Explanation of Terms

Annual payroll. Annual payroll consists of the combined amount of wages paid, tips reported, and other compensation including salaries, vacation allowances, bonuses, commissions, sick-leave pay, and the value of payments-in-kind (such as free meals and lodging) paid to all employees during the calendar year before deductions for social security, income tax, insurance, union dues, etc. All forms of compensation are included, whether or not subject to income tax or FICA tax, with the exception of annuities, third-party sick pay, and supplemental unemployment compensation benefits (even if income tax was withheld). For corporations, total payroll includes compensation paid to officers and executives; for unincorporated businesses, it does not include profit or other compensation of proprietors or partners.

Employment. Employment includes all employees, full-time and part-time, reported on a firm's payroll during specified pay periods in 1997. Persons on paid sick leave, paid holidays, and paid vacations are included as employees, as are salaried officers and executives of corporations. However, proprietors and partners of unincorporated businesses are not considered as employees.

The derivation of the 1997 employment figures vary somewhat among the different industries. For firms in the minerals, manufacturing, and construction industries, employment represents an annual average of the number of "production workers" on the payroll for any part of the pay periods including the 12th of March, May, August, and November, plus the number of "all other employees" on the payroll during the March 12th pay period. For the other industries covered by the economic censuses and for those industries not covered, employment consists of all employees on the payroll of a firm during the pay period including March 12.

Ethnicity. The ethnic categories listed on the survey questionnaires are consistent with those mandated by the Office of Management and Budget. These standards were developed by both the Executive Branch and Congress.

Firm. A firm is a business consisting of one domestic establishment or more that the reporting firm specified under its ownership or control at the end of 1997. If a company owned or controlled other companies, all establishments of the subsidiaries are included as part of the owning or controlling company. In this report, the terms company and firm are used interchangeably.

Legal form of organization. The five legal forms of organization included in this report are:

1. C corporation. Any legally incorporated business, except subchapter S, under state laws.
2. Subchapter S corporation. A legally incorporated business under state laws. A subchapter S corporation is a special IRS designation for legally incorporated businesses with 75 or fewer shareholders who, because of tax advantages, elect to be taxed as individual shareholders rather than as corporations.
3. Individual proprietorship. An unincorporated business owned by an individual. Also included in this category are self-employed persons. The business may be the only occupation of an individual or the secondary activity of an individual who works full time for someone else.
4. Partnership. An unincorporated business owned by two or more persons.
5. Other. Included in this group are cooperatives, estates, receiverships, and businesses classified as unknown legal forms of organization.

Race. The race categories listed on the survey questionnaires are consistent with those mandated by the Office of Management and Budget. These standards were developed by both the Executive Branch and Congress.

Sales and receipts. Sales and receipts are defined as the receipts for goods produced or distributed or services provided. Excluded from sales are nonoperating receipts, returns on investments, and interest.

For firms with multiple locations, sales and receipts are reported for each location or establishment of the firm. These sales and receipts include estimated values assigned to intra-company transfers of goods and services among establishments within the same company. The value of a firm's sales and receipts as shown in this publication is the aggregate of these establishment receipts. Because of duplication, the aggregates of these establishments' sales and receipts ordinarily exceed a firm's total net sales and receipts, which reflect only commercial transactions with outside customers.

The purpose of this questionnaire is to collect information about the gender, race, and ethnic background of business owners in the United States for the year 1997. The business owner(s) should complete this questionnaire even if the business has since been sold, reorganized, or discontinued. Data provided by you will be used only for statistical purposes and will be kept strictly confidential. The race and ethnic categories have been established by the Office of Management and Budget to assure uniform reporting to all Federal agencies.

These data are needed to evaluate the extent and growth of business ownership in order to provide a framework for assessing and directing Federal, state, and local government business assistance programs. The Small Business Administration and the Minority Business Development Agency use these data when allocating resources for their business assistance programs. The data are also widely used by private firms and individuals to evaluate their own businesses and markets, by the media for news stories, and by researchers and academia for determining firm characteristics.

We estimate that it will take 10 minutes or less to complete this questionnaire. If you have any comments regarding these estimates or any other aspect of this survey, send them to the Associate Director for Administration/Controller, Attn: Paperwork Reduction Project 0607-0854, Room 3104, Federal Building 3, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233. You are not required to respond to any information collection unless it displays a valid approval number from the Office of Management and Budget. Introduction to the Economic Census

PURPOSES AND USES OF THE ECONOMIC CENSUS

The economic census is the major source of facts about the structure and functioning of the Nation's economy. It provides essential information for government, business, industry, and the general public. Title 13 of the United States Code (Sections 131, 191, and 224) directs the Census Bureau to take the economic census every 5 years, covering years ending in 2 and 7.

The economic census furnishes an important part of the framework for such composite measures as the gross domestic product estimates, input/output measures, production and price indexes, and other statistical series that measure short-term changes in economic conditions. Specific uses of economic census data include the following:

- Policymaking agencies of the federal government use the data to monitor economic activity and assess the effectiveness of policies.
- State and local governments use the data to assess business activities and tax bases within their jurisdictions and to develop programs to attract business.
- Trade associations study trends in their own and competing industries, which allows them to keep their members informed of market changes.
- Individual businesses use the data to locate potential markets and to analyze their own production and sales performance relative to industry or area averages.

GEOGRAPHIC AREA CODING

Accurate and complete information on the physical location of each establishment is required to tabulate the census data for the states, metropolitan areas (MAs), counties, parishes, and corporate municipalities including cities, towns, villages, and boroughs. Respondents were required to report their physical location (street address, municipality, county, and state) if it differed from their mailing address. For establishments not surveyed by mail (and those single-establishment companies that did not provide acceptable information on physical location), location information from Internal Revenue Service tax forms is used as a basis for coding.

BASIS OF REPORTING

The economic census is conducted on an establishment basis. A company operating at more than one location is required to file a separate report for each store, factory, shop, or other location. Each establishment is assigned a separate industry classification based on its primary activity and not that of its parent company.

DOLLAR VALUES

All dollar values presented are expressed in current dollars; i.e., 1997 data are expressed in 1997 dollars, and 1992 data, in 1992 dollars. Consequently, when making comparisons with prior years, users of the data should consider the changes in prices that have occurred.

All dollar values are shown in thousands of dollars.

AVAILABILITY OF ADDITIONAL DATA

Reports in Print and Electronic Media

All results of the 1997 Economic Census are available on the Census Bureau Internet site (www.census.gov) and on compact discs (CD-ROM) for sale by the Census Bureau. Unlike previous censuses, only selected highlights are published in printed reports. For more information, including a description of electronic and printed reports being issued, see the Internet site, or write to U.S. Census Bureau, Washington, DC 20233-8300, or call Customer Services at 301-457-4100.

HISTORICAL INFORMATION

The economic census has been taken as an integrated program at 5-year intervals since 1967 and before that for 1954, 1958, and 1963. Prior to that time, individual components of the economic census were taken separately at varying intervals.

The economic census traces its beginnings to the 1810 Decennial Census, when questions on manufacturing were included with those for population. Coverage of economic activities was expanded for the 1840 Decennial Census and subsequent censuses to include mining and some commercial activities. The 1905 Manufactures Census was the first time a census was taken apart from the regular decennial population census. Censuses covering retail and wholesale trade and construction industries were added in 1930, as were some covering service trades in 1933. Censuses of construction, manufacturing, and the other business service censuses were suspended during World War II.

The 1954 Economic Census was the first census to be fully integrated: providing comparable census data across economic sectors, using consistent time periods, concepts, definitions, classifications, and reporting units. It was the first census to be taken by mail, using lists of firms provided by the administrative records of other federal agencies. Since 1963, administrative records also have been used to provide basic statistics for very small firms, reducing or eliminating the need to send them census questionnaires.

The range of industries covered in the economic censuses expanded between 1967 and 1992. The census of construction industries began on a regular basis in 1967, and the scope of service industries, introduced in 1933, was broadened in 1967, 1977, and 1987. While a few transportation industries were covered as early as 1963, it was not until 1992 that the census broadened to include all of transportation, communications, and utilities. Also new for 1992 was coverage of financial, insurance, and real estate industries. With these additions, the economic census and the separate census of governments and census of agriculture collectively covered roughly 98 percent of all economic activity.

Printed statistical reports from the 1992 and earlier censuses provide historical figures for the study of long-term time series and are available in some large libraries. All of the census reports printed since 1967 are still available for sale on microfiche from the Census Bureau. CD-ROMs issued from the 1987 and 1992 Economic Censuses contain databases including nearly all data published in print, plus additional statistics, such as ZIP Code statistics, published only on CD-ROM.

Surveys of Minority- and Women-Owned Business Enterprises

GENERAL

The Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises (SMOBE) is conducted in conjunction with the Survey of Women-Owned Business Enterprises (SWOBE). The SMOBE and SWOBE provide basic economic data on businesses owned by Blacks, persons of Alaska Native, American Indian, Asian, or Pacific Islander descent, persons of Hispanic or Latin American ancestry, and women. These surveys are based on the entire firm rather than on individual locations of a firm. The published data cover number of firms, gross receipts, number of paid employees, and annual payroll. The data are presented by geographic area, industry, size of firm, and legal form of organization of firm.

CENSUS DISCLOSURE RULES

The U.S. Census Bureau is prohibited by law from publishing any statistics that disclose information reported by individual companies. Publishing the number of firms, however, is not considered confidential by the Census Bureau rules. Therefore, the number of firms may be shown, even when other data must be withheld. The information and data obtained from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), the Social Security Administration (SSA), and other sources are also treated as confidential and can be seen only by Census Bureau employees sworn to protect it from disclosure.

SURVEY METHODOLOGY

All firms operating during 1997, except those classified as agricultural, are represented in these surveys. The lists of all firms (or universe) are compiled from a combination of business tax returns and data collected on other economic census reports. The Census Bureau obtains electronic files from the IRS for all companies filing IRS Form 1040, Schedule C (individual proprietorship or self-employed person); 1065 (partnership); any one of the 1120 corporation tax forms; or 941 (Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return). The IRS provided certain identification, classification, and measurement data for businesses filing those forms.

