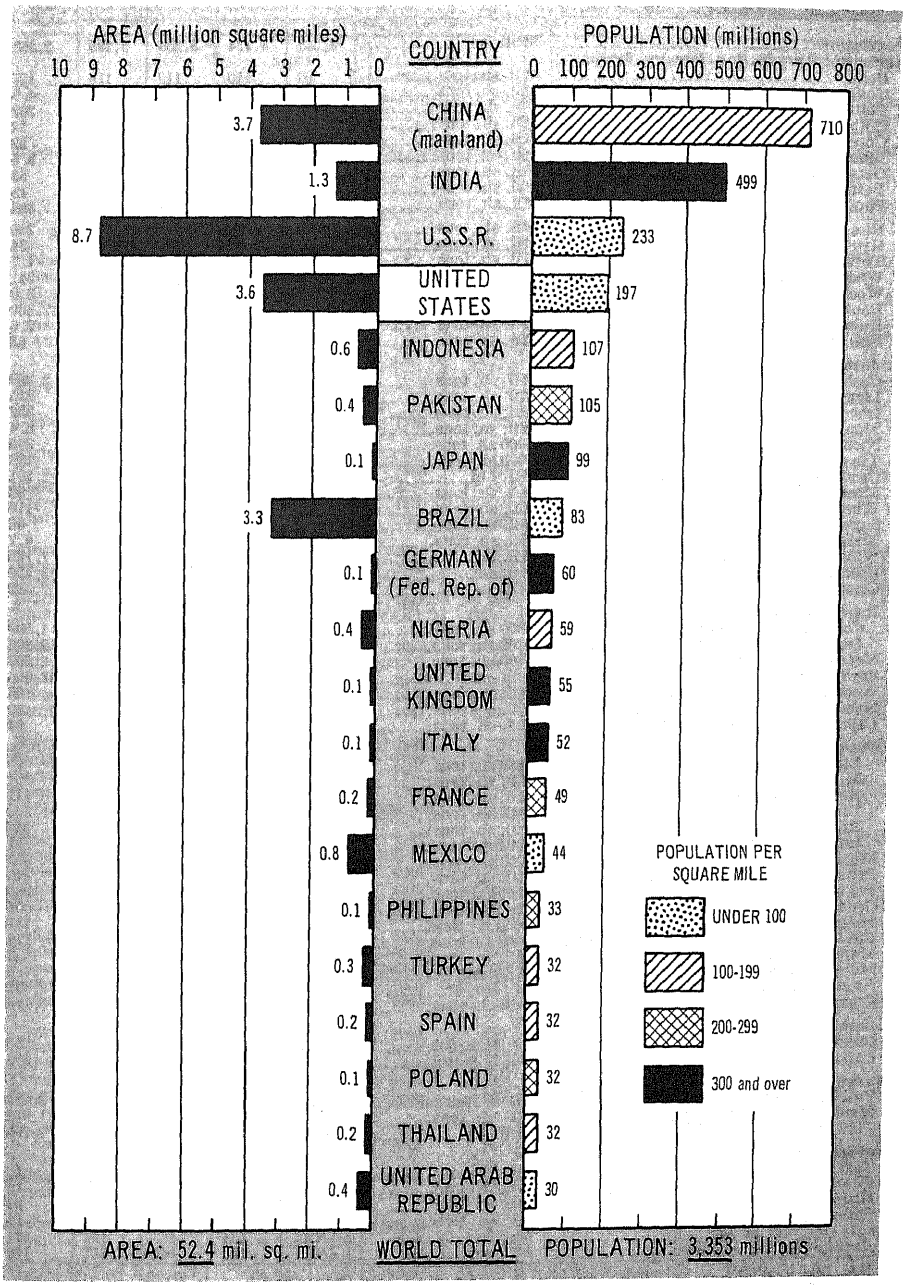
Quality and comparability of the data.—The quality and the comparability of the data presented here are affected by a number of factors:

(1) The year for which data are presented may not be the same for all subjects for a particular country, or for a given subject for different countries, though the data shown are the most recent available. All such variations have been noted. The data shown are for calendar years except as otherwise stated in headnotes or footnotes. Space limitations made it impracticable to present the data for a series of years except for population, indexes of per capita product, agriculture, and gold and foreign exchange holdings.

(2) The bases, methods of estimating, methods of data collection, extent of coverage, precision of definition, scope of territory, and margins of error may vary for different items within a particular country, and for like items for different countries. Footnotes and headnotes to the tables give a few of the major time-period and coverage qualifications attached to the figures; considerably more detail is presented in the source publications. Many of the measures shown are, at best, merely rough indicators of magnitude.

(3) Figures shown in this section for the United States may not always agree with figures shown in the preceding sections. Disagreements may be attributable to the use of differing original sources, a difference in the definition of geographic limits (conterminous United States only, or including Alaska and Hawaii or certain outlying areas and possessions), or to possible adjustments made in the United States figures by the United Nations in order to improve their comparability with figures from other countries.

Conversion factors.—To facilitate comparison in terms of familiar units, items shown in metric units in the source have been converted to U.S. equivalents by means of the conversion factors shown below.



Additional conversion factors appear in Appendix I, Weights and Measures, pages 927 and 928.

CONVERSION FACTORS

No. 1247. Area and Population

[Except as noted, area data include inland waters. Population data generally are present-in-area estimates for the present territory. For some countries, however, the estimates have been adjusted to include national armed forces and diplomats stationed outside the country and to exclude alien armed forces, foreign diplomats, and enemy prisoners of war stationed within the country. See text, p. 832, for general comments concerning the data. For details of methodology, coverage, and reliability, see source]

No. 1249. Labor Force and Unemployment—International Comparisons: 1960 to 1967

[In thousands, except as indicated. U.S. data based on labor force definitions adopted in 1967 and relate to population 16 years of age and over. Data for other countries are adjusted to U.S. definitions in effect prior to 1967 and relate to population 14 years of age and over. Use of new definitions for U.S. data does not change unemployment rate by more than 0.1 percent in any of the years shown. Adjustment of foreign data to comparability with United States would probably have a similarly small effect]

[1] Refers to crop year ending in 1966, except as noted. All commodities index relates to food, fibers, tobacco, industrial oil seeds, rubber, tea, and coffee; food index to crops and livestock products for human consumption. Deduction made for feed and seed used in production process.

[2] Components of these indexes vary considerably among countries; for details, see source.

[3] Refers, in general, to salaried employees and wage earners in manufacturing. Includes workers on holiday or vacation; excludes employers, self-employed, workers on strike, on temporary military leave, or temporarily laid off.

[4] In many instances, represents index only for principal city (or cities) of particular country.

[5] General wholesale price index numbers usually weighted by gross value of sales on wholesale markets.

[6] As of 3d quarter of 1967, except as noted. Indexes based primarily on common shares traded on leading exchange or exchanges of each country, and intended to cover representative sample of companies in manufacturing, mining, and construction fields. In some cases, where an index of industrial shares is not available, a general index, including shares of companies in transportation, distribution, and finance fields, is reported. [7] For 1965. [8] For 1964.

[9] Wage earners only. [10] 1958=100. [11] For year beginning July 1.

[12] Home consumption of foodstuffs and industrial raw materials. [13] Basic materials.

[14] For year ending June 30. [15] Includes mining and quarrying. [16] 1964=100.

[17] Luxembourg included with Belgium. [18] October 1962–September 1963=100. [19] Farm products only.

[20] For 1962. [21] Data for one month. [22] General index. [23] Area of San Salvador.

[24] Includes mining. [25] Guatemala City only. [26] Producers' price of industrial products.

[27] Includes working proprietors. [28] 2d quarter. [29] 1965=100. [30] 1st quarter.

[31] For year beginning Apr. 1. [32] July 1962–June 1963=100. [33] Includes sea fishing. [34] 1960=100.

[35] State retail prices. [36] None or negligible quantity. [37] Residential building materials.