For most firms with paid employees, the Census Bureau also collected employment, payroll, receipts, and kind of business information for each plant, store, or physical location during the 1997 Economic Census.

To design the sample, the Census Bureau used several sources of information to identify the probability that a business was minority- or women-owned. For all sole proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations that filed electronic tax forms, the SSA provided gender and race codes for the owners.

Persons applying for Social Security Numbers (SSNs) prior to 1981 could categorize their race as (a) White, (b) Black, or (c) Other. In 1981, the racial descriptions on social security applications were expanded to (a) Asian, Asian-American, or Pacific Islander, (b) Hispanic, (c) Black, (d) Northern American Indian or Alaskan Native, and (e) White.

Most persons who currently own businesses applied for their SSNs prior to 1981. Therefore, the majority of owners could be classified only as (a) White, (b) Black, or (c) Other by use of SSA race codes.

For each owner, the SSA also provided the Census Bureau with the individual's country of birth, current surname, original surname, mother's maiden surname, and father's surname. The Census Bureau has developed lists of American Indian, Asian, and Hispanic surnames based on research using prior survey data.

In addition to the SSA data, several other sources were used to preidentify businesses by race, ethnicity, and gender of owner(s) as potentially minority-owned:

- Lists of minority- and women-owned businesses published in syndicated magazines, located on the Internet, or disseminated by trade or special interest groups.
- Word strings in the company name indicating possible minority ownership (derived from 1992 survey responses).
- Racial distributions for various state-industry classes (derived from 1992 survey responses) and racial distributions for various ZIP Codes.

Individual proprietors who reported they were of minority ancestry in the 1992 survey and were still active in 1997 were excluded from the mail canvass and the 1992 responses were used instead. See the section on Sampling below for a description of how cases were selected.

Sampling. There were six sampling frames used and every case was assigned to one of the following frames:

- American Indian
- Asian/Pacific Islander

- Black
- Hispanic
- Non-Hispanic white male
- Women

The SMOBE and SWOBE universe was stratified by state, industry, and the inferred race code. The Census Bureau selected large companies (based on volume of sales) “with certainty.” All certainty cases were sure to be selected and represented only themselves (i.e., have a selection probability of one and a sampling weight of one). The certainty cutoffs varied by sampling stratum, and each stratum was sampled at varying rates, depending on the number of firms in a particular industry in a particular state. The sampling rate was lowest in states and industries with the greatest number of firms. A similar methodology was used to select a sample from the remaining universe: the purpose of this was to estimate the number of firms owned by persons of minority ancestry when no indication of minority ownership was found from any of the sources listed above.

A firm selected into the sample was mailed one of two questionnaires (see Appendix D for a sample of both). The Census Bureau sent the MB-1 questionnaire to partnerships and corporations, or to sole proprietorships that submitted joint tax returns where, based on the administrative records, it was probable that the husband and wife were of different races. The businesses were asked to report the percentage of stock ownership of the business by gender, race and ethnicity. The MB-2 questionnaire was used for sole proprietors and self-employed individuals who were “single filers” or who filed joint tax returns where, based on administrative records, there was a low probability that the husband and wife were of different races. The businesses were asked to report the gender, race and ethnicity of the primary owner(s) of the business. The form included an equal male/female ownership option for the collection of business owners by gender.

Tabulation. In the 1997 SMOBE and SWOBE, minority/women ownership of a business was based on the race/ethnicity/gender of the person(s) owning majority interest in the business. Firms equally male-/female-owned were counted and tabulated as a separate category. The gender of sole proprietors and self-employed persons who were “single filers” was taken directly from administrative record data.

Businesses in which ownership was shared among minority and nonminority groups with no single racial/ethnic group having majority interest were tabulated as 50 percent minority-/50 percent nonminority-owned in the Company Summary publication and were excluded from the minority business counts.

It was possible for a firm to be classified in more than one minority group (one racial and one Hispanic ethnicity) and to be included in more than one minority report. For example, a firm could be included in both the Black report and the Hispanic report, if it were owned by a person who reported his/her race as Black and his/her ethnicity as Hispanic. However, such a firm is counted only once at total levels in the minority Summary and the Company Summary publications.

Data are tabulated by firm. A firm is a business organization consisting of one or more domestic locations. Firms are counted in each geographic area and industry in which they operate. The employment, payroll, and receipts reflect the sum of their locations within the specified geography and industry and are, therefore, additive to higher levels. The number of firms, however, reflects all firms in a given tabulation level and are not additive. For example, a firm with operating locations in two counties will be counted in both counties, but only once in the state total.

Businesses with publicly held stock whose ownership was indeterminate relative to gender, race or ethnicity, and nonprofit, foreign-owned and mutual companies were tabulated separately and published in the “other” category in our reports.

RELIABILITY OF ESTIMATES

The data in the SMOBE and SWOBE are, in part, estimated from a sample and will differ from the data that would have been obtained from a complete census. Two types of possible errors are associated with estimates based on data from sample surveys: sampling errors and nonsampling errors. The accuracy of a survey result depends not only on the sampling errors and nonsampling errors measured, but also on the nonsampling errors not explicitly measured. For particular estimates, the total error may considerably exceed the measured errors. The following is a description of the sampling and nonsampling errors associated with the 1997 SMOBE/SWOBE.

Sampling variability. The particular sample used for the SMOBE and SWOBE is one of a large number of all possible samples of the same size that could have been selected using the same sample design. Estimates derived from the different samples would differ from each other. The relative standard error is a measure of the variability among the estimates from all possible samples. The estimated relative standard errors presented in the tables estimate the sampling variability, and thus measure the precision with which an estimate from the particular sample selected for the SMOBE and SWOBE approximates the average result of all possible samples. Relative standard errors are applicable only to those published cells in which sample cases are tabulated. A relative standard error is an expression of the standard error as a percent of the quantity being estimated.

The sample estimate and an estimate of its relative standard error can be used to estimate the standard error and then construct interval estimates with a prescribed level of confidence that the interval includes the average results of all samples. To illustrate, if all possible samples were surveyed under essentially the same condition, and estimates calculated from each sample, then:

1. Approximately 68 percent of the intervals from one standard error below the estimate to one standard error above the estimate would include the average value of all possible samples.
2. Approximately 90 percent of the intervals from 1.6 standard errors below the estimate to 1.6 standard errors above the estimate would include the average value of all possible samples.

Thus, for a particular sample, one can say with specified confidence that the average of all possible samples is included in the constructed interval.

Example of a confidence interval. Suppose the estimated number of employer minority-owned firms in Agricultural Services is 7,139 and the estimated relative standard error is 2 percent. The estimated standard error is $7,139 \times .02 = 143$. An approximate 90-percent confidence interval is $7,139 \pm (1.6 \times 143)$ or $7,139 \pm 228.8$ or 6,910.2 to 7,367.8.

Nonsampling errors. All surveys and censuses are subject to nonsampling errors. Nonsampling errors are attributable to many sources: inability to obtain information for all cases in the universe, adjustments to the weights of respondents to compensate for nonrespondents, imputation for missing data, data errors and biases, mistakes in recording or keying data, errors in collection or processing, and coverage problems.

Explicit measures of the effects of these nonsampling errors are not available. However, it is believed that most of the important operational and data errors were detected and corrected through an automated data edit designed to review the data for reasonableness and consistency. Quality control techniques were used to verify that operating procedures were carried out as specified.

Approximately 79 percent of the questionnaires were returned. For respondents which supplied some but not all of the requested information and for businesses selected with certainty which failed to respond, data were imputed using a procedure that ensured that the imputed data were consistent with the responses provided and all information available from administrative sources. Weights of the responding cases, which were not selected with certainty, were adjusted to compensate for the remainder of the cases which failed to respond. All of these procedures assume that (1) the administrative information is accurate and (2) nonrespondents possess the same characteristics as respondents with similar demographic characteristics. Neither of these assumptions is exactly true.

INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATIONS

The system published in the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual: 1987 was used to classify firms for the SMOBE and SWOBE. Under this system, economic activities are coded on a numerical basis. Related activities are grouped at a primary level by industry division (i.e., manufacturing, construction, retail trade, etc.). Within each industry division, successive levels of detail of the economic activity are defined: major group (two-digit code); industry group (three-digit code); and industry (four-digit code). For example, one hierarchy in wholesale trade is:

SIC level	SIC code	Description
Industry division	—	Wholesale trade
Major group	50	Durable goods
Industry group	506	Electrical goods
Industry	5064	Electrical appliances, television and radio sets

Data in the SMOBE and SWOBE reports are presented at the industry division or major group level, depending on the table.

The SMOBE and SWOBE cover all industries in the SIC system except the following major industry groups:

- Agricultural Production (01, 02)
- Railroad Transportation (40)
- U.S. Postal Service (43)
- Selected parts of 63, Insurance Carriers
 - Pension Funds (self-managed funds and funds managed by a third party)
 - Health and Welfare Funds (self managed funds and funds managed by a third party)
- Selected parts of 67, Holding and Other Investment Offices
 - Management Investment Offices, Open-End
 - Unit Investment Trusts, Face-Amount Certificate Offices, and Closed-End Management Investment Offices
 - Vacation Funds for Employees
 - Personal Investment Trusts
- Membership Organizations (86)
- Private Households (88)
- Public Administration (91-97)

GEOGRAPHIC AREAS COVERED

The SMOBE and SWOBE reports present data for the United States, each state and the District of Columbia; metropolitan areas (MAs), which include selected metropolitan statistical areas (MSAs), primary metropolitan statistical areas (PMSAs), and consolidated metropolitan statistical areas (CMSAs); counties; and places with 100 or more women- or minority-owned firms.

MSAs. The MSAs for which data are shown are among those defined by the Office of Management and Budget as of June 30, 1997. An MSA is an integrated economic and social unit with a population nucleus of at least 50,000 inhabitants.¹ Each MSA consists of one or more counties meeting standards of metropolitan character; in New England, cities and towns, rather than counties, are the component geographic units.

PMSAs. An MSA with a population of 1 million or more may be subdivided into PMSAs. A PMSA consists of a large urbanized county or a cluster of counties (cities and towns in New England) that demonstrates very strong internal economic and social links separate from the ties to other portions of its MSA. Where PMSAs are defined, the MSA of which they are component parts is redesignated a CMSA.