NA Not available. [1] Includes unemployed, except as noted.
[2] Comprises utilities generating primarily for public use, plus industrial establishments generating primarily for own use. Relates to production at generating centers, including station use and transmission losses.
[3] Based on apparent consumption of coal, lignite, petroleum products, natural gas, and hydro-electricity.
[4] Relates to production, including repair work in factories; generally excludes mining, building and construction, and public utilities.
[5] Coverage varies widely. For most countries, refers to single plants or factories with more than a specified number of employees, as noted. For additional or alternative qualifications, see source.
[6] Comprises average number of paid employees, working proprietors, unpaid family workers, and homeworkers, except as noted.
[7] Covers merchandise including silver (except current coin); excludes gold and issued paper currency. Imports generally valued c.i.f.; exports, f.o.b. Generally government trade (including foreign aid, war reparations, and trade in military goods), trade of foreign concessionaires, and postal trade included. See source for "general trade" or "special trade" category distinctions. Roughly half the countries shown fall into each category, thus affecting comparability.
[8] Excludes trade of China (mainland), Mongolia, North Korea, and North Viet-Nam with one another.
[9] Imports and exports include Puerto Rico. [10] Excludes Armed Forces abroad.
[11] Net production (excluding station use). [12] For 1963. [13] Establishments with 1 or more employees.
[14] Paid employees. [15] F.o.b. [16] Includes foreign aid. [17] Year ending June 30.
[18] Establishments with 4 or more engaged. [19] For 1962.
[20] Luxembourg included with Belgium. [21] For 1961. [22] Excludes homeworkers.
[23] For 1965. [24] Establishments with 5 or more engaged. [25] For 1964.
[26] Establishments with 10 or more employees. [27] Establishments with 5 or more employees.
[28] Excludes armed forces and unpaid family workers. [29] Registered establishments.
[30] Year ending in September. [31] Establishments with 10 or more engaged.
[32] Excludes trade with Federal Republic of Germany. [33] Suppressed in table and notes.
[34] Establishments with 30 or more engaged. [35] For 1960. [36] Year beginning Apr. 1.
[37] Establishments with 10–49 workers if using power or 20–99 workers if not using power.
[38] Public utility plants only. [39] Includes peat.
[40] Establishments with 3 or more engaged. [41] Man-years. [42] Establishments with 2 or more engaged.
[43] Establishments with annual value of production exceeding 12,000 córdobas.
[44] Establishments with 20 or more employees. [45] Excludes persons in institutions and armed forces.
[46] Includes Canary Islands and possessions in North Africa.
[47] Includes Canary Islands and Ceuta. [48] Excludes homeworkers and unpaid family workers.

[1] Excludes lignite and brown coal, except as noted.
[2] Source presents data in metric tons. Conversion to barrels allows for differences in specific gravity of petroleum. Figures refer to crude petroleum including shale oil, but excluding natural gasoline.
[3] Covers, as far as possible, all hydraulic cements used for construction (portland, metallurgic, aluminous, natural, etc.).
[4] Refers generally to iron content of marketable ores mined, including manganiferous iron ores but excluding pyrites. Some data are rough estimates obtained by applying a fixed percentage to figures for crude ore production.
[5] Data expressed in terms of pure (monohydrate) sulfuric acid and include sulfuric acid equivalent of oleum or "fuming" acid.
[6] Total production of crude steel, both ingots and steel for castings. Excludes wrought (puddled) iron.
[7] Data represent apparent consumption (i.e., production plus imports minus exports) and do not take into account changes in stocks.
[8] Excludes China (mainland) and North Korea. [9] Excludes China (mainland).
[10] Excludes manganiferous iron ores containing 5 percent or more of manganese. [11] For 1964.
[12] Includes wastes. [13] Year ending June 30. [14] For 1965. [15] Excludes natural cement.
[16] Luxembourg included with Belgium. [17] Strength of acid not reported.
[18] Represents about 90 percent of the total national output. [19] Excludes alloy steels.
[20] Shipment from mines. [21] Ingots only.
[22] Includes lignite; Japan also includes a small amount of brown coal.
[23] For 1960. [24] For 1959. [25] Includes Manchuria. [26] Estimated.
[27] Excludes sulfuric acid for superphosphate production. [28] For 1961.
[29] Year beginning in March. [30] Includes iron content of iron sand.
[31] Production in "Neutral Zone" shared by Kuwait and Saudi Arabia amounted to 153,421 barrels.
[32] Exports. [33] Sarawak only. [34] West Malaysia only. [35] Svalbard; Norwegian-operated mines only.
[36] None or negligible. [37] Shale oil. [38] Refers to Sheikdom of Abu Dhabi.
[39] Great Britain only. Excludes production at quarries.

[1] As of June 30. Represents gross registered tons (see text, p. 570) for vessels of 100 gross tons and over. Excludes vessels without mechanical means of propulsion; includes sailing vessels with auxiliary power. Excludes ships trading on Caspian Sea.

[2] In general, represents sum of net registered tonnages (see text, p. 570) of seagoing foreign and domestic merchant vessels (power and sailing) entered with cargo from a foreign port and refers to only one entrance for each foreign voyage. Where possible, excludes vessels "in ballast," i.e., entering without unloading goods.

[3] Represents weight of all goods (including their packing) in external trade loaded to and unloaded from seagoing vessels of all flags at ports of country specified. For most countries, excludes bunkers, ships' stores, ballast, and transshipment (goods transshipped from an importing vessel to an exporting vessel).

[4] Relates to domestic and international traffic on all railway lines within each country shown, excluding railways entirely within an urban unit and plantation, industrial mining, funicular and cable railways. In general, passenger miles include all passengers except military, government, and railway personnel when carried without revenue; ton-miles relate to freight net ton-miles and include all goods whether carried by fast or ordinary trains except service traffic, mail, baggage, and nonrevenue governmental stores.

[5] Covers both domestic and international scheduled services operated by companies registered in each country. Includes supplementary services occasioned by overflow traffic on regularly scheduled trips and preparatory flights for new scheduled services.

[6] Represents officially estimated number of vehicles in use. Includes passenger cars and commercial vehicles. For most countries shown, excludes 2- and 3-wheeled cycles and motorcycles, trains, trolley buses, ambulances, hearses, military vehicles, police and special purpose or government security vehicles, trailers, and farm tractors.

[7] Includes Great Lakes. [8] After time adjustment, loaded approximately same as unloaded.
[9] Includes Great Lakes international traffic. [10] For 1965. [11] Year ending June 30.
[12] For 1957. [13] All entrances counted. [14] Year ending Sept. 30.
[15] Includes Great Lakes and St. La rence international traffic.
[16] For 1959. [17] For 1961. [18] For 1955. [19] For 1956. [20] Commercial vehicles only.
[21] For 1964. [22] Year beginning Apr. 1. [23] Passenger cars only.
[24] Year beginning Mar. 21. [25] For 1963. [26] Year beginning Mar. 21. Includes Caspian Sea traffic.
[27] Year beginning July 1. [28] Excludes Azores and Madeira Islands.
[29] Includes South West Africa. [30] Includes the Balearic Islands, Ceuta, and Melilla.

NA Not available.

[1] Comprises public and private telephones (including extension instruments) connected to a central exchange. World total in 1966 estimated at 208.5 million.

[2] Comprises generally all types of telegrams including cablegrams and radiograms, but excludes messages in transit.

[3] Items mailed for distribution within national territories. Comprises letters, postcards, printed matter, business papers, merchandise samples, small packets, and phonopost packets. Includes mail carried without charge, but excludes ordinary packages, and letters and packages with a declared value.

[4] Publications containing general news and appearing at least 4 times a week; may range in size from a single sheet to 50 or more pages. Circulation data include copies sold outside the country.

[5] Number of licenses issued for receiving sets except as noted. Figures should be used with caution as number of licenses fails, in varying degrees from country to country, to represent full number in use. Data apply to all types of receivers for radio broadcasts to the public, including loudspeakers connected to a "radio redistribution system" but excluding television sets. World total in 1966 estimated at 601 million sets in use.