Counties. Data are shown for counties or county equivalents.^{2 3}

Places. Included in the SMOBE and SWOBE are places of 2,500 inhabitants or more or incorporated as a city, borough, village, or town.^{1 2} In addition, statistics are presented for towns in the six New England states, New York, and Wisconsin, and townships in Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania with a 1990 census population of 10,000 or more.

COMPARABILITY OF 1992 AND 1997 DATA

The following changes were made in survey methodology in 1997 which affect comparability with past reports:

1. The universe for the 1997 SMOBE and SWOBE was expanded to include all corporations. In 1992, only subchapter S corporations in addition to partnerships and sole proprietorships were included for the SMOBE. A small sample of "C" corporations was included in the SWOBE to provide estimates at the industry division level only.
2. Previously, the SMOBE and SWOBE programs defined a business as an entity that filed a business income tax return. Businesses that had received one or more Employer Identification Numbers (EINs) may have filed tax returns under more than one EIN. In past surveys, each EIN was treated as a separate business. For 1997, all operations under the same ownership were defined as one company or business, irrespective of the number of the company's EINs. The definition eliminated the likelihood of surveying the same business owner more than once. This change had no effect on the employment and payroll data for these surveys, but slightly reduced the count for the number of businesses and the total receipts.

3. In the past, ownership was based on the race/ethnicity/gender of the majority of the number of owners, without regard to the percentage of interest owned in the firm. Businesses with 50 percent or more minority owners have in the past been included in the minority business counts. In the 1997 SMOBE, 51 percent or more of the interest, claims or rights in the business must be held by minorities to be included as a minority-owned business and similarly for women. In the 1997 SMOBE, businesses in which ownership was shared among minority and nonminority groups with no single racial/ethnic group having majority interest were excluded from the minority business counts and tabulated as 50-percent minority-/50-percent nonminority-owned in the Company Summary publication. Equally owned male/female firms were treated as a separate entity and were presented in a separate section of the Women-Owned Businesses publication. In previous surveys, businesses which were equally owned by a man and a woman were classified as either male- or female-owned. Equally owned corporations and partnerships were counted as women-owned. Using administrative data all sole proprietorships were assigned a gender based on the spouse with the largest self-employment income. The addition of the equally owned category in 1997 substantially reduced the estimates for women-owned businesses.
4. In the past, a small sample of the cases placed on the non-Hispanic white male frame was taken to estimate the number of firms owned by persons of minority ancestry when no indication of minority ownership was found from any of the sources used in stratification. The estimates from this sample were presented in a separate section of the Asian- and Pacific Islander-, American Indian- and Alaska Native-owned business publication and the Hispanic-owned business publication as an estimate of the undercount and were excluded from the detailed tables. In the 1997 SMOBE and SWOBE, the estimates from this part of the sample were included in the detailed tables of the publications.
5. In prior surveys, the SMOBE universe of sole proprietorships was based on businesses filing an annual IRS Schedule C (Form 1040) "Profit or Loss From Business" report. Employers were identified by first matching these Schedule C records to IRS Form 941 "Employers Quarterly Federal Tax Return" payroll reports. Not all Schedule C business income tax records that represented firms with employees could be matched. To estimate for sole proprietorship employers that were not matched to payroll tax returns, a portion of the sole proprietorship universe that reported cost of labor or wages as an expense item on the Schedule C was also considered employers. In addition, some cases with no cost of labor or wages reported but with large receipts had payroll imputed and were counted as employers.

²Those defined as of January 1, 1997.

³See Appendix C for Alaska, Louisiana, Maryland, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, Virginia, and District of Columbia county equivalents.

For 1997, the methodology was revised to identify sole proprietorship employers as only those that filed the IRS Form 941 payroll tax form. These businesses were included in the universe even if they could not be matched to a Schedule C. This resulted in a decrease in the estimate of firms with paid employees relative to the 1992 methodology.

COMPARABILITY OF SURVEY DATA WITH OTHER ECONOMIC CENSUS DATA

The tables in each publication that show data for all U.S. firms are comparable to and include the minority- and women-owned firm data. Caution should be exercised in comparing data presented in this report with published or unpublished data from other reports of the 1997 Economic Census. Factors that affect comparability of data among censuses are industrial scope, business unit covered, receipts size, and coverage of nonemployers.

Industrial scope. Data in this report are based on the *1987 SIC Manual*⁴ (see Industry Classifications section).

Several SIC industries were in scope of the SMOBE and SWOBE but out of scope of the basic economic census. These industries included: 07, Agricultural Services; 08, Forestry; 09, Fishing, Hunting, and Trapping.

Major industry group 86, Membership Organizations, was within the scope of the economic census but out of the scope of the SMOBE and SWOBE.

In the SMOBE and SWOBE, industry 6552 (land subdividers and developers, except cemeteries) is included with the construction industry group, unlike the other economic censuses that include it with industry 65 (real estate).

Business unit. Most of the economic censuses are conducted on an establishment or physical location basis, individually enumerating and tabulating each establishment owned by a firm. In the SMOBE and SWOBE, however, the whole firm was the primary unit for enumeration. (See Appendix A for definition of "firm.")

Receipts size. Most of the economic censuses determine whether or not a firm may be counted as an active business according to its receipts size. The specified minimums vary by industry. For a firm to be counted as an active business in the SMOBE and SWOBE, it had only to file a business tax return with business receipts greater than $1,000, except for the construction industry, which had no minimum business receipts cutoff.

Firms with no paid employees. Although nonemployer firms are included in these surveys, they are omitted from many of the economic census reports.

DOLLAR VALUES

All dollar values presented in the SMOBE and SWOBE reports are expressed in current dollars, i.e., 1997 data are expressed in 1997 dollars and 1992 data in 1992 dollars. Consequently, when making comparisons to prior years, users should take into consideration the inflation that has occurred.

COMPACT DISCS

Data for the economic censuses are also available on compact discs-read only memory (CD-ROM). For the SMOBE and SWOBE, discs will contain more detailed industry data by state and comparison data for all U.S. firms, as well as the same information found in the reports. Discs are sold by Administrative and Customer Services Division, U.S. Census Bureau, Washington, DC 20233-1900.

SPECIAL TABULATIONS

Special tabulations of data collected in the 1997 SMOBE and/or SWOBE may be obtained, depending on availability of time and personnel, on computer disk, or in tabular form. The data will be in summary form and subject to the same rules prohibiting disclosure of confidential information (including name, address, kind of business, or other data for individual firms) as are the regular publications.

Special tabulations are prepared on a cost basis. A request for a cost estimate, as well as exact specifications on the type and format of the data to be provided, should be directed to the Chief, Economic Census Branch, U.S. Census Bureau, Washington, DC 20233-6400.

To discuss a special tabulation before submitting a request, call 301-457-3318.

Summary of Findings

Minorities owned 3,039,033 of all U.S. nonfarm businesses in 1997, employing 4,514,699 persons and generating $591.3 billion in business revenues. In 1997, minority-owned firms accounted for 14.6 percent of the 20.8 million nonfarm businesses in the United States, 4.4 percent of their employment and 3.2 percent of their receipts. Excluding businesses with publicly held stock whose ownership was indeterminate relative to race or ethnicity, and nonprofit, foreign-owned and mutual companies, minority-owned firms accounted for 14.9 percent of the nonfarm businesses in the United States and 7.0 percent of their receipts.

The data in this report were collected as part of the 1997 Economic Census from a large sample of all nonfarm businesses filing 1997 tax forms as individual proprietorships, partnerships, and any type of corporation, and with receipts of $1,000 or more. The data are not comparable to earlier surveys due to significant methodology changes which are discussed in the section below on Data Comparability to Prior Surveys.

Table A. Comparison of Business Ownership by Minority Group: 1997

Minority group	All firms ¹		Percent of minority-owned firms
	Firms (number)	Sales and receipts (million dollars)	Firms	Sales and receipts

Asian and Pacific Islander	912,960	306,933	30.0	51.9

¹All firms data include both firms with paid employees and firms with no paid employees.

Note: Detail in this table does not add to total because of duplication of some firms. Hispanics may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group.

Hispanics owned the largest number, 1,199,900, or 39.5 percent, of firms owned by minorities. Hispanics also owned the largest share, 40.0 percent, of firms owned by minority men, 36.6 percent of firms owned by minority women and 43.3 percent of firms that were minority equally male-/female-owned.

While Hispanics owned the largest share of firms owned by minorities, Asian- and Pacific Islander-owned firms accounted for the largest share, 51.9 percent, of all revenues generated by minority-owned firms. Asians and Pacific Islanders also had the largest share, 52.1 percent, of the receipts of firms owned by minority men, 45.0 percent of the receipts of firms owned by minority women and 57.5 percent of the receipts of firms that were minority equally male-/female-owned.

¹All firms data include both firms with paid employees and firms with no paid employees.

Average receipts per firm varied among the groups depending upon race, Hispanic origin, and gender. Average receipts ranked the highest among the Asian- and Pacific Islander-owned firms with $437,000 for those owned by males and those equally male-/female-owned with $307,000. Average receipts for Hispanic male-owned firms ranked third with $199,800, followed by American Indian male-owned firms with $193,100.

Black women had the lowest average receipts with $43,300, followed by Hispanic female-owned firms with $80,900. Figure 2 shows average receipts per firm by race, Hispanic origin, and gender.

INDUSTRY CHARACTERISTICS

Forty-four percent of minority-owned firms were in the service industry and accounted for 23.0 percent of the total gross receipts for all minority-owned firms. Nearly half of these service firms provided business and personal services. The retail trade industry accounted for 14.5 percent of all minority-owned firms and 19.7 percent of all receipts.

The service industry accounted for 57.6 percent of the firms and 34.8 percent of the receipts for minority women but only 38.3 percent of the firms and 21.7 percent of the receipts for minority men. Construction firms accounted for 12.6 percent of the firms owned by minority men but only 2.0 percent of the firms owned by minority women. Tables D, E, and F show the industry groups with the greatest receipts by gender for minority-owned firms. Figure 3 shows the distribution of firms by industry for each minority group.

GEOGRAPHIC CHARACTERISTICS

California had the most minority-owned firms at 738,033 or 24.3 percent with receipts of $182.9 billion or 30.9 percent of all minority-owned business receipts. Texas was second with 365,450 or 12.0 percent with receipts of $67.4 billion or 11.4 percent of receipts. New York was third in number of firms with 296,523 but was fourth in receipts with $47.2 billion. New York accounted for 9.8 percent of all minority-owned firms and 8.0 percent of their receipts.

Table H shows the 10 metropolitan areas (MAs) with the largest number of minority-owned firms and compares the firms and receipts in these MAs with the number in their respective states. These 10 MAs accounted for 39.2 percent of the total number of minority-owned firms in the United States and 44.7 percent of their receipts.

LEGAL FORM OF ORGANIZATION

Eighty-two percent of firms operated as individual proprietorships in 1997 and accounted for 19.4 percent of gross receipts. Corporations, other than subchapter S corporations, accounted for only 8.3 percent of the total number of firms but 43.3 percent of the gross receipts. Subchapter S corporations were 6.4 percent of all minority-owned firms but accounted for 29.4 percent of their gross receipts. Partnerships accounted for 2.8 percent of the total minority-owned firms and 4.7 percent of gross receipts. Businesses classified as other legal forms of organization and those not classified accounted for 0.2 percent of the total number of firms and 3.1 percent of the gross receipts.

SIZE OF FIRM

Minority-owned firms with paid employees accounted for 20.3 percent of the total number of firms and 87.4 percent of gross receipts. There were 4,432 firms with 100 employees or more which accounted for $105.3 billion in gross receipts (20.3 percent of the total receipts of all minority-owned employer firms).

There were 84,267 minority-owned firms with gross receipts of $1 million or more. These firms accounted for only 2.8 percent of the total number of minority-owned firms but 65.6 percent of the total gross receipts.

DATA COMPARABILITY TO PRIOR SURVEYS

The data for 1997 are not directly comparable to previous survey years because of several changes to the survey methodology. These changes are discussed in detail in the introductory text in the section titled "Comparability of 1992 and 1997 Data." The most significant changes occurred in the treatment of C corporations, in tabulating businesses with 50-percent minority ownership, in the estimates of Hispanic-, Asian-, Pacific Islander-, American Indian-, and Alaska Native-owned firms excluded from the detailed tables of the 1992 publications, and in the identification of firms with paid employees. In 1992 and in previous studies, C corporations were excluded from the survey. Only subchapter S corporations, in addition to partnerships and sole proprietorships, were included. In 1997, the universe for the Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises was expanded to include all corporations. However, businesses that were foreign-owned, publicly held, nonprofit, or whose ownership was shared by its membership, such as mutual companies, were tabulated separately and not distributed to the race/ethnicity of ownership categories. Race/ethnicity of ownership for the remaining corporations was determined to be Hispanic- or non-Hispanic-; Asian- or non-Asian-; Pacific Islander- or non-Pacific Islander-; American Indian- or non-American Indian-; or Alaska Native- or non-Alaska Native-owned firms if 51 percent or more of the stock interest, claims or rights were held by the specific racial/ethnic group.

The second major change occurred with the treatment of businesses with 50-percent minority-/50-percent non-minority ownership. In the past, businesses with 50 percent or more minority owners have been included in the minority business data. For 1997, businesses in which ownership was shared among minority and nonminority groups with no single racial/ethnic group having majority interest were excluded from the minority business data and were tabulated and published separately as 50-percent minority-/50-percent nonminority-owned in the Company Summary publication.

The third major change occurred with the exclusion of some Hispanic-, Asian-, Pacific Islander-, American Indian-, and Alaska Native-owned firms from the detailed tables of the 1992 reports. In the past, these businesses were sampled from a frame of businesses that had some probability of being Hispanic, Asian, Pacific Islander, American Indian, or Alaska Native, either based on tax information from the Social Security Administration, name recognition, or previously collected data. For businesses assumed to be white, non-Hispanic, or for which no predefining information was available, a small sample of cases was selected to estimate the number of firms owned by persons of minority ancestry that were not included in the potentially Hispanic-, Asian-, Pacific Islander-, American Indian-, or Alaska Native-owned business frame. The estimates from this sample were presented in a separate section of the reports as an estimate of the undercount and were excluded from the detailed tables due to high standard errors and insufficient industry detail. In the 1997 survey, the estimates from this part of the sample were included in the detailed tables of the publications.

The fourth major change occurred in identifying sole proprietorships with paid employees. The methodology was revised to account for only those firms which paid payroll taxes to the IRS. This resulted in a decrease in the estimate of firms with paid employees relative to the 1992 methodology.

The comparison table provides measures of change from 1992 to 1997 in both the number and receipts for all minority-owned firms. Due to the methodology changes discussed above, exact estimates of change are not available. However, the trends shown at the aggregate level are believed to be reliable.

Table 1. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Major Industry Group and Minority: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). This table is based on the 1987 SIC system. For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

Table 1. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Major Industry Group and Minority: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). This table is based on the 1987 SIC system. For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

Table 1. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Major Industry Group and Minority: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). This table is based on the 1987 SIC system. For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

Table 2. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Minority for States: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

¹All firms data include both firms with paid employees and firms with no paid employees.

²For explanation of relative standard errors, see Reliability of Estimates in the introductory text.

Table 3. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Industry Division for States: 1997

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). This table is based on the 1987 SIC system. For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

Table 3. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Industry Division for States: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). This table is based on the 1987 SIC system. For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

Table 3. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Industry Division for States: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). This table is based on the 1987 SIC system. For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

Table 5. Statistics for Selected Counties With 100 or More Minority-Owned Firms: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A. For information on geographic areas followed by *, see Appendix C]

Table 5. Statistics for Selected Counties With 100 or More Minority-Owned Firms: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A. For information on geographic areas followed by *, see Appendix C]

Table 6. Statistics for Selected Places With 100 or More Minority-Owned Firms: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A. For information on geographic areas followed by *, see Appendix C]

Table 7. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Major Industry Group, Legal Form of Organization, and Minority: 1997

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). This table is based on the 1987 SIC system. For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

Table 7. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Major Industry Group, Legal Form of Organization, and Minority: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). This table is based on the 1987 SIC system. For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

Table 8. Statistics for Minority-Owned Firms by Industry Division, Receipts Size of Firm, and Minority: 1997—Con.

[Detail may not add to total because of rounding and because a Hispanic firm may be of any race and, therefore, may be included in more than one minority group (see Survey Methodology in the introductory text). This table is based on the 1987 SIC system. For meaning of abbreviations and symbols, see introductory text. For explanation of terms, see Appendix A]

Explanation of Terms

Annual payroll. Annual payroll consists of the combined amount of wages paid, tips reported, and other compensation including salaries, vacation allowances, bonuses, commissions, sick-leave pay, and the value of payments-in-kind (such as free meals and lodging) paid to all employees during the calendar year before deductions for social security, income tax, insurance, union dues, etc. All forms of compensation are included, whether or not subject to income tax or FICA tax, with the exception of annuities, third-party sick pay, and supplemental unemployment compensation benefits (even if income tax was withheld). For corporations, total payroll includes compensation paid to officers and executives; for unincorporated businesses, it does not include profit or other compensation of proprietors or partners.

Employment. Employment includes all employees, full-time and part-time, reported on a firm's payroll during specified pay periods in 1997. Persons on paid sick leave, paid holidays, and paid vacations are included as employees, as are salaried officers and executives of corporations. However, proprietors and partners of unincorporated businesses are not considered as employees.

The derivation of the 1997 employment figures vary somewhat among the different industries. For firms in the minerals, manufacturing, and construction industries, employment represents an annual average of the number of "production workers" on the payroll for any part of the pay periods including the 12th of March, May, August, and November, plus the number of "all other employees" on the payroll during the March 12th pay period. For the other industries covered by the economic censuses and for those industries not covered, employment consists of all employees on the payroll of a firm during the pay period including March 12.

Establishment. An establishment is a business or industrial unit at a single physical location which produces or distributes goods or performs services.

Ethnicity. The ethnic categories listed on the survey questionnaires are consistent with those mandated by the Office of Management and Budget. These standards were developed by both the Executive Branch and Congress.

Firm. A firm is a business consisting of one domestic establishment or more that the reporting firm specified under its ownership or control at the end of 1997. If a company owned or controlled other companies, all establishments of the subsidiaries are included as part of the owning or controlling company. In this report, the terms company and firm are used interchangeably.

Legal form of organization. The five legal forms of organization included in this report are:

1. C corporation. Any legally incorporated business, except subchapter S, under state laws.
2. Subchapter S corporation. A legally incorporated business under state laws. A subchapter S corporation is a special IRS designation for legally incorporated businesses with 75 or fewer shareholders who, because of tax advantages, elect to be taxed as individual shareholders rather than as corporations.
3. Individual proprietorship. An unincorporated business owned by an individual. Also included in this category are self-employed persons. The business may be the only occupation of an individual or the secondary activity of an individual who works full time for someone else.
4. Partnership. An unincorporated business owned by two or more persons.
5. Other. Included in this group are cooperatives, estates, receiverships, and businesses classified as unknown legal forms of organization.

Race. The race categories listed on the survey questionnaires are consistent with those mandated by the Office of Management and Budget. These standards were developed by both the Executive Branch and Congress.

Sales and receipts. Sales and receipts are defined as the receipts for goods produced or distributed or services provided. Excluded from sales are nonoperating receipts, returns on investments, and interest.

For firms with multiple locations, sales and receipts are reported for each location or establishment of the firm. These sales and receipts include estimated values assigned to intra-company transfers of goods and services among establishments within the same company. The value of a firm's sales and receipts as shown in this publication is the aggregate of these establishment receipts. Because of duplication, the aggregates of these establishments' sales and receipts ordinarily exceed a firm's total net sales and receipts, which reflect only commercial transactions with outside customers.

The purpose of this questionnaire is to collect information about the gender, race, and ethnic background of business owners in the United States for the year 1997. The business owner(s) should complete this questionnaire even if the business has since been sold, reorganized, or discontinued. Data provided by you will be used only for statistical purposes and will be kept strictly confidential. The race and ethnic categories have been established by the Office of Management and Budget to assure uniform reporting to all Federal agencies.