[6] Number of licenses issued for receiving sets except as noted. World total in 1966 estimated at 198 million sets in use.

[7] Telegrams and radios exclude Alaska and Hawaii.

[8] Includes messages to and from Canada, Mexico, St. Pierre, and Miquelon.

[9] Domestic and foreign, including ordinary packages and mail with a declared value.

[10] Years ending June 30. [11] English dailies only. [12] Estimated number of receivers in use.

[13] For 1965. [14] For 1963. [15] For 1964. [16] For 143 dailies only.

[17] Includes combined sound-television licenses which are licenses covering both radio and television sets.

[18] For 12 dailies only. [19] For 1962. [20] Covers all telegrams sent by land.

[21] Years beginning Apr. 1. [22] Includes foreign, received and sent.

[23] English and French language dailies only. [24] Years ending Sept. 30. [25] For 43 dailies only.

[26] For 5 dailies only. [27] For 1961. [28] For 4 dailies only.

[29] Not indicated whether data are for number of licenses issued for receiving sets or for estimated receivers in use.

[30] Number excludes 700 regional editions; circulation includes them.

[31] For 363 dailies only. [32] For 60 dailies only. [33] For 13 dailies only.

[34] For 82 dailies only. [35] Includes some dailies having both morning and evening editions.

[36] For 2 dailies only. [37] For 8 dailies only. [38] For 20 dailies only. [39] For 1960.

[40] Includes Liechtenstein. [41] For 23 dailies only.

No. 1273. Housing and Health

[Housing: Data generally intended to refer to conventional (permanent) dwellings only. For some countries, however, data include nonpermanent structures, improvised shelters, and mobile trailers, or as noted, refer to housing units (the space occupied by a private household) rather than to dwellings. Health: Generally, data refer to persons fully qualified or certificated from medical, dental, or pharmacy schools and working within the country. See text, p. 832, for general comments concerning the data. For additional qualifications of the data for individual countries, see source]

Section 33

Metropolitan Area Statistics

Statistics from various Federal Government and private sources are presented here for areas officially defined as standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) by the U.S. Bureau of the Budget in Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, 1967. As of July 1, 1968, there were 233 SMSA's. The three SMSA's in Puerto Rico, and the recently added Biloxi-Gulfport, Mississippi and Vineland-Millville-Bridgeton, New Jersey SMSA's are not included here because data for many of the items shown are not available for them. Area titles and definitions appear on pages 923–926.

Two tables form the basic framework of this section: Table 1 presents 166 items of information for the 110 SMSA's of 250,000 inhabitants or more in 1960; table 2 shows 83 items for the remaining SMSA's of less than 250,000 inhabitants in 1960.

For New England, data are shown for both metropolitan State economic areas (SEA's) and SMSA's wherever it was possible to do so. SEA's consist of single counties or groups of counties; SMSA's in New England, of towns and cities. SEA data are included here for New England because, for a large number of items shown, only county data are available to serve as a basis for metropolitan area figures.

The Bureau of the Budget first issued standard definitions of metropolitan statistical areas in 1949. Generally conceived, a metropolitan area is an integrated economic and social unit with a large population nucleus. Each SMSA contains at least one central city with at least 50,000 inhabitants. The SMSA includes the county in which such a central city is located, and adjacent counties that are found to be metropolitan in character and economically and socially integrated with the county of the central city. In New England, the requirement with regard to a central city as a nucleus still holds, but, as noted above, the units comprising the area are towns rather than counties. The county (or town in New England) is the basic statistical unit. An SMSA may cross State lines and may contain more than one city provided the cities have contiguous boundaries and a combined population of at least 50,000. The largest city is considered the nucleus and usually gives the name to the area. However, an SMSA may have as many as three names in its title.

Reprints of this section of the Statistical Abstract may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402. The price per copy is 30 cents; a 25-percent discount is allowed on orders of 100 copies or more sent to the same address.