These data are needed to evaluate the extent and growth of business ownership in order to provide a framework for assessing and directing Federal, state, and local government business assistance programs. The Small Business Administration and the Minority Business Development Agency use these data when allocating resources for their business assistance programs. The data are also widely used by private firms and individuals to evaluate their own businesses and markets, by the media for news stories, and by researchers and academia for determining firm characteristics.

We estimate that it will take 10 minutes or less to complete this questionnaire. If you have any comments regarding these estimates or any other aspect of this survey, send them to the Associate Director for Administration/Controller, Attn: Paperwork Reduction Project 0607-0854, Room 3104, Federal Building 3, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233. You are not required to respond to any information collection unless it displays a valid approval number from the Office of Management and Budget. This 8-digit number appears at the top of this page.

PUBLICATION PROGRAM—Inside back cover

Introduction

PURPOSE AND USES OF THE ECONOMIC CENSUS

The economic census is the major source of facts about the structure and functioning of the Nation's economy. It provides essential information for government, business, industry, and the general public. Title 13 of the United States Code (sections 131, 191, and 224) directs the Census Bureau to take the economic census every 5 years, covering years ending in 2 and 7.

The economic census furnishes an important part of the framework for such composite measures as the local gross product, gross domestic product, input/output measures, and other statistical series that measure short-term changes in economic conditions. Specific uses of economic census data include the following:

- Policy making agencies of the federal government use the data to monitor economic activity and to provide assistance to business.
- Local governments use the data to assess business activities and tax bases within their jurisdictions and to develop programs to attract business.
- Trade associations study trends in their own and competing industries, which allows them to keep their members informed of market changes.
- Individual businesses use the data to locate potential markets and to analyze their own production and sales performance relative to industry or area averages.

INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATION: NAICS AND SIC

Data from the 1997 Economic Census are published primarily on the basis of the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS), unlike earlier censuses, which were published according to the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) system. However, data from special programs such as the 1997 Survey of Women- and Minority-Owned Business Enterprises (SMOBE), the 1997 Economic Census of Outlying Areas, and the 1997 Business Expenditures Survey (BES) are published on a SIC basis.

Most economic census reports cover one of the following NAICS sectors:

21	Mining
22	Utilities
23	Construction

31-33	Manufacturing
42	Wholesale Trade
44-45	Retail Trade
48-49	Transportation and Warehousing
51	Information
52	Finance and Insurance
53	Real Estate and Rental and Leasing
54	Professional, Scientific, and Technical Services
55	Management of Companies and Enterprises
56	Administrative and Support and Waste Management and Remediation Services
61	Educational Services
62	Health Care and Social Assistance
71	Arts, Entertainment, and Recreation
72	Accommodation and Foodservices
81	Other Services (except Public Administration)

(Not listed above are the Agriculture, Forestry, Fishing, and Hunting sector (NAICS 11), partially covered by the census of agriculture conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the Public Administration sector (NAICS 92), covered by the census of governments conducted by the Census Bureau.)

The 20 NAICS sectors are subdivided into 96 subsectors (three-digit codes), 313 industry groups (four-digit codes), and, as implemented in the United States, 1,170 industries (five- and six-digit codes).

While many of the individual NAICS industries correspond directly to industries as defined under the SIC system, most of the higher level groupings do not. Particular care should be taken in comparing data for retail trade, wholesale trade, and manufacturing, which are sector titles used in both NAICS and SIC, but cover somewhat different groups of industries. Where changes are significant, it will not be possible to construct time series that include data for points both before and after 1997.

For 1997, selected data for auxiliary establishments (those functioning primarily to manage, service, or support the activities of their company's operating establishments, such as a central administrative office or warehouse) will be included in the sector-specific reports. These data will be published separately. Data covering auxiliary expenses on an SIC basis will be unpublished.

To explore the 1997 NAICS and 1987 SIC Correspondence Tables, see <http://www.census.gov/epcd/www/naicstab.htm>.

Basis of Classification

The main economic census is conducted on an establishment basis. Each establishment is assigned a separate industry classification based on its primary activity and not that of its parent company.

Dollar Values

All dollar values presented are expressed in current dollars; i.e., 1997 data are expressed in 1997 dollars, and 1992 data, in 1992 dollars. Consequently, when making comparisons with prior years, users of the data should consider the inflation that has occurred.

For tables on manufacturing, mining and construction in this report, dollar values are shown in thousands; dollar values in other tables are shown in millions.

AVAILABILITY OF ADDITIONAL DATA

Reports in Print and Electronic Media

All published results of the 1997 Economic Census are available on the Census Bureau internet site (www.census.gov) and on compact discs (CD-ROM) for sale by the Census Bureau. Unlike previous censuses, only selected highlights are published in printed reports. For more information, including a description of electronic and printed reports being issued, see the internet site, or write to U.S. Census Bureau, Washington, DC 20233-8300, or call Customer Services at 301-457-4100.

Special tabulations

Special tabulations of data collected in the 1997 Economic Census may be obtained, depending on availability of time and personnel, in electronic or tabular form. The data will be summaries subject to the same rules prohibiting disclosure of confidential information (including name, address, kind of business, or other data for individual business establishments or companies) that govern regular publications.

Special tabulations are prepared on a cost basis. A request for a cost estimate, as well as exact specifications on the type and format of the data to be provided, should be directed to the Chief of the division named below, U.S. Census Bureau, Washington, DC 20233-8300.

To discuss a special tabulation before submitting specifications, call the appropriate division:

- Manufacturing and Construction Division—301-457-4673 (all nonexpense data for these sectors).
- Services Division—301-457-2668 (all nonexpense data, other sectors).
- Company Statistics Division—301-457-3318 (expense data)

HISTORICAL INFORMATION

The economic census has been taken together as an integrated program at 5-year intervals since 1967, and before that for 1963, 1958, and 1954. Prior to that time, individual components of the economic census were taken separately at varying intervals.

The economic census traces its beginnings to the 1810 Decennial Census, when questions on manufacturing were included with those for population. Coverage of economic activities was expanded for 1840 and subsequent censuses to include mining and some commercial activities. In 1902, Congress established a permanent Census Bureau and directed that a census of manufactures be taken every 5 years. The 1905 manufactures census was the first time a census was taken apart from the regular every-10-year population census. Censuses covering retail and wholesale trade and construction industries were added in 1930, as were some covering service trades in 1933. Censuses of construction, manufacturing, and the other business service censuses were suspended during World War II.

The 1954 Economic Census was the first to be fully integrated: providing comparable census data across economic sectors, using consistent time periods, concepts, definitions, classifications, and reporting units. It was the first census to be taken by mail, using lists of firms provided by the administrative records of other federal agencies. Since 1963, administrative records have also been used to provide basic statistics for very small firms, reducing or eliminating the need to send them census questionnaires.

The range of industries covered in the economic censuses expanded between 1967 and 1992. The census of construction industries began on a regular basis in 1967, and the scope of service industries was broadened in 1967, 1977, and 1987. The census of transportation began in 1963 as a set of surveys covering travel, transportation of commodities, and trucks, but expanded in 1987 to cover business establishments in several transportation industries. While a few transportation industries were covered as early as 1963, it was not until 1992 that the census broadened to include all of transportation, communications, and utilities. Also, new for 1992 was coverage of financial, insurance, and real estate industries. With these additions, the economic census and the separate census of governments and census of agriculture collectively covered roughly 98 percent of all economic activity.

Printed statistical reports from the 1992 and earlier censuses provide historical figures for the study of long-term time series and are available in some large libraries. Most census reports printed since 1967 are still available for sale on microfiche from the Census Bureau. CD-ROMs issued from the 1987 and 1992 Economic Censuses contain databases including most data published in print, plus additional statistics, such as ZIP Code statistics, published only on CD-ROM.

SOURCES FOR MORE INFORMATION

More information about the scope, coverage, classification system, data items, and publications for each of the economic censuses and related surveys is published in the Guide to the 1997 Economic Census and Related Statistics at www.census.gov/epcd/www/guide.html. Business Expenses

GENERAL

This report was prepared as part of the Company Statistics Series, 1997 Economic Census, and provides aggregate data on the operating expenses of businesses and organizations across most sectors of the United States economy. Data for businesses without paid employees are included for only the retail and service industries. For all other industries only businesses that had paid employees are included. Data on service industries include tax-exempt organizations with paid employees. The statistics presented for manufacturing, mining, and construction, are summarized by kind of business based on the *1997 North American Industry Classification System*¹ (NAICS). Statistics presented for the other industries are summarized by kind of business based on the *1987 Standard Industrial Classification Manual*² (SIC). A description and comparison of these systems can be found in the 1997 NAICS and 1987 SIC Correspondence Tables on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/epcd/www/naicstab.htm>. A few industries changed sectors when reclassified to a NAICS basis. For example, retail bakeries with baking on the premises moved from the retail sector on an SIC basis to manufacturing on a NAICS basis. In this case, expenses data for retail bakeries are tabulated in both retail (SIC-based) and manufacturing (NAICS-based). In all cases the amount of this duplication is insignificant at SIC Division and NAICS Sector industrial classification levels.

The economic census is a primary source of facts about the structure and functioning of the Nation's economy. It provides essential information for government, industry, business, and the general public. For the Business Expenditures Survey, the federal government is the primary user of the resulting data. In particular, the Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA), the federal agency that produces gross domestic product estimates and maintains the national economic accounts, uses Census Bureau information on expenses as an important part of the framework for the national income and product accounts, input-output tables, and economic indexes, and to fill previously identified critical gaps in underlying data in these accounts.

RELIABILITY OF DATA

For a discussion of "Limitations of the Data" covering merchant wholesale, retail trade, and service industries, see Appendix A. For other industries, see the Internet sites presented below.

DISCLOSURE

In accordance with federal law governing census reports, no data are published that would disclose the operations of an individual establishment or business.

MERCHANT WHOLESALE TRADE, RETAIL TRADE, AND SERVICE INDUSTRIES

Data presented on these areas are based on information collected in the 1997 Business Expenditures Survey (BES). Descriptions of the survey methodology, estimating procedures and concepts, and kind-of-business classifications, are presented in Appendix A. This survey covers businesses and organizations classified by SIC as merchant wholesale trade (SICs 50, 51), retail trade (SICs 52 through 59), and service industries (most of SICs 70 through 87), including associated auxiliary locations such as warehouses and central administrative offices.

The survey uses a probability sample of firms used to produce annual national estimates of sales, receipts, and revenue, compiled in the Annual Trade Survey, the Annual Retail Trade Survey, and the Service Annual Survey. For the 1997 annual surveys, additional data, measures of error, and explanatory text can be found on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/prod/2000pubs/bw-99a.pdf> (monthly and annual wholesale data); <http://www.census.gov/prod/2000pubs/br-99a.pdf> (monthly and annual retail data); and <http://www.census.gov/prod/99pubs/bs97.pdf> (annual service data).

The BES supplements basic economic statistics produced by the 1997 Economic Census for wholesale trade, retail trade, and service industries with estimates of operating expenses. It is the sole source of comprehensive national business inputs data for covered industries. As the successor to the 1992 Assets and Expenditures Survey, the name change reflects the discontinuation of inquiries on depreciable assets.

COMMUNICATION SERVICES

Data presented on communications are based on information collected in the 1997 Annual Survey of Communication Services. Coverage includes all firms with payroll that provided telephone communication, radio and television broadcasting, cable television, and other communication services (SIC 48).

Additional data, measures of error, and explanatory text can be found in Census report BC/97 or on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/prod/99pubs/bc97.pdf>.

TRUCKING AND WAREHOUSING

Data presented on trucking and warehousing are based on information collected in the 1997 Transportation Annual Survey.

Additional data, measures of error, and explanatory text can be found in Census report BT/97 or on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/prod/99pubs/bt97.pdf>.

ARRANGEMENT OF PASSENGER TRANSPORTATION

Data presented on the arrangement of passenger transportation are based on information collected in the 1997 Service Annual Survey.

Additional data, measures of error, and explanatory text can be found in Census report BS/97 or on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/prod/99pubs/bs97.pdf>.

MANUFACTURING

Data presented on manufacturing are based on information collected in the 1997 Economic Census—Manufactures.

Appended to the manufacturing sector data for NAICS industries is the publishing industry, part of the NAICS information sector, previously considered manufacturing under the SIC system.

Additional data, measures of error, and explanatory text can be found on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/prod/www/abs/97ecmani.html>.

MINING

Data presented on mineral industries are based on information collected in the 1997 Economic Census — Mining.

Additional data, measures of error, and explanatory text can be found on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/prod/www/abs/97ecmini.html>.

CONSTRUCTION

Data presented on construction are based on information collected in the 1997 Economic Census—Construction.

Additional data, measures of error, and explanatory text can be found in census report EC97/C and on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/prod/www/abs/ccview1.html>.

ESTABLISHMENTS AUXILIARY TO MANUFACTURING, MINING, AND CONSTRUCTION

Auxiliary establishments include separately located warehouses, garages, central administrative offices, and other facilities primarily engaged in servicing a company's operating locations. Expenses data for auxiliaries servicing manufacturing, mining and construction have been compiled on an as reported, unpublished basis and are available by contacting the Company Statistics Division at 301-457-3318 or csd@ccmail.census.gov.

²Sales data for SICs 5051 pt. and the 515 trade group are reported on a different basis than the 1997 Economic Census. For an explanation of these differences, see Method of Estimation in Appendix A.

³These data represent only utilities which were purchased by firms in 1997 and exclude those utility costs that were part of normal lease and rental payments or franchise fees.

Note: Based on the Annual Survey of Manufactures (ASM) sample, data on purchased services represent only reporters. A response coverage ratio is derived for an item by calculating the ratio of the weighted employment (establishment data multiplied by sample weight—for those ASM establishments that reported) to the weighted total employment for all ASM establishments classified in this industry.

Data for inquiries not subject to coverage ratios have been expanded to represent the entire industry.

Measures of reliability for expense data can be discussed by contacting the Manufacturing and Construction Division, Information Services Center, by e-mail at mcinfo@census.gov.

General Explanation

SAMPLE DESIGN: THE BUSINESS EXPENDITURES SURVEY (BES)

Merchant Wholesale, Retail Trade, and Service Industries

The estimates for merchant wholesale, retail trade and service industries are derived from the 1997 Business Expenditures Survey (BES). The BES sample is the combination of the samples used for the 1997 Annual Trade Survey, the 1997 Annual Retail Trade Survey, and the 1997 Service Annual Survey. These samples are probability samples of firms engaged in the various industries. A firm is a business organization consisting of one or more establishments under common ownership or control. An establishment is a single physical location where business is conducted or where services are performed.

The initial sample frames for the surveys were constructed from the Census Bureau's Standard Statistical Establishment List (SSEL) as of December 31, 1994. The sample frames contained two types of sampling units—large multiple establishment firms and Employer Identification Numbers (EINs). Both sampling units can represent one or more establishments owned or controlled by the same firm. Firms were stratified by kind of business and then by a measure of size related to their annual receipts, revenue, or sales.

The frames included only employers, and only employers were actually mailed questionnaires in the survey. In the retail and service industries, sales data for nonemployers were obtained from administrative records. Estimates of the expenses for nonemployers were derived based on the administrative sales for the nonemployers and the sales and expense data for employers.

To reduce the variability of the estimates, the sampling units with the largest measures of size were selected "with certainty." This means they are self-representing (i.e., each has a selection probability of one and a sampling weight of one). Within each kind of business a substratum boundary (or cutoff) that divides the certainty units from the noncertainty units was determined. If a unit was included in the certainty portion, the firm was the sampling unit. All firms not selected with certainty were subjected to sampling on an EIN basis.

Data from the 1992 Economic Census were analyzed to determine the certainty cutoffs, noncertainty stratum boundaries and the sampling rates needed to achieve specified sampling variability objectives for each kind of business group. These sampling rates were applied to the sample frames to determine the total sample size for each group, which was then allocated to the size classes optimally based on the number of sampling units and the standard deviation of the units' measures of size. Within each noncertainty stratum a simple random sample of EINs was selected. The sampling rates for the EINs varied between one in three and one in 1000.

A two-phase sample selection procedure was used for births (new EINs issued after the initial frames were created). EIN births are new EINs assigned by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) on the list of FICA taxpayers. There are no receipts values available for these EINs, so a large sample was drawn and canvassed to obtain a more reliable measure of size (sales or receipts) and a more reliable kind of business code, if needed. Using this more reliable information, the selected births were subjected to probability proportional to size sampling with overall probabilities equivalent to those used in drawing the initial sample from the 1994 SSEL.

ESTIMATION PROCEDURES

Merchant Wholesale, Retail Trade and Service Industries

Data on merchant wholesale and retail sales, purchases, and inventories presented in this report are the same as presented in reports from the 1997 Annual Trade Survey and 1997 Annual Retail Trade Survey, respectively. These annual data had previously been adjusted to sales reported in the 1997 Economic Census of Wholesale and Retail Trades, except for the wholesale farm products raw materials group and nonstore direct selling retailers. Data on service industries receipts and revenue presented in this report are reproduced from the 1997 Economic Census Core Statistics report series.

All estimates are computed as the sum of weighted data (reported and imputed) for all sampling units. The weight for a sampling unit is the reciprocal of the probability of selection (or sampling rate). Sales and total expenses are adjusted to 1997 Census sales for the industry by multiplying them by the ratio of sales from the 1997 Census to sales from the BES. This adjustment puts sales and total expenses in line with the Census Bureau figures. Payroll and fringe benefit costs are adjusted to 1997 Census payroll for the industry by multiplying them by the ratio of payroll from the 1997 Census to payroll from the BES. This adjustment puts payroll and fringe benefit costs in line with the Census Bureau figures. The remaining expenses are adjusted to reflect their original proportion to unadjusted sales and to maintain additivity.

RELIABILITY OF THE ESTIMATES

All survey and census results may contain sampling error and nonsampling error. Sampling error is the difference between the characteristics of an entire population and the characteristics estimated from a sample survey. These differences occur because the sample does not contain the whole population. Nonsampling error encompasses all other factors that contribute to the total error of a sample survey or census estimate.

Sampling and nonsampling errors are often measured by variance and bias. The variance is the squared difference, averaged over all possible samples of the same size and design, between the estimator and its average value. The bias of an estimator of an unknown population value is the difference, averaged over all possible samples of the same size and design, between the estimator and the unknown population value. Any systematic error or inaccuracy that affects all samples in a similar way will cause the resulting estimates to be biased.

SAMPLING ERROR

Merchant Wholesale, Retail Trade, and Service Industries

Because the estimates of expenses (other than payroll) are based on a sample, exact agreement with the results that would be obtained from a complete census of firms using the same enumeration procedures is not expected. However, because each firm in the frame has a known probability of being selected in the sample, it is possible to estimate the sampling variability of the estimates from the sample.

The variance is the squared difference, averaged over all possible samples of the same size and design, between an estimator and its average value. The standard error is defined as the square root of the variance. The coefficient of variation (CV) is the standard error of the estimate divided by the value being estimated. It is often expressed as a percent. Note that the standard error and coefficient of variation are estimates derived from a sample and are also subject to sampling variability.

The estimate from a particular sample and the coefficient of variation associated with the estimate can be used to derive the standard error of the estimate and to construct a confidence interval. A confidence interval is a range about a given estimator that has a specified probability of containing the estimator's corresponding unknown population value. Confidence intervals defined by one standard error above and below the sample estimate will contain the true value about 68 percent of the time. Intervals defined by 1.65 times the standard error above and below the estimate will contain the true value about 90 percent of the time.

To illustrate the computations involved in the above confidence statements as related to total expenses, assume that an estimate of total expenses is $10,750 million and that the coefficient of variation for this estimate is 1.8 percent, or .018. First obtain the standard error of the estimate by multiplying the estimate by the coefficient of variation. In this example, $10,750 million times .018 equals a standard error $194 million. Bounds for a 90 percent confidence interval are computed by adding or subtracting 1.65 times the standard error for the estimate. Consequently, the 90 percent confidence interval ranges from $10,430 million to $11,070 million.