Weights and Measures

Avoirdupois and Troy Weights

U.S. equivalents			Metric equivalent
Avoirdupois weight: [1]
1 grain			64.799 milligrams.
437.5 grains	1 ounce, avoirdupois	0.911 ounce, troy	28.35 grams.
16 ounces, avoirdupois	1 pound, avoirdupois	1.215 pounds, troy	453.59237 grams.
100 pounds, avoirdupois	1 short hundredweight		45.3592 kilograms.
2,000 pounds 20 short hundredweights	1 short ton		0.907 metric ton.
112 pounds, avoirdupois	1 long hundredweight		50.802 kilograms.
2,240 pounds 20 long hundredweights	1 long ton		1.016 metric tons.
Troy weight: [2]
1 grain			64.799 milligrams.
24 grains	1 pennyweight		1.555 grams.
20 pennyweights	1 ounce, troy	1.097 ounces, avoirdupois	31.103 grams.
12 ounces, troy	1 pound, troy	0.823 pound, avoirdupois	373.242 grams.

[1] The system used in weighing all commodities except precious stones, precious metals, and drugs.
[2] The system used in weighing precious stones and precious metals such as silver and gold.

Approximate Weights Per Bushel for Specified Commodities

ITEM	Pounds	Kilograms
Wheat, dry beans, dry peas, potatoes (Irish or white), soybeans	60	27.22
Rye, shelled corn (maize), linseed (flaxseed), sorghum grain	56	25.40
Barley, buckwheat	48	21.77
Castor beans	46	20.87
Rough rice	45	20.41
Malt	34	15.42
Oats, cottonseed	32	14.51
Peanuts, green, in shell	22	9.98

Approximate Weights Per Barrel of Nonliquid Products

ITEM	Pounds	Kilograms
Wheat flour, barley flour, rye flour, and corn meal (net)	196	88.90
Rosin, tar and pitch (gross)	500	226.80
Fish, pickled (net)	200	90.72
Lime (net)	200	90.72
Cement (4 bags counted as 1 barrel) (net) [1]	376	170.55

[1] Except as noted in the tables.

Capacities or Volumes

U.S. equivalents
1 barrel (liquid) [1]	31 to 42 gallons
1 barrel (dry) [2]	7,056 cubic inches	105 dry quarts	3.281 bushels (struck measure).[3]

[1] There are various "barrels" established by law or usage. Federal law recognizes a 31- and a 40-gallon barrel, depending on the type of liquor. In addition, the number of gallons recognized as making up a barrel differs among various States.
[2] Standard for fruits and vegetables and other dry commodities, except cranberries, recognized by the Dept. of Agriculture.
[3] Standard bushel as measured by U.S. Government.

Approximate Weight of Petroleum and Products

[In the United States petroleum and its products are measured by bulk, not weight. Quantities are customarily reduced to the equivalent of barrels of 42 U.S. gallons (158.984 liters). In many foreign countries these commodities are measured by weight. The specific gravity of the different grades of crude petroleum and of the finished products varies materially. On the basis of approximate averages, the Department of Commerce uses the following factors for converting foreign weight statistics to gallons or to barrels of 42 gallons]

Item	U.S. gallon		Barrel of 42 gallons
	U.S. equivalent	Metric equivalent	U.S. equivalent	Metric equivalent
Crude petroleum	7.3 pounds	3.311 kilograms	306.6 pounds	139.07 kilograms.
Lubricating oils	7.0 pounds	3.175 kilograms	294.0 pounds	133.36 kilograms.
Illuminating oils (kerosene)	6.6 pounds	2.994 kilograms	277.2 pounds	125.74 kilograms.
Gasoline and related products (motor spirit, benzine, etc.)	6.1 pounds	2.767 kilograms	256.2 pounds	116.21 kilograms.
Fuel and gas oils	7.7 pounds	3.493 kilograms	323.4 pounds	146.69 kilograms.

Liquid Measures

U.S. equivalents		Metric equivalent
1 fluid dram		3.697 milliliters.
8 fluid drams	1 fluid ounce	29.573 milliliters.
4 fluid ounces	1 gill	0.118 liter.
4 gills	1 pint	0.473 liter.
2 pints	1 quart	0.9464 liter.
4 quarts	1 gallon	3.785 liters.