Coefficients of variation have not been calculated for the percent estimates shown in this report. They will usually be less than:

$$\sqrt{CV^2 (\text{value in denominator}) + CV^2 (\text{value in numerator})}$$

Coefficients of variation for 1997 estimates are presented in Table 7 for Merchant Wholesale, Table 15 for Retail Trade, and Table 22 for Service Industries. CVs for 1992 data in these industries can be found on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/prod/bus/whsle/wc92-s2.pdf>, or .../retail/rc92-s-2.pdf, or .../services/sc92-s-2.pdf.

Other Industries

Coefficients of variation for 1997 published estimates can be found in Table 24 for Communications, Table 26 for Trucking, Table 28 for Warehousing, and Table 30 for Arrangement of Passenger Transportation.

Coefficients of variation for data covering the manufacturing and construction industries are unpublished and can be obtained by contacting the Manufacturing and Construction Division, Information Services Center, by e-mail at mcdinfo@census.gov.

NONSAMPLING ERROR

Nonsampling errors can be attributed to many sources: inability to obtain information about all companies in the sample; inability or unwillingness on the part of respondents to provide correct information; response errors; definition difficulties; differences in the interpretation of questions; mistakes in recording or coding the data; and other errors of collection, response, coverage, and estimation for nonresponse. Explicit measures of the effects of these nonsampling errors are not available. To minimize nonsampling error, precautionary steps were taken in all phases of the collection, processing, and tabulation of the data in an effort to minimize its influence.

A potential source of bias in the estimates is due to imputing data for nonrespondents and for data that fail edit. Imputation is the process of replacing a missing value by a predicted value obtained from an appropriate model for nonresponse.

Merchant Wholesale, Retail Trade, and Service Industries

In the BES, for all merchant wholesale the imputed expenses amounts to about 22 percent of the total expenses estimate; for all retail trade, 25 percent; and for service industries, 24 percent.

Other Industries

For all kinds of business in the Transportation Annual Survey combined, imputed expenses amounts to about 25 percent of the total expenses estimate. For all kinds of business in the Annual Survey of Communications Services combined, imputed expenses amounts to about 7.2 percent of the total expenses estimate.

Some manufacturing expense types are subject to sampling, and some of these are not imputed for missing response. An example of an expense type that is not imputed is advertising cost, a purchased service. Purchased services data are collected in the Annual Survey of Manufacturers (ASM) sample only, and are not imputed for missing data. Thus, the data are supplemented by the presentation of a "coverage ratio."

COMPARABILITY OF THE 1992 AES AND 1997 BES

As the successor to the 1992 Assets and Expenditures Survey (AES), the name change to BE S reflects the discontinuation of inquiries on depreciable assets. Other discontinued inquiries include capitalized interest and detailed capital expenditures. Additions to the 1997 survey include inquiries on expenses for contract labor and detailed computer software and services.

Survey coverage for 1997 remains nearly the same as for 1992, except that for selected service industries coverage was extended to include nonemployers, not previously covered. As described above, under Sample Design, the source of data for nonemployers changed from the "business area sample" used for 1992 to administrative records for 1997.

Unlike in previous years, results from the 1997 BES are not available as a paperback publication, but are available on the Internet as report EC97-CS8 of the 1997 Company Statistics Series, and on the SIC-based Economic Census CD-ROM.

COMPARISONS OF DATA FROM THE BES WITH OTHER DATA

Data on sales, receipts and revenue, and payroll presented for merchant wholesale, retail trade, and service industries in this report reflect SIC-based data compiled in the 1997 Economic Census Core Statistics series. Data on purchases and inventories presented for merchant wholesale and retail trade reflect SIC-based data compiled in the Business Annual Surveys. Many of the statistics in this report are comparable, in whole or in part, to statistics developed from other sources; notably the national income and product accounts (NIPA) tables published in the Survey of Current Business, and Statistics of Income published by the Internal Revenue Service. Estimates from these varying sources may differ for reasons of sampling variability and methodology.

Statistics of Income From the Internal Revenue Service (IRS)

These annual publications and quarterly bulletins of the IRS provide information on business receipts, cost of goods sold, selected expense items, and depreciable assets compiled from the federal income tax returns. However, the data are not in sufficient detail to provide income-produced measures comparable with those published in this report. The cost of goods sold in Statistics of Income includes costs of materials used in manufacturing; costs of goods purchased for resale; direct manufacturing; costs of goods purchased for resale; direct labor; and certain overhead expenses, such as rent, utilities, supplies, maintenance, and repairs. Cost of goods sold in the BES excludes salaries and wages paid to the company's employees, cost of packaging materials, and office and other supplies.

The company or subcompany level of reporting on income tax returns may not be the same as used for reporting in the BES. For example, manufacturing and other establishments operated by firms that are primarily retailers may be included in the IRS data. Retail establishments operated by firms primarily engaged in other industries are not represented in the IRS statistics for retail trade.

National Income and Products Accounts From the Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA).

As part of the national income and product accounts, the BEA prepares estimates of value-added (also known as gross product originating or GPO) by industry. GPO can be defined equivalently either as industry gross output (sales plus change in business inventories) less consumption of materials and services purchased from other industries, or as the sum of the industry's factor payments (e.g., wages, interest, profits, etc.) and nonfactor costs (e.g., depreciation). The latter definition is the basis for the current dollar estimates for industry GPO prepared by BEA that may be compared with the census estimates. These estimates are published annually in Table 6.1 of the Survey of Current Business.

The BEA GPO measure for retail trade relates conceptually to the value produced and operating expenses measures contained in this report in the following manner: GPO equals value-added less lease and rental payments, cost of communication, advertising and repair services, other utilities, commissions to other firms, and subsidies; plus sales and other taxes collected directly from customers, and customs duties. GPO also equals net income produced at market prices plus cost of uninsured casualty losses and bad debts losses less subsidies.

In addition, BES data and the BEA series differ because the BEA factor payments and nonfactor costs that are summed to estimate industry GPO are obtained from a variety of data sources, including the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Internal Revenue Service, and the U.S. Census Bureau.

Explanation of Terms Covering Merchant Wholesale, Retail Trade, and Service Industries

Sales. This item includes: merchandise sold for cash or credit; receipts from customers for freight, installation, maintenance, repair, alteration, storage, and other services; excise taxes which are levied on the manufacturers and included in the cost of goods purchased by wholesalers; subsidy payments received for the sale of goods; gross value of sales made on a commission basis; and sales of goods which are shipped on a wholesaler's orders directly to customers. Sales are net after deductions for discounts and refunds and allowances for merchandise returned by customers.

Sales exclude sales and excise taxes collected directly from customers and paid directly to a local, state or federal tax agency. Also excluded are receipts from customers for carrying or other credit charges, and non-operating income from such sources as investments and rental or sale of real estate. However, a portion of the data reported for depreciation and other operating expenses may pertain to real estate owned by the business and leased to others, even though corresponding data on sales exclude real estate lease receipts.

For merchant wholesale and retail trades, most data on sales presented in this report are reproduced from the Annual Trade Surveys, data which had previously been adjusted to sales compiled for employers, as well as for nonemployers for retail, in the 1997 Economic Census Core Statistics report series. Exceptions include the wholesale farm products raw materials group and nonstore direct selling retailers, whose sales were not adjusted.

Receipts (for firms subject to payment of federal income tax). Receipts include, except for certain professional services, the total amounts received from customers or clients for services rendered and merchandise sold during 1997 whether or not payment was received in 1997. For offices of physicians, legal services, architectural and engineering services, receipts include only payments received in 1997, regardless of when services were rendered. Receipts are net after deduction for refunds and allowances for merchandise returned by customers. Receipts do not include sales, occupancy, admissions, or other taxes collected from customers and remitted directly by the firm to a local, state, or federal tax agency. Receipts (represents firms subject to payment of federal income tax) excludes sources considered "nonoperating," such as investment income, real estate rental, contributions, and grants. Also, a portion of data reported for depreciation, and other operating expenses may pertain to real estate owned by a taxable business and leased to others, even though corresponding data on receipts exclude real estate lease income.

Receipts data for advertising agencies reflect commissions, fees, and other agency income rather than gross receipts.

Data on service industries receipts presented in this report are reproduced from data compiled on employers and nonemployers in the 1997 Core Statistics report series.

Revenue (for organizations exempt from federal income tax). Revenue includes charges or billings to customers or clients for services rendered and merchandise sold during 1997 whether or not payment was received in 1997. Also, included are income from interest, dividends, contributions, gifts and grants, rents, royalties, dues and assessments from members and affiliates, and net receipts from fund-raising activities. Receipts from these organizations' taxable business activities, as well as tax-exempt activities, are included.

Data on service industries revenue presented in this report are reproduced from data compiled on employers in the 1997 Core Statistics report series.

Federal Income Tax Status. For selected kinds of service classifications, firms and organizations were classified on the basis of their response to the tax status inquiry on the Service Annual Business Surveys questionnaires. Those that indicated all or part of their income was exempt from federal income tax under provisions of Section 501 or 521 of the IRS code were classified as tax-exempt.

Firms indicating no such exemption were classified as taxable. For firms that did not respond, the tax status classification was based upon administrative records. (Firms and organizations in all other kinds of business were by definition considered subject to federal income tax.)

Purchases. For merchant wholesale and retail trade, purchases represent the total cost, after deduction of returns, allowances, and discounts, of merchandise which was acquired in 1997 for resale, whether or not payment for the merchandise was made during the year. Purchases data include cash and credit purchases made at central offices and company warehouses, but exclude deliveries from central offices or warehouses to the retailer. Also, included are: the cost of goods in transit where title has passed to the purchaser; amounts allowed for trade-ins; freight, delivery, and other transportation costs; and import duties (if paid separately).

Companies engaged in both manufacturing and retail operations were asked to report purchases at the cost value of intercompany transfers from their plants or warehouses to their retail stores. These companies were also requested to report the cost of outside purchases.

Purchases exclude: expenditures for containers, wrapping, packaging, and other supplies or equipment intended for company use rather than for resale; the cost of raw materials or parts purchased for manufacture into a finished product; and goods included in the purchase price a business. Also excluded are liquor and tobacco tax stamps, which would be included under operating expenses.

Data presented in this report on purchases were collected in the 1997 Annual Business Surveys.