Dry Measures

U.S. equivalents			Metric equivalent
1 pint		33.600 cubic inches	0.551 liter.
2 pints	1 quart	67.2006 cubic inches	1.101 liters.
8 quarts	1 peck	537.605 cubic inches	8.810 liters.
4 pecks	1 bushel (struck measure)[1]	2,150.42 cubic inches	35.239 liters.

[1] Standard bushel as measured by U.S. Government.

Length Measures

U.S. equivalents		Metric equivalent
1 inch		2.540 centimeters.
12 inches	1 foot	0.3048 meter.
3 feet	1 yard	0.9144 meter.
5½ yards	1 rod	5.029 meters.
5,280 feet	1 statute (land) mile	1.609 kilometers.
6076.11549 feet	1 international nautical mile	1,852 meters.

Area Measures

U.S. equivalents		Metric equivalent
1 square inch		6.452 square centimeters.
144 square inches	1 square foot	929.030 square centimeters.
9 square feet	1 square yard	0.8361 square meter.
30¼ square yards	1 square rod	25.293 square meters.
160 square rods 4,840 square yards	1 acre	0.4047 hectare.
640 acres	1 square mile	258.999 hectares.

Cubic Measures

U.S. equivalents		Metric equivalent
1 cubic inch		16.387 cubic centimeters.
1,728 cubic inches	1 cubic foot	28.317 cubic decimeters.
27 cubic feet	1 cubic yard	0.7646 cubic meter.

Historical Series—Index to Tables in Which Historical Statistics Series Appear

[Listed below are those statistical time series (identified by number) appearing in Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957, and its companion volume, Historical Statistics . . . Continuation to 1962 and Revisions, for which tables in the Statistical Abstract present comparable figures. Historical series are listed only where comparable data are available for one or more years later than 1957. In a few instances, it may be necessary to combine figures shown in the Abstract to obtain totals comparable to the series shown in Historical Statistics]

APPENDIX III

Guide to Sources of Statistics

Alphabetically arranged by subject, this guide contains references to the important primary sources of statistical information for the United States. Secondary sources have been included if the information contained in them is presented in a particularly convenient form or if primary sources are not readily available. Nonrecurrent publications presenting compilations or estimates for years later than 1958 or types of data not available in regular series are also included.

Much valuable information may also be found in State reports (see pp. 981–984) and in reports for particular commodities, industries, or similar segments of our economic and social structure. Because of the large number of such references, they are not included here.

Section references on the right-hand side of each page indicate where data from the report cited appear in the Statistical Abstract. Where both current reports and a summary volume are cited, the section reference often appears opposite the summary volume only. Reference to the sections indicated will enable the user to ascertain the type of information presented in the original source. It should not be assumed that all of the subjects from the original source are summarized in the Abstract.

Publications listed under each subject are divided into two main groups: "United States Government" and "Other." The location of the publisher of each report is given except for Federal agencies located in Washington. Mailing addresses of nongovernment agencies and of international organizations are given on pp. 987–990. Most Federal publications may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. In some cases, Federal publications may be obtained from the issuing agency.

Major reports, such as the Census of Population, which consist of many volumes, are listed by their general, all-inclusive titles. Specific volume numbers and subtitles of the major census publications are listed on pp. 976–980.

1960 CENSUS OF POPULATION

Vol. I. Characteristics of the Population. Separate reports for the United States, each State, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and Canal Zone. First issued in four separate, paperbound chapters, designated as A, B, C, and D, for each area. The four chapters for each area were then assembled and issued in buckram as numbered parts of Vol. I. In addition, all of the 57 chapters A have been assembled and issued in buckram as Part A of Vol. I.

Chapter A. Number of Inhabitants. Final population counts for States and counties and their urban and rural parts, and for standard metropolitan statistical areas, urbanized areas, all incorporated places, unincorporated places of 1,000 or more inhabitants, and minor civil divisions.

Chapter B. General Population Characteristics. Sex, age, marital status, color or race, and relationship to head of household.