Inventories. For merchant wholesale and retail trade, inventories include stocks of goods (valued at cost) held for wholesale or retail sale. Methods of valuation may vary according to the accounting practices of the firms. Inventories exclude the value of fixtures, furnishings, equipment, and supplies used in store and warehouse operations and not held for resale.

Inventories were reported as of the close of the calendar year, except for some businesses which used a fiscal year for accounting purposes for which no adjustment was made. All inventory data presented in this report were collected in the 1997 Annual Business Surveys.

Measures of Value Produced for Merchant Wholesale and Retail Trade

- Cost of goods sold. This item was calculated by adding all purchases of merchandise (net of returns, allowances, and discounts but including charges from freight, insurance, etc.) during the year to the beginning-of-year inventory from the total. Firms were instructed to exclude the cost of containers, wrapping, packaging, and selling supplies from the cost of purchases but to report these items under "operating expenses."
- Gross margin. This item represents sales less cost of goods sold. Gross margin is equivalent to the cost of all materials (as distinguished from goods to be resold) and services provided in wholesale and retail establishments whether provided by the firm itself or purchased by it from others.
- Value added. Value added is the gross margin (as defined above) less the cost of containers, supplies, materials, fuel and other energy.
- Net income produced at market prices. This item represents value added less lease and rental payments; cost of communication, advertising, repair, legal, accounting, and computer related services; and amounts set aside for bad debt losses and other losses not compensated by insurance.
- Net income produced at factor cost. This item represents net income produced at market prices less depreciation, license fees, and taxes other than income taxes. It includes payroll, employer contributions to the FICA, unemployment insurance, and contract labor.

Operating Expenses

The types of operating expenses requested on the BES report forms are:

Auxiliary establishments

In consideration of record keeping practices and for consistency with the related sales, receipts, and revenue data collected for 1997 in the annual business surveys, each company in this survey was asked to include those auxiliary locations whose primary functions were to manage, administer, service, or support the activities of the main establishments covered by the report.

KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATIONS IN THE BUSINESS EXPENDITURES SURVEY (BES)

Establishments covered in the 1997 census were assigned a kind-of-business classification in accordance with the provisions of the 1987 SIC Manual. When a more detailed classification than defined in the SIC manual was needed, additional kinds of business were identified within an SIC industry. Following are kind-of-business descriptions for the Wholesale, Retail and Service trades. Kind-of-business descriptions for trucking and warehousing, arrangement of passenger transportation, manufacturing, mineral industries and construction can be found in the appropriate sector Internet sites.

WHOLESALE

Wholesale trade, major groups 50 and 51 in the 1987 SIC manual, includes establishments primarily engaged in selling merchandise to retailers; to industrial, commercial, institutional, farm, or professional business users; or to other wholesalers; or acting as agents or brokers in buying merchandise for or selling merchandise to such persons or companies.

The principal types of establishments included are:

- Merchant wholesalers who take title to the goods they sell, such as wholesale merchants or jobbers, industrial distributors, voluntary group wholesalers, drop shippers, retailer cooperative warehouses, terminal elevators, and cooperative buying associations.

- Manufacturers' sales branches and offices (but not retail stores) maintained by manufacturing or mining enterprises apart from their plants or mines for the purpose of marketing their products. Sales branches and offices located at plants are included when separate records are available.
- Agents, brokers, and commission merchants who buy or sell products owned by others on a commission or agency basis.

The BES was limited to merchant wholesalers (described in category 1 above), which constitute the major portion of wholesale trade. All kinds of business in which merchant wholesalers operate are represented in this survey. Establishments primarily engaged in the wholesale distribution of used products are classified on the basis of the product sold. Establishments primarily engaged in selling merchandise to contractors are included in wholesale trade, with the exception of lumber yards and paint, glass, and wallpaper stores. These exceptions are classified in retail trade if they consider themselves retail, sell to the general public, and their sales to contractors and the general public is more than half their total sales.

Kind-of-business classifications are not interchangeable with commodity classifications, because most businesses sell several kinds of commodities. The kind-of-business code assigned generally reflects either the individual commodity or the commodity group which is the primary source of the establishment's receipts, or some mixture of commodities which characterizes the establishment's business. Thus, the classification of establishments by kind of business does not make it possible to determine either the number of establishments handling a particular commodity or the sales of that commodity. For example, the groceries and related products classification excludes establishments selling food if the sale of food is not the primary source of receipts; moreover, even though establishments are classified as groceries and related products, some of their receipts may be derived from the sale of nonfood products. Descriptions of the Wholesale Trade kind-of-business Standard Industrial Classifications (SICs) follow:

RETAIL

Retail trade, SIC major groups 52 through 59 in the SIC manual, includes establishments primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal or household consumption and rendering services incidental to the sale of the goods. Exceptions to this general rule are lumber yards; paint, glass, and wallpaper stores; typewriter stores; stationery stores; and gasoline service stations, which sell to both the general public for personal and household consumption and to businesses. These types of stores are included in retail trade even if a higher proportion of their sales is made to other than individuals for personal or household consumption. However, such establishments that sell their products only to institutional or industrial users and to other wholesalers and establishments that sell similar merchandise for use exclusively by business establishments are classified in wholesale trade.

Other important characteristics of retail trade establishments are that they are usually places of business; they are engaged in activities to attract the general public to buy; they buy or receive as well as sell merchandise; they may process their products, although processing is incidental or subordinate to selling; and they are considered as retail in the trade. Not all of these characteristics need be present and some are modified by trade practice.

In general, retail establishments were classified according to the principal lines of commodities sold (groceries, hardware, etc.) or the usual trade designation (drug store, cigar store, etc.).

Kind-of-business classifications are not interchangeable with commodity classifications; most businesses sell several kinds of commodities. The kind-of-business code generally reflects either the individual commodity or the commodity group which is the primary source of the establishment's business. Thus, the classification of establishments by kind of business generally does not make it possible to determine either the number of establishments handling a particular commodity or the sales of that commodity. For example, the food stores classification excludes stores selling food if the sale of food is not the primary source of receipts; moreover, even though stores are classified as food stores, some of their receipts may be derived from the sale of nonfood products.

Building Materials and Garden Supplies Stores (SIC Major Group 52)

This major group includes retail establishments primarily engaged in selling lumber and other building materials; paint, glass, and wallpaper; hardware; nursery stock; lawn and garden supplies; and manufactured (mobile) homes. It includes lumber and other building materials dealers and paint, glass, and wallpaper stores selling to the general public, even if sales to contractors account for a larger proportion of total sales; these establishments are known as retail in the trade. Establishments primarily selling these products but not selling to the general public are classified in wholesale trade.

Lumber and other building materials dealers (SIC 521). Establishments primarily engaged in selling lumber, or lumber and a general line of building materials, to the general public. While these establishments may also sell to contractors, they are known as retail in the trade, even if sales to contractors account for a higher proportion of the sales. The lumber they sell may include rough and dressed lumber, flooring, molding, doors, sashes, frames, and other millwork. The building materials may include roofing, siding, shingles, wallboard, paint, brick, tile, cement, sand, gravel, and other building materials and supplies. For lumber yards, at least 32 percent of sales must be from the sale of lumber and millwork. Hardware is often an important line of retail lumber and building materials dealers. Also included in this group are home centers. These are retail establishments that sell both lumber and building materials and hardware. Additionally, they must sell at least 5 of the following merchandise lines: housewares, tools (power and/or hand), floor coverings, electrical supplies, kitchen cabinets, plumbing and bath supplies, lawn and garden products, paints and/or sundries, windows and/or doors, roofing, wall coverings, ceiling products and materials, lawn and garden supplies, and appliances. Establishments not selling to the general public or known in the trade as wholesale are classified in SIC 503.

Paint, glass, and wallpaper stores (SIC 523). Establishments primarily engaged in selling paint, glass, and wallpaper, or any combination of these lines, to the general public. While these establishments may also sell to contractors, they are known as retail in the trade, even if sales to contractors account for a higher proportion of the sales. Establishments which do not sell to the general public are classified in wholesale trade.

Hardware stores (SIC 525). Establishments primarily engaged in selling a number of basic hardware lines, such as tools, builders' hardware, locks and other security hardware, paint and glass, housewares, household appliances, cutlery, and building materials, no one of which accounts for 50 percent or more of the sales of the establishments.

Improvements for 1997

- Includes all corporations
- Data available by state by major industry group—two-digit standard industrial classification (SIC)

- All data available free on the Internet
- Improved CD-ROM software
- Fully inclusive estimates
In reports prior to 1997, estimates for minority-owned business enterprises for a part of the sample could not be allocated by industry and geography and were, therefore, not included in the detailed tables of the reports. For 1997, the estimates for all levels of data include all firms owned by the race and ethnic groups presented.
- Three new publications:
 - American Indians and Alaska Natives
 - Asians and Pacific Islanders
 - Company Summary
- Minority/women ownership definition changes
Ownership is now based on the person(s) owning 51 percent or more of the business. Previously, ownership was determined based on the majority of the number of owners, without regard to percentage of interest owned.
- Male/female equally owned businesses tabulated separately
In previous reports, businesses that were equally male- and female-owned were not tabulated as a separate group but were tabulated as either male- or female-owned. In the 1997 SWOBE, businesses equally male- and female-owned were excluded from the women-owned business counts and tabulated in a separate chapter of the women-owned business report.

How You Can Use These Reports!
Here's What Others Have Done!

Market Share

Minority and women business owners analyze their performance by looking at totals for similar firms to compute market - share and assess their own growth.

Education and Outreach

A national women-owned business trade association uses survey data to communicate to other trade and business associations; major corporations; and federal, state, and local governments, the significant presence of women-owned businesses in a particular sector of the economy.

Business Trends

Consultants and researchers use census data to analyze long-term economic and demographic shifts and shifts among geographic areas.

Research Allocation

A local county government commission on small and disadvantaged businesses uses survey data to evaluate the county's contract procurement practices.

The data provide a framework for assessing and directing federal, state, and local government programs designed to promote the activities of disadvantaged groups.

Two federal agencies, the Small Business Administration (SBA) and the Minority Business Development Agency (MBDA), use the SMOBE and SWOBE data when allocating resources for their business assistance programs.