Chapter C. General Social and Economic Characteristics. Statistics on nativity and parentage, State of birth, mobility, education, families and their composition, employment status, occupation, income, and other subjects.

Chapter D. Detailed Characteristics. These reports present most of the subjects covered in chapter C, classified by age, color, and other characteristics, with additional information on families, single years of age, occupation, and industry.

Vol. II. Subject Reports. 33 reports planned (31 issued as of Sept. 1967; remainder in preparation). Devoted essentially to detailed cross-relationships for the United States and regions and, in some cases, standard metropolitan statistical areas, for such subjects as national origin and race, fertility, families, marital status, migration, education, employment, unemployment, occupation, industry, income, characteristics of teachers, professional workers, and veterans, and other subjects.

Vol. III. Selected Area Reports. Five reports showing selected characteristics of the population for State economic areas, size of place, Americans overseas, standard metropolitan statistical areas, and type of place.

Census Tract Reports. One report for each of 180 tracted areas in the United States and Puerto Rico. Information on population and housing subjects.

1960 CENSUS OF HOUSING

Vol. I. States and Small Areas. Separate reports for the United States, each State, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, and Virgin Islands. Information on tenure, color, vacancy status, population per occupied housing unit, number of persons per room, number of rooms, type of structure, condition and plumbing facilities, equipment and facilities, financial characteristics and other subjects, for the State, counties, urbanized areas, standard metropolitan statistical areas, and places of 1,000 inhabitants or more. Also assembled and issued as 9 buckram-bound books, including a United States summary (Part 1) and parts for groups of States in alphabetic order.

Vol. II. Metropolitan Housing. 202 reports; 1 for the United States, 1 for each geographic division, 1 for each standard metropolitan statistical area with 100,000 inhabitants or more, and separate reports for the San Juan and Ponce SMSA's in Puerto Rico.

Vol. III. City Blocks. 420 reports; 1 for each city with 50,000 inhabitants or more in the 1950 Census, the 1960 Census, or in special censuses and reports covering about 200 places that requested inclusion in the block statistics program and reimbursed the Bureau of the Census for the cost of such inclusion.

Vol. IV. Components of Inventory Change.

Part 1A. 1950 to 1959 Components. 18 reports (1 for the United States and 1 each for 15 standard metropolitan statistical areas and 2 standard consolidated areas) on the source of the 1959 inventory and the disposition of the 1950 inventory in terms of such changes as new construction, conversion, merger, and demolition, and of units which remained the same. Characteristics shown for all units.

Part 1B. Inventory Characteristics. 18 reports (same as part 1A) on characteristics of the inventory and of units occupied by households involved in moves in 1958–1959.

Part 2. 1957 to 1959 Components. 10 reports, 1 for the United States and 1 each for 9 metropolitan areas (those covered in the 1956 National Housing Inventory). Measurements and characteristics of the components of change since 1956.

Vol. V. Residential Finance.

Part 1. Homeowner Properties. Data on financing and characteristics, for the United States, by region, and for each of 17 large metropolitan areas.

Part 1 Supplement. Homeowner Properties—Nonwhite Families.

Part 2. Rental and Vacant Properties. Data similar to those in Part 1, for the United States.

Vol. VI. Rural Housing. Analytical tables for 121 economic subregions and the United States, showing interrelationships between selected housing and household characteristics of occupied units and selected characteristics for nonfarm vacant units.

Vol. VII. Housing of Senior Citizens. Cross tabulations of housing and household characteristics of units occupied by persons 60 years old and over, for the United States, each State, the District of Columbia, and selected standard metropolitan statistical areas.

Guide to State Statistical Abstracts

This bibliography includes the most recent State statistical abstracts (including one for Puerto Rico) published since 1960 plus those now in preparation that will be issued in late 1968 or early 1969. When a statistical abstract does not exist for a particular State, a near equivalent has been listed, wherever possible. For some States, two or more such publications have been listed. All sources contain, under one cover, statistical tables on a variety of subjects for the State as a whole, its component parts, or both. The page counts given for publications cited as "In process" are approximate.
